KS Union Bowling Alley To Have $8,000 Ceiling

Construction of a ceiling for the Union bowling area has been approved by the State Board of Regents, Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of students, reported yesterday.

Wunderlich stated appropriations for the ceiling, which have been approved by the Board of Regents, are limited to $8,000.

Specifications for the ceiling require that construction begin by June 1, according to R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the physical plant. The bowling alleys will probably have to be closed while construction is going on, he said. He explained that the bowling area will have a suspended ceiling of acoustical tile.

No estimate has been made of the actual cost of the construction, according to Gingrich. He stated specifications for the ceiling have been sent to Topeka and are now open to bids from contracting companies in the state.

Cheerleaders Plan Tryouts

Tryouts for next year's cheerleaders will be tonight at 7 p.m. in Nichols gymnasium, according to Larry Youngdoff, head cheerleader.

Four men and four women will be chosen by an advisory board composed of various school personnel. Eight alternates will also be chosen.

Approximately 45 students attended the cheerleading school Monday and Tuesday nights in order to practice for tonight's tryouts.

The judging board will be composed of two representatives from each of the three pep clubs, a faculty member from each school, and various other administrators. The results of the tryouts will be announced tomorrow.

Sororities To Hold Initiation For 171 Over the Weekend

It's all a secret now, but after this weekend eight social sororities will boast the initiation of pledge classes they were rushing not too many months ago. Of approximately 225 girls pledged in the fall, about 171 will be initiated this weekend.

It was reversal day at the Kappa Delta house yesterday and pledges were actives while actives took up pledge duties in a turnabout day making ready for activity this weekend. Chi Omega pledges also reversed themselves yesterday and the actives were jumping for the phone before it rang three times.

Alpha Delta Pi alums are having a luncheon for new initiates in the Gillett hotel Saturday noon. Initiation begins Saturday afternoon for Alpha Chi Omega.

The house boys will judge at a "purple hat" dinner in the Delta Delta Delta house Saturday noon. If the weather permits, Alpha Xi Delta will have a picnic Saturday evening.

An initiation banquet at the Student Union will be the highlight of the Kappa Kappa Gamma weekend.

Ring ching week at Pi Beta Phi is this week and pledges are keeping the actives on their toes. Initiates will eat at the Pi Phi house Saturday noon.

First Arts and Sciences Days Scheduled for Next Month

Seeing themselves on TV, watching a style show, or having their blood sampled will be just a few of the features afforded visitors at the first annual Arts and Sciences Days, May 3 and 4, according to Joyce Graham, BA Jr.

Arts and Sciences Days will replace the old Arts and Sciences Carnival. It will be similar to Engineers' Open House, only it will feature the departments in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Each department in the School of Arts and Sciences will have either a display or representative on hand to explain the various activities emphasized in each department.

The Speech department will probably have the largest display, according to Judy Fisher, SED Soph, a member of the Arts and Sciences council. Speech will be divided into four sections. Drama, which will include pictures of plays and a movie, "Everyman;" Speech correction display; Public addressing and forensics; and Radio and TV.

The Economics department will show a movie and instructors will answer questions and pass out material.

ROTC cadets will help explain the relationship between the various departments in Arts and Sciences to the modern Army. The Air Science department will display textbooks and models of new air craft.

The Education department will have an exhibit showing the various aspects of elementary education.

The Modern Languages department will present two plays, one in French and one in Spanish.

The museum in Fairchild hall will be used by the Zoology department which will also have a booth in the Union.

Blood samples will be taken by students in the Medical Technology department.

Geology and Geography departments will combine a display showing fossils and common rocks.

The Botany and Plant Pathology department will show movies.

Physical education students will demonstrate various sports offered in gym classes.

The Business department will have an information booth. A special feature will be a style show by the newly-organized Women's Business club.

The English department will display books written by staff members and outstanding books selected for the library.

It's All Greek

Vacancies Occur On Student Pubs

Applications are now being accepted for editor and business manager of the Collegian for the summer school semester and for next fall.

Applications are also being accepted for editor and business manager of the next year's Royal Purple yearbook, and for the student directory. Applications are due in K 204A by April 18.

Greek Week banquet plans have been completed, according to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr, publicity director for the event.

"At a recent meeting the executive committee for Greek Week selected H. B. Davidson, national executive secretary of Theta Xi fraternity, and Gerald Tucker, head coach of the Phillips 66 Oilers basketball team as speakers," Roberts said.

Davidson is past editor of the Theta Xi national magazine, The Unicorn, and past president of the National Fraternity Secretaries association. He also compiled the first pledge manual for Theta Xi in 1926.

Tucker is a former Big Seven basketball player and present coach of the Phillips 66 Oilers. Before he started coaching the Oilers, Tucker was named all-American in 1943 and again in 1947.

Tucker coached the United States 1956 Olympic basketball team to a fourth straight U.S. championship.

"Each fraternity and sorority living group here will be receiving letters about how many persons may attend the banquet from its house. We have set up a quota system for each house based on membership," Roberts said.

Toastmaster for the banquet will be Vernon D. (Tiny) Foltz, Interfraternity Council adviser. At the banquet, April 24 at 6 p.m. in the Union, scholarship trophies will be presented to Pi Beta Phi sorority and Farm House fraternity. The Nightcaps, a student quartet, will entertain.

A LITTLE friendly help is handed to Lois Schick, HET Jr, a Kappa Delta pledge, by active Pat Johnson, HET Jr. With the semester rapidly drawing to a close, pledges are "hitting the books" in order to be able to go active.

Applications Taken For Council, Cards

Application blanks for Flash Card chairman and vice chairman for the Program Council will be due Wednesday, April 10, 5 p.m., in the Activities center in the Union.

Rain Comes Down All Around;

SGA Primaries Get Underway

WHILE K-STATERS toil diligently away on term reports, tests and so on, the rain continues its pitter, patter, much to our delight.

Spring is traditionally the season of sunbathing and convertible rides, but this year it has taken a decided change by providing Kansas with much needed snow and rain.

ALONG WITH ALL of this usual and unusual comes the annual Student Governing association elections. Primaries begin today.

Have you voted? Remember, Pogo says, "If you can't vote my way, vote anyway, but VOTE."

ON THE SUBJECT of elections, do you know how to properly mark a ballot? Answer this question to yourself before reading further, and see just how "American" you are.

In the general elections on campus last year, about 360 ballots were disqualified because they were improperly marked.

JUST HOW STUPID can ya get? All you have to do is FOLLOW THE DIRECTIONS on the ballot. If it says mark an "X," mark an "X". If it says vote for two, vote for two and no more. Likewise if you're an undergraduate and it says for Graduate school, don't mark anything. It should be all very simple.—Jane Moore

Top Ten Tunes

Presley Shakes Up

Top Record Listing

By Sharon Totten

THE LIST of top 10 tunes sold in Manhattan was completely upset by two newcomers this week. Elvis Presley's record, "All Shook Up," jumped into top position in its first week on the list, while Fats Domino's "I'm Walkin'," came back to gain the No. 2 position after being off the list for a week.

Andy Williams' "Butterfly," which was No. 2 last week, dropped completely out of the top 10 ratings along with "Young Love," by Tab Hunter; "Lucille," by Little Richard; and "Gone," by Ferlin Husky.

TWO OTHER records breaking the top 10 list for the first time this week are "Come, Go with Me," by the Del-Vikings, which is in fourth position, and "Sittin' in the Balcony," by Eddie Cochran, which is in 10th position.

"Party Doll," by Steve Lawrence which was the No. 1 tune last week, dropped to the No. 6 position this week, while "Teen Age Crush," by Tommy Sands dropped from third to fifth position.

The 10 records sold most in Manhattan this week are:

1. "All Shook Up," Elvis Presley
2. "I'm Walkin'," Fats Domino
3. "Little Darlin'," Diamonds
4. "Come, Go with Me," Del-Vikings
5. "Teen Age Crush," Tommy Sands
6. "Party Doll," Steve Lawrence
7. "Round and Round," Perry Como
8. "Why Baby Why," Pat Boone
9. "Walkin' After Midnight," Patsy Cline
10. "Sittin' in the Balcony," Eddie Cochran

ON THE jukebox list, "Butterfly," by Andy Williams, climbed to the top after being in the No. 2 position last week, while "Marianne," by Terry Gilkyson slipped a notch to become No. 2 this week.

Tommy Sands' disc, "Teen Age Crush," seems to be gaining popularity rapidly. It jumped from the No. 8 position to become No. 3 this week, while "Young Love," by Sonny James dropped from third to sixth position.

On the jukebox list for the first time this week are, "Round and Round," by Perry Como; "Why Baby Why," by Pat Boone; and "Little Darlin'," by the Diamonds.

"BANANA BOAT SONG," by Harry Belafonte; "Who Needs You," by the Four Lads; and "Lucky Lips," by Gale Storm have dropped completely out of the top 10 jukebox ratings.

Top 10 tunes on Manhattan jukeboxes this week are:

- "Butterfly," Andy Williams
- "Marianne," Terry Gilkyson
- "Teen Age Crush," Tommy Sands
- "Party Doll," Buddy Knox
- "I'm Walkin'," Fats Domino
- "Young Love," Sonny James
- "Round and Round," Perry Como
- "Walkin' After Midnight," Patsy Cline
- "Why Baby Why," Pat Boone
- "Little Darlin'," Diamonds

FOUR TUNES which seem to be climbing rapidly although they have not hit the top 10 list yet are "Mama, Look at Bubu," by Harry Belafonte; "Gone," by Ferlin Husky; "I'm Sorry," by the Platters; and "All Shook Up," by Elvis Presley.

Some of the fine songs of recent years are featured in a London album, "Once Over Lightly," which arrived in the Manhattan music stores last week.

It consists of lively tunes and romantic ballads, many of which were show tunes, done in a distinctive style by Jo Stafford and the Art Van Damme Quintet. The interplay between Jo Stafford's voice and the small combo make the album a little unusual as well as nice for listening.

K-State Coed is Only Female Member of Flying Club Men Approve, But Will Never Have A Woman President

By SANDRA WILSON

THE ONLY FEMALE member of the K-State Flying club finds her life at K-State has never a dull moment, thanks to the club's activities.

Margaret Richards, Soc Fr, from Arlington, Va., is the only woman ever to be admitted to the K-State Flying club.

When asked how the other members felt about a feminine invasion of their male domain, Margaret said she heard only one comment, and this was that they'd "never stand for a woman president." Margaret now serves the club as secretary-treasurer and so far hasn't heard any complaints.

MARGARET BECAME interested in flying to squelch an older brother who "talked about aviation morning, noon, and night."

Margaret was a member of the Civil Air patrol in Arlington for four years before coming to K-State. Last summer her local squadron sent her on a three-week trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

MARGARET'S DECISION to come to K-State is a story in itself. It seems a friend told her that "Kansas" had an excellent course in sociology, her major field of interest.

It was only after she visited the friend in the middle of her first semester here that she learned he had been referring to Kansas university instead of Kansas State college! At any rate KU's loss was K-State's gain and Margaret has grown to love it here.

Margaret has her own personal Air Force ROTC escort out to the airport each afternoon. She rides in the station wagon which picks up the ROTC men for special flight training lessons at the airport. She is a student pilot, and will probably be ready to solo in two weeks.

MARGARET HAS had only two close calls since she started flying. Once, there was a mixup as to who was flying the plane, she or the instructor, and as they taxied in, the plane slammed into a Pepsi-cola stand.

The other happened as she attempted her first real landing in the club plane. Coming down wind, she barely missed another plane heading in from the wrong direction for her runway. It took some fast thinking but they brought their plane up on top and went through the pattern again.

THIS PERKY FRESHMAN'S ambition is to do stunt flying and instruction someday. "The thrill you get from stunt flying is like nothing else you can imagine," she says.

MARGARET RICHARDS, Soc Fr, the only feminine member of the K-State Flying club, has a large knowledge of airplanes. She knows more about airplanes than most men know about automobiles.

Gordon Jump Becomes Fat Man In 'Merry Wives of Windsor'

By JANICE GRAHAM

IF YOU KNOW Gordon Jump, Sp Gr, you probably won't recognize him in his role as the comedy fatman in K-State Players production of Shakespeare's "Merry Wives of Windsor," to be presented today and tomorrow.

Jump is enthusiastic about his "fatman" role. Earl G. Hoover, professor in the Speech department and director of the play, has ordered padding to help make Jump look the part.

"WHEN PROFESSOR HOOVER announced that they were preparing to choose the cast for 'Merry Wives of Windsor,' and I expressed my desire to try out. He joked, and said he would cast me as the fat man," Jump said. (Gordon isn't fat.)

"To make me look the part I guess he's going to fill my face out with a bushy growth of beard, and as for a headdress, my new crewcut complicated things. I'll either be made up bald or have some kind of fancy wig."

SURPRISING as it may seem, Gordon's mother and father are English, and although they've lived in this country for almost 30 years, they are just preparing to receive their citizenship papers. Gordon was in England for about six months when he was two years old, but hasn't seen his parents homeland since.

In Jump's opinion, the comedy of Shakespeare is much more appealing than the drama to a student audience. "I had to read 'Willie' in high school and thought it was no go, but this is different. For a good comedy in Shakespeare's clothing, I recommend 'Merry Wives of Windsor.' I think it's educational too."

"I WANT to point out that I'm not the only comedian in the play," Jump said. "As the plot unfolds, it becomes evident that the other characters in the cast are a riot too."

"Briefly, the plot is about peasants, only they're rich peasants. And I'm a knight, but not very rich. So I make love to the wives of these rich peasants in an effort to maintain my subsistence. Everything's just fine until they compare notes and start plotting against me."

JUMP IS WELL known from his parts in other plays. As Mr. Blessington in "Solid Gold Cadillac" he was a member of the board of directors. His walk on part as a janitor in "Six Characters in Search of an Author," was "as much fun as any I've had." He also played Steve in "Streetcar Named Desire."

Chariot Relays To Be Included In Greek Week

The third annual Lambda Chi Alpha Chariot Relays will be in Memorial stadium April 27, at 1:30 p.m., Dale Scott, ChE Jr, has announced. All fraternities and men's organized houses wanting to enter should attend a meeting at the Lambda Chi house Saturday at 1 p.m.

Rules concerning requirements for entrance and specifications of chariots will be discussed. Representatives will also draw the name of the sorority, or dormitory from which they may choose their riders. Proceeds from the relays will go to a scholarship fund set up by members of Lambda Chi Alpha.

"Three time winner of the 32 inch trophy can keep it," Scott said. "The Betas won in '55 and Sigma Chi's won last year with the record speed of 51.9 seconds. Second and third places last year went to Kappa Sigma and Delta Tau Delta."

Attendance last year was over 2,000 and with the event falling at the end of Greek Week, Scott expects an increased attendance this year.

HIDDEN TALENT or not, R. C. Langford, psychology professor, gets a kick out of painting. He has a studio in his home and paints "just for the fun of it."

Artist—Psychology Professor Paints 'Just for the Fun of It'

There really must have been hidden talent in the splotchy water color Dr. R. C. Langford, psychology professor, carried home from his fifth grade classroom years ago. But the young artist was discouraged when he showed his second "child masterpiece" to a school teacher who lived in the same hotel he lived in. She laughed at it, and he wouldn't show another painting to anybody for a longtime.

Today several of the professor's paintings have been on display on and off campus. He exhibited four pictures with the work of K-State art instructors during February and has paintings in the Manhattan library. He recently displayed pictures in Hutchinson.

"It is my custom to keep a painting in the lounge at Wesley foundation," Dr. Langford said.

What happened in the years between to make all this come about? Receiving little training in grade school and none in high school, Langford copied calendars to get it out of his system. "I painted because I wanted to, not because of class requirements. I kept this up until graduation from college. Soon after I began teaching, Prof. John F. Helm gave me advice that helped improve my drawing and painting.

"The kind of painting I do is sure good for one's spirit because it keeps one so humble," explained Langford. Using either oil paint or water color, his subject matter is usually landscape. Recently he has painted still-life too. "I get mad when they don't go right and happy when they do," he said.

The artist-psychology prof built a studio adjoining his living room about seven years ago, and he paints more now than ever before. "I like to build things," he said. "Practically the whole studio was in my garage until I had time to put it together. It was originally constructed as a place for me to paint but it gets used for other things like square dancing now."

Langford chose to specialize in psychology instead of art because he was discouraged and didn't know what opportunities were available to an undergraduate in art. He took general psychology, liked it, and decided to stick with it.

Teaching a course called psychology of art, Langford explains that its purpose is to help people to appreciate art by means of psychological principles that are related to art.

The professor earned his bachelor's degree and master's degree at Kansas State, and received his PhD in psychology with a minor in fine arts at Stanford.

He wrote his thesis on the idea that one thing determining the appreciation of a painting is the way the eye moves when looking at it. This idea worked on the principle of balance as related to eye movement, but he found no relationship.

"Why paint?" Langford questions. "It's fun. That, in essence, is all I get from it."

Jan Humble Wins Holton Scholarship

Janice Humble, HT Sr, is winner of the 1957 Edwin Lee Holton scholarship as the outstanding K-State senior in teacher education this year.

The $100 scholarship is awarded annually to commemorate the years of service of the late E. L. Holton, who long was head of the Department of Education and dean of the K-State summer school.

Chimes To Take Dimes On 'D' Day Fund Drive

"D" Day has been set for Wednesday, April 10, at which time members of Chimes, junior women honorary, will try to collect one dime from each student, according to Virginia Eaton, Sp Jr, Chimes member.

This money will go into K-State's development fund which has made possible such projects as the Student Union air conditioning, married student housing, the Chapel auditorium, and Putnam scholarships.

The Endowment association, a non-profit organization, receives and handles money given to K-State through the Development Fund for improvements which cannot be taken care of by state funds.

When the student contributes, he will get a green tag to signify such and his name will be placed on next year's Development Fund honor roll along with names of alumni and friends who individually have given as much as $20,000 in one year.

Through campaign mail and the "Trumpet" magazine the past three years, the Endowment association has made people and organizations all over the country aware of K-State's need for auxiliary aid, and now through "D" Day, Chimes is helping to acquaint students with the same.

As an example of the size of the Development Fund, K. M. Heywood, director of endowment and development, said that last year the Endowment association wrote $31,000 worth of scholarships, the 20 Putnam scholarships being the largest segment, and had $600,000 in investments.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will help Chimes collect money for the "Dimes for Development" project in booths in the Student Union and outside of campus buildings.

Weaver Receives Traveling Award From Foundation

Dean John C. Weaver, School of Arts and Sciences, has been selected as a Carnegie Foundation Traveling Fellowship recipient. He will not begin his Fellowship activities until completing his scheduled move to the University of Nebraska.

The purpose of the traveling fellowships is to permit persons in administrative positions to travel to other educational institutions, observing and discussing common problems with other administrators.

In the first phase of his fellowship, Weaver will visit universities on the West coast of the United States and the latter part will take him to the East coast.

OU Takes First In Debate Match

The University of Oklahoma won two trophies at the Missouri Valley Forensic league debate tournament here last weekend, winning first place with a nine-three record.

K-State's Phil Reid, EE Soph, and Dan Hahn, Sp Soph, debated against the subject "Resolved, that testing atomic weapons is detrimental," winning five and losing one debate. Losing by one point in the sixth round they were not qualified to go into the finals.

Second place trophy went to the University of Texas team members who tied with the University of Nebraska with an eight-win-four-loss record, but won on speaker points.

Alum Gridders Work Toward Varsity Game

Five all-Big Seven gridders will be in the alumni lineup that faces K-State's varsity football team at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

"We should do pretty well if everyone gets here," said Ed Pence, alumni player-coach. "We plan to run through plays, plan our offense and defense and look over the men today and tomorrow. We will use a two-platoon system—we wouldn't have a chance without it."

This game climaxes the spring drills for the Cats and gives next year's team a chance to show off its talent. Probable starters include a pair of freshman linemen who have scrambled to a first-team birth—Don Miles, 5-9 185-pound left guard from Petersburg, Va., and Joe Vader, 6-3, 211-pound right end from Kansas City, Kansas. Elsewhere the varsity's first eleven probably will include only returning lettermen.

"We don't have any men on the injured list," Bus Mertes said, "and we don't expect the weather to have any effect on the play."

Both sides of Memorial stadium will be open for the game and students will be admitted with activity tickets.

Probable starters:

Varsity	Alums
Zadnik (190)	LE (200) Pence
Keelan (228)	LT (210) Rodman
Miles (185)	LG (196) O'Boyle
Rains'ger (199)	C (210) Furey

KS, OU Will Back A&M

Oklahoma university will back Oklahoma A&M should that school reapply for admission to the Big Seven, Dr. George L. Cross, OU president said. OU's Board of Regents voted to back the move, according to a United Press release.

Dean R. I. Throckmorton, faculty adviser at K-State, said that "this has been a re-occurring topic throughout the period I have been associated with the Faculty Advisory committee of the Big Seven.

"Several schools in the conference, including K-State, have been favorable to the admission of Oklahoma A&M. I think another school would make a nice balance in making up schedules," he said.

Cleveland Shows Hitting Punch

By UNITED PRESS

Manager Kerby Farrell is beaming for the first time this spring because the Cleveland Indians finally are "getting the runs" he says they need to make a strong bid for the American league pennant.

"We know we've got the pitching," said the rookie pilot at the beginning of spring training. "We've got to find out, though, whether we're gonna get the runs."

The Indians' attack sputtered ominously through the early part of the exhibition season but it "got hot" a week ago and has been peppering enemy pitching ever since. The Indians rolled to their sixth straight victory yesterday when they pounded the New York Giants, 13-6, and now have averaged 9.3 runs a game for six contests.

The Chicago White Sox, another team which hopes to upset the pre-season dope in the American league, celebrated its final appearance of the spring at its Tampa base by beating the New York Yankees, 8-4.

Harvey Haddix, a potential 20-game winner, spun three-hit ball for five innings and knocked in all his team's runs with a bases-loaded double as the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Boston Red Sox, 3-1.

The Detroit Tigers scored three runs in the 10th inning to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-5, despite the fact that Stan Musial raised his spring average to .469 with a homer and a single.

The Pittsburgh Pirates ended a run of 27 1/2 scoreless innings against Kansas City pitching when they scored in the seventh inning and went on to defeat the Athletics, 2-0.

Roy Sievers, Jim Lemon, and Clint Courtney homered off Warren Hacker in the fourth inning to spark the Washington Senators to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs in the opener of a nine-game tour.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves played to a 10-inning, 2-2 tie in yesterday's other contest.

Other training camp happenings of interest include an announcement by Virgil Trucks of Kansas City that he will retire after the current season.

Trucks, one of three major league pitchers in history to pitch two no-hit games in a season, owns a 15-year record of 166 wins against 126 losses. During the 1952 season, he pitched no-hit games against New York's Yankees and the Washington Senators.

"There comes a time when you have to think of the future and I feel that this is for me," the 37-year-old hurler said.

Casey Likes Ex-Yank Skizas

By UNITED PRESS

Buttonhole Casey Stengel some time and ask him point blank who is the greatest natural looking hitter he has ever seen.

Think you know the answer? Here are a couple of hints—it isn't Mickey Mantle nor is it Joe DiMaggio.

"The greatest natural looking hitter I've ever seen," says the Yankee manager, without batting an eye, "is Lou Skizas."

Skizas, an eccentric dark-skinned Greek, currently is patrolling the outfield for the Kansas City Athletics and it is rather significant that Lou Boudreau concurs with Stengel in his opinion.

"I can readily understand why Casey would say that," declares Boudreau. "If there's anything in this world Skizas can do, it's hit."

Take a look at some of Skizas' credentials. Playing the outfield for Norfolk in the Piedmont league in 1951, he hit .311 before being tapped by Uncle Sam for military service.

With Denver in 1955, he carved out a cool .348 figure. Last year he started with the Yankees, was dealt to Kansas City June 14, and finished with a .314 average in 89 games.

If the 25-year-old Skizas is such a hot-shot with the bat how come the Yankees let him get away, you ask? Well, there's the rub.

"He can hit any pitcher who ever lived," Casey claims, "but when he gets out there in the outfield . . ."

"We heard that Skizas was supposed to be a 'butcher' in the field," Boudreau says, "but I certainly can't complain about the job he has done for us out there. He dropped only one ball out there in the field last year."

Boudreau, however, hastily knocked on wood and added, "I hope I'm not talking too quickly."

Skizas is a good-natured 175-pounder from Chicago, whose batting form drew admiration even from Mickey Mantle when he was with the Yanks.

He has heard of Casey's comments about his batting ability but isn't allowing it to go to his head.

"Casey must be kidding," he says. "He's pulling my leg. Hell, I'll have all I can do to win a job on this club. . . I'm just trying to get along."

Net Team Whips Wichita In Shutout for First Win

After defeating Wichita university yesterday 9-0, K-State's tennis team will take on Oklahoma Baptist at Shawnee in the second contest of a four-match tour.

In defeating Wichita, the Wildcats evened their record at 1-1 after suffering an opening defeat at the hands of Southwestern of Winfield. The match at Wichita was played indoors because of rain.

After playing Oklahoma Baptist today, the Wildcats will take on Oklahoma A&M Friday at Stillwater and Oklahoma university Saturday at Norman.

The summaries:

Dick Circle, K-State, defeated Jack Hewitt, Wichita, 6-0, 6-0.

Allen Chaplin, K-State, defeated Stan Allen, Wichita, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

Keith Andler, K-State, defeated Phil Gearheart, Wichita, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

Jim Holwerda, K-State, defeated Marion Shropshire, Wichita, 6-0, 6-3.

Ed Wallace, K-State, defeated Dick Fitzgerald, Wichita, 6-0, 6-1.

Don Wainscott, K-State, defeated Gary DeWoody, Wichita, 6-1, 6-1.

Circle-Chaplin, K-State, defeated Hewitt-Allen, Wichita, 7-5, 6-1.

Walls-Wainscott, K-State, defeated Fitzgerald-Charles Doze, Wichita, 6-1, 6-0.

AFROTC Cadets Apply For Advanced Program

Ninety-four Air Force ROTC cadets who took basic training have applied for entrance into the advanced program and are being individually interviewed before a board of officers to determine which have the greatest potentiality as officers.

These interviews are part of the processing which each hopeful must undergo. Other steps are the passing of physical and stamina examination. The Air Science department is given a quota as to the number of men it can take into the advanced program each year. Last year approximately 45 men were accepted.

To qualify for advanced training a cadet must have a one-point grade average in ROTC and have attended four semesters of school here.

Vet Med Seniors

Twenty veterinary medicine seniors, accompanied by Dr. Charles H. Kitselman, professor of pathology, spent three days in Kansas City, Mo., this week on their annual inspection trip. They visited packing plants and veterinary biological and pharmaceutical manufacturing companies to observe meat inspection and manufacturing methods.

The remainder of the senior class will make the trip during the next two weeks.

Matrix Banquet

Ruth Seefeldt, a member of the Better Homes and Gardens staff, will be the principal speaker Monday night for the annual Matrix banquet of the Kansas State college chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary for women in journalism.

Miss Seefeldt is an interior decoration writer, according to Royanne McMullen Grahame, junior in technical journalism from Phillipsburg, who is in charge of banquet arrangements. The banquet will be in the K-State Union.

Block and Bridle Club

Dean Peters, Ag Jr., was recently elected president of the Block and Bridle club.

Other officers elected were Bill Clark, Ag Soph, vice-president; Loy Reinhardt, AH Soph, secretary; Jim Beauchamp, TA Soph, treasurer; Janice Gaddis, Ag Soph, correspondence secretary; Loren Henry, Ag Soph, reporter; and Gary Cummings, Ag Fr, marshal.

Harry Todd, AH Soph, was elected as junior Little American Royal representative.

The club also had initiation for 22 new members.

Beck Begins Drive To Answer Senate

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—Teamster President Dave Beck today opened an apparent self-defense and re-election campaign through his union's glossy dues-supported magazine.

Beck wanted to stage a national publicity campaign with union funds to tell the Teamster answer to Senate Rackets committee charges that he took $322,000 in Teamster cash for his own use. But, the executive board, in an apparent revolt, approved only a limited fund to fight "anti-labor legislation."

"DOESN'T HURT a bit," says Sharon Townsend, Sp Sr, as she receives a polio shot at Student Health from Nancy Upchurch. The shots are free if you're under 20 years of age and cost only 85 cents if you're more than 20. Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health, says the shots aid in building up resistance to polio.

Obtain Polio Shots, Health Head Says

All students, especially those over 20, should obtain polio vaccine shots, according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health. "It is most important to build up resistance before exposure to polio," he said.

"There has been an unusually large number of polio cases reported over the state already this year, however none have occurred on the campus as yet," he added.

The cases of polio reported during 1956, were down 59 per cent from the five-year average for 1951-55. The sharpest decline occurred in the younger age group, which had received the largest number of shots. Persons receiving all three shots of vaccine are 90 per cent effectively protected, according to a survey made by National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Although polio strikes more often in lower age groups, when it strikes the young adult, it is apt to produce more extensive paralysis. Seven out of every ten patients contract polio severe enough to require the use of respiratory aids, are more than 20 years old.

"Last fall, the two students who contacted polio, were over 20, and had not received any polio shots. One, a senior, still remains in a critical condition, and both were severely paralyzed," Lafene pointed out.

"I'd like to see 100 per cent immunization, because as summer nears, the number of polio cases always rises sharply," he stated.

Students under 20 receive the shots free of charge, while those over 20 may obtain them for 85 cents.

Little Royal To Be Here Tomorrow

"The quality of this year's Little American Royal will be as good, if not better, than any ever held," is the feeling of Dr. G. B. Marion, associate professor of dairy husbandry and faculty adviser of the Dairy club.

The Dairy and Block and Bridle clubs are sponsoring the 29th annual livestock exhibition of college-owned animals in Ahearn Field House from 7 to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow.

"This Little Royal should run more precisely and the smaller number of entries will speed up the judging" Marion continued. "The students have been much more conscientious this year.

"The square dance on horses by the Sand Springs Saddle club from Abilene will be entertaining to families and students alike," Marion said.

"The drop from last year's total of 200 student showmen to 125, including 7 women, this year will result in a rise in quality. Also, the publicity has been more intense this year."

The show's centerpiece will be a pyramid on a rotating platform with models of Ayrshire, Holstein, and Guernsey cow heads on each side of the pyramid. "Little American Royal" will be printed below.

"The purpose of this is to give students the opportunity to manage and supervise a livestock show" said Bob Bozworth, DH Sr, chairman of the Royal. "It gives the students a chance to show livestock before they get out of school."

Grand champion awards will be presented by Lawrence Morgan of Goodland, and Wayne Allen of Kansas City, Mo.

Master of ceremonies will be Harold Garner, AH Sr. Ringmasters are John Bircher, DM Sr; Bob Quantz, AH Sr; Bill

Perkins, AH Sr; and Ed Cotner, DM Sr. The ringmasters will help judges place the animals and take down the results.

Between showings of the different classes, entertainment will be provided by three clowns, Harry Todd, AH Soph; Darrell Keener, AH Soph; and Joe Cukjati, VM Fr, and by the Herington high school band.

The Field House will be laid out in four rings with animals of different divisions being shown in all four at the same time.

The show will open with the grand entry followed by a group of beef bulls, Holstein heifers, Guernsey cows, Duroc hogs, and Southdown and Shropshire sheep.

The second group features beef heifers, Ayrshire heifers, quarter horses, and Jersey cows.

Next will be the intermission and the square dancing horses.

After intermission Poland China hogs, Suffock and Hampshire sheep, Ayrshire and Holstein cows, and beef steers will be followed by the championships of the hog, beef, sheep, Holstein, and Ayrshire classes in that order.

New K-State Cheerleaders Picked in Finals Last Night

eight cheerleaders for the '57-'58 season.

Larry Karlen and Jack Hill were chosen head cheerleaders by the other regular cheerleaders. Although it is customary for the cheerleaders to elect a head and assistant head from among themselves, there will be co-heads this year due to a tie when the group voted for head cheerleader.

Chosen assistant cheerleaders were Dee French, EEd Soph; Jeannene Foust, Sp Soph; Charlotte Strah, HEA Fr; Joan Peters, HE Fr; Dick Streets, NE Soph; Clyde McKenzie, ME Soph; Dick Frank, Ec Soph; and Frank Green, CE Jr.

Each cheerleader aspirant was judged on his knowledge of the yell, ability to do the yell, acrobatic skill, personal appearance, and amount of pep.

'Wives of Windsor' Dubbed Successful

A wide variety of humor set off K-State Players production of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" to a good start when the play was presented in the College auditorium last night.

Naturally, fatman Falstaff, Gordon Jump, Sp Sr, stole the show as Jump, with the English accent and plenty of stuffing, moved about the scenes undisturbed by the extra padding. "Froud, angry, concerned, and quick, he changed his mood spontaneously and added to Shakespeare's lines with skill that made the play a success.

Briefly the play was woven around the plot of the conceited Falstaff, and involved the plight of a jealous husband, Ford, played by Jim Johnson, PrV Fr.

Applications Due Today For Top Honors—Nevins

Today is the last day that seniors may apply for senior honors, according to Dr. Ralph Nevins, associate professor of mechanical engineering, and chairman of the senior honors committee.

Those graduating in May or August of 1957, or in January of 1958, with 1.75 grade-point averages are eligible. Application blanks should be turned in to Dr. Nevins.

Harvard university debaters Jim Kincaid and Greg Harvey defeated K-State in an audience-decision debate in the Student Union little theater last night.

The K-State delegates, Jim Shane, His Jr, and Ed McCoy, PrL Jr, defended the affirmative on the question, "Resolved, the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries."

A letter was read from Lud Piser, manager of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce, that magazine salesmen will carry with them, giving the support of the C. of C. to the salesmen.

Warren Keegan, Ec Sr, chairman of the board, has also worked up a letter for the salesmen to carry, stating that they are working for Campus Industries.

The Board also discussed the handling of advertisement for the student directory. It was decided that if they take it over the manager would work on a direct commission basis. The decision was postponed until next week.

Margaret Walker Chosen Relays Queen Candidate

K-State's candidate for the KU relays queen will be Margaret Walker, HT Soph, from Gypsum. Susan Schober, PEW Soph, and Rosemary Derks, Eng Jr, were the runners-up.

Miss Walker was selected entirely on the basis of photographs by Laurence W. Blaker, Manhattan photographer.

Purdue U Men Go To Extreme Unfetter Bull in Sorority House

By Shari Shellenberger

WE'VE HEARD OF most kinds of animals being turned loose in fraternity and sorority houses, but Purdue university seems to have come up with an extreme.

Girls in a newly-decorated and newly-carpeted sorority house at Purdue awoke one morn to find a bull milling around in their living room. Needless to say, the carpet and new furniture were ruined.

And the fraternity men responsible for the bull were immediately dismissed from school.

It doesn't pay, gentlemen!

FROM "THE NATION" comes this poem entitled "Absent-Minded Professor:"

"This lonely figure of not much fun
Strayed out of folklore fifteen years ago
Forever. Now on an autumn afternoon,
While the leaves drift past the office window,
His bright replacement, present-minded, stays
At the desk correcting papers, nor ever grieves
For the silly scholar of the bad old days,
Who'd burn the papers and correct the leaves."

Said the University of North Dakota Student about the poem: "Sigh. Another American institution trampled under the wheels of stoicism."

THE UNIVERSITY OF Colorado Daily has voted an "Oscar" for the best comic performance of the season not to a CU drama student, but to the campus election commission.

Seems the commission had the whole campus in an uproar at student government election time about what the Daily termed rules about the size of type and photos permitted on posters, the placement of the banners, ballot rotations, candidate rotations, and rotation rotations. So therefore, the Oscar.

THE DAILY CALIFORNIAN (University of California at Berkeley) ran an editorial criticizing the administration for the way in which "pre-enrollment" was handled.

Engineering students were given favor over the rest of Cal students. The system works something like this: during the middle of the previous term, each engineer and his adviser work out a schedule.

When class times are known, long before they are released to the rest of the student body, the engineers choose their class times, and lists of the engineers' choices are sent to the other departments such as chemistry, math, physics, and ROTC.

FOR EXAMPLE, in one AFROTC section, 22 engineers had "reservations" held for them, while other students wanting the section had to find another.

Taint fair, says the Daily Californian. K-State may not have the climate to offer, but our pre-enrollment system is certainly superior to Cal's.

Sales Tax Veto Is Upheld by House

TOPEKA, (UPI)—Kansas Democrats upheld Gov. George Docking's stand yesterday against a sales tax increase. The measure failed, 77-45, in a vote on whether to override his veto.

It would have taken 84 votes for the bill to become law without the governor's signature.

The final vote came during a tense, two hour and 20 minute session last night when all members were forced to vote on the issue by a "call of the House" motion.

The lower chamber's action foreshadowed the lawmakers' return to Topeka for a special session, or a further overtime session.

The measure called for a one-half per cent increase and it was estimated it would bring in nearly $14 million in new revenue.

Yesterday's action left a snarled revenue problem, with the state's $282.8 million budget remaining unbalanced.

THE BILL also carried a distribution of $8.6 million in state aid to elementary schools, along with a broadening of the tax base to include occasional sales of vehicles and rental of hotel and motel rooms.

Five Republicans sided with Democrats in voting against the motion to override. They were Reps. John Vermillion of Independence, Charles Davis of Topeka, Don Salmon of Hiattville, Emil Niedenthal of Russell, and Joseph Crowther of Salina.

Not a single Democrat voted "yes" as the minority party held in a solid block.

WHILE THE BUSINESS of explaining votes droned on members sang "Home on the Range," tossed paper planes about the chamber, and read newspapers. One member played a portable radio.

Meanwhile Governor Docking stood calmly in the second-floor rotunda and said to a woman who passed by:

"I have to be the one to keep the people calm. I'm not worried."

Docking's secretary, Jack Goodrich, said the governor "would need time to evaluate what has been done this session. He may have to call a special session within a month."

Telegraphic Tabloids

PASADENA, Calif., (UPI)—Louis S. Kurze complained to the telephone company about the constant ringing of an unseen phone outside his window.

A lineman climbed a pole outside Kurze's window and found a wood-pecker inside a transformer box busily tapping on the metal.

RAMONA, Calif.—Sun worshippers put their clothes on yesterday when things got too hot at the Camp Samagatuma Nudist colony.

The reverse fashion trend was caused by a brush fire and the arrival of firemen.

MUSKEGON, Mich.—Police didn't have to look far when Charles Farr reported someone had stolen two cases of beer he had left on the sidewalk outside a tavern.

The beer had been taken to police headquarters by two cruising patrolmen.

Personality of the Week

Head of Little Royal Began at 10 as 4-H'er

BOB BOZWORTH, chairman of the Little American Royal Executive council.

By CHARLES SHREIBER

ROBERT BOZWORTH, DH Sr, chairman of the Little American Royal's Executive council, is this week's personality of the week.

Bob was born and grew up on his parents' dairy farm in Leavenworth county. When he was 10 years old, he entered a 4-H club calf-raising project. Today he has built that first project into a 14-head herd of Jersey and Holstein dairy cows and a desire to give up the farm for the animal nutrition or dairy husbandry laboratory.

Commenting on the transition from 4-H fair showings to the Little American Royal, Bozworth does not find a great deal of difference except that in the little Royal the contestants are in competition, not the animals.

"THE LITTLE AMERICAN Royal gives student contestants a chance to show their ability to fit and show livestock of various classes," he explained.

"The K-State Royal is especially known for this feature since many other schools, Wisconsin and Colorado in particular, have turned their shows into horse shows or combinations with little emphasis on fitting and showing."

Following graduation in May, Bozworth hopes to get a research grant at either K-State, Michigan, Wisconsin, or Iowa to do graduate work in animal nutrition.

WHILE AT K-STATE Bozworth has worked with Dr. George Ward, associate professor of dairy husbandry, on a study of the nutrient value of feed grown in Southeast Kansas.

Socially he has been a member of the Collegiate 4-H club, Alpha Zeta, Integrity party, and an Agriculture council representative to the Dairy club.

He believes one reason for the decreasing enrollment in the Agriculture school is partly due to the fact that many farm boys are failing to realize the large number of jobs available to graduates.

ONE MEANS OF strengthening interest in agriculture he feels might be a sales or promotion campaign among FFA and 4-H clubs stressing such things as the Little American Royal and other student development activities available to anyone interested in any field of agriculture.

Readers' Forum

Dear Editor:

Because

1.) of the number of intensely greedy departments, each one refusing to let any of their students take courses outside of their own department,

2.) the nature of the majority of Kansas State students,

3.) the local Kansas provincial tradition in the heart of the "Bible Belt," Kansas State has become a very, very "practical" school.

Now if Kansas State is a "university," it is a university by definition only and certainly not in spirit either at the student or faculty level.

Considering such as this, we would suggest that Kansas State college change its name to the Kansas State Trade school.

Which it is.

Royalists Compete For Ten Trophies

Ten trophies, including two grand champion awards, will be presented to winners of divisions in the Little American Royal tomorrow evening. The trophies, which have been on display in the showcase of West Ag, will be awarded by Lawrence Morgan, Goodland, a member of the Board of Regents, according to Dean Peter, Ag Jr.

The show is divided into two sections, controlled individually by the Dairy and Block and Bridle clubs. A grand championship will be awarded in each section. The Dairy championship trophy was contributed by the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce and the Block and Bridle championship trophy by the Kansas City Stockyards company.

Under the Dairy section will be the Ayrshire, Guernsey, Jersey, and Holstein division, and under the Block and Bridle section are the beef, horse, swine, and sheep divisions. The other eight trophies for these divisions were donated by the American Royal Livestock show, held in Kansas City each fall.

Peter said 100 to 150 showmen are expected to be competing for awards in the various divisions.

Coeds Take Part in Royal

"It pays to have something attractive on both ends of the halter," says Walt Martin, AH Sr, co-chairman of the Little American Royal, and seven K-State coeds will be on hand at the Royal tomorrow evening hoping to prove this point.

The entrants and the animals they will be showing are Joan Kordus, PrV Fr, Jersey cow; Karen Dusenbury, HEJ Fr, Ayrshire cow; Wanda Swenson, FN Fr, Angus heifer; Alice Nagele, HDA Fr, Poland China gilt hog; Billy Sue Bevelhymer, Soc Soph, Shropshire ewe; Janice Gaddies, Ag Soph, Shropshire ewe; Judy Fisher, HE Fr, Southdown ewe; and Alice Whitney, EED Fr, quarterhorse.

Originally, there were eight women registered to show animals at the Royal, but Alice Gardner, AH Fr, got carried away with a bottle of undiluted disinfectant and now has what might be called a "hairless heifer."

A city girl—and one from New York City at that—Alice says she will try again next year when she's had a little more experience.

Prof. G. B. Marion of the Dairy Husbandry department, a faculty advisor for the Royal, says coeds have been showing at the Royal for more than 20 years.

Two years ago the winner of the grand championship in the dairy division was a woman. That same year, all eight girls who entered the show placed.

Professor Marion says that past years have shown girls to be more diligent in preparing their animals and that they spend more time with them than boys. "Their patience and the amount of time spent are reasons why most of the girls who have participated in the Royal placed so high," he said.

SCRUBBING THE WOOL of the sheep she will show in the Little American Royal Saturday is Janice Gaddis, Ag Soph.

Alumni News

Joan Verlene Engle, BS '54, was a home economics agent in Marion shortly after her graduation. She is now a student at the University of Maryland in Bladensburg where she is under a 4-H club fellowship.

Lloyd Ray Hanson, BS '54, is now a student at Augustana Theological seminary where he has been since he was discharged from the service last year.

Theresa Navinskey Heise, BS '54, is married to Harold D. Heise, '49, and is now teaching in Westmoreland.

Gwendolyn Emel Redding, BS '54, taught music in Colby upon her graduation, but is now working on her masters at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge where her husband is a professor of music.

Patricia Lou Davies, BS '54, is now teaching English in Miltonvale.

Robert Ulsh Gross, '54, is now a veterinarian in Virginia, Ill., where he has been since his graduation.

Special Features Added To Tomorrow's Royal

A Holstein bull, Meierkord Netherland Triune, will be a special attraction in the grand entry of the Little American Royal in the Field House tomorrow. With a record of approximately 20,000 offspring, the bull is one of the outstanding sires in Kansas, according to Bob Bozworth, DH Sr, chairman of executive council for the Royal.

Sand Spring Saddle club from Abilene will present a square dance on horseback during an intermission.

Music will be furnished throughout the evening by the Herington high school band. Clowns, a regular feature of Little Royals, will be Harry Todd, AH Soph; Darrell Keener, AH Soph; and Joe Cukjati, VM Fr.

The centerpiece for the show will be a three-sided structure of sawdust over metal lath situated on a revolving base. Guernsey, Holstein, and Ayrshire cow heads will be on each side of the 12-foot centerpiece.

"Contestants in the show are judged solely on their fitting and showing ability, as no consideration is given on an animal's type or body conformation," Bozworth said.

Ten sterling silver trophies with an estimated value of $300 have been donated for awards by the American Royal Livestock show, the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, and the Kansas City Stockyards company. Four will be awarded to champion showman of each dairy breed and four to division champions of animal husbandry. The other two will be presented to the grand champion dairy and animal husbandry showmen.

Bus Looks for Win By Cats Over Alums

By MIKE SCANLAND

Coach Bus Mertes thinks his varsity squad should win with K-State's alumni Saturday.

"I think we will win. They will be awfully tough for a while but I wonder if they can keep up the pace. Outside of their experience we have quite an advantage," Mertes said.

He concedes that the alumni have outstanding talent but thinks the good showing his varsity has made this spring coupled with the fact that the alums have not had time to get organized and in shape give his varsity the advantage.

The game will start at 2:30 p.m. in Memorial stadium.

But Mertes does not believe his team has the game in the bag. "Those alumni backs can go all the way any time, and they could bust the game wide open," Mertes said referring to such dangerous backs as all-American Verly Switzer and all-Big Seven Corky Taylor who will play for the alums.

Mertes said the alums have had individual practice this week and organized practice yesterday. They will have organized practice again today.

The varsity will be strengthened by the return of Gene Keady, starting left halfback last fall, who was injured early in the spring and has missed contact work until this week.

Keady has been engaging in practice all week and will probably start, according to Mertes. Mertes expects the return of Keady to make the team's passing attack considerably stronger.

With practice sessions still slanted toward improving the defense, Mertes says his team's offense isn't as smooth as it should be and in remaining practices the squad will concentrate on offensive work.

"We haven't scored enough touchdowns. We have moved the ball pretty well but we haven't scored much. We haven't had long runs or passes.

"Maybe it's because of defensive pursuit, maybe it's because the offense hasn't jelled yet, or maybe we just aren't good enough. I hope it's because the defense is ahead of the offense," he said.

Injuries have already begun to deplete the thin ranks of Mertes' squad. He said doctors have informed Chuck Sprinkle that he will have to drop football permanently because of a neck injury he suffered last fall. Sprinkle was the starting center for the Wildcats in early games until he was injured.

Cat Golfers Edge Wichita

K-State edged Wichita university 9½ to 8½ in a golf match on the Wichita country club course yesterday.

The Wildcat golfers could win only one of four singles matches but they won two of those by 3-0 counts for the narrow point margin.

Garry Mann of Wichita recorded an 84 for the day's low score on the par 71 course. Ron Young, with an 86, had K-State's best score.

Garry Mann (W), 84, beat Ron Young (KS), 86-2-1. Butch Van Dusen (W), 85, beat Joe Downey (KS), 88-2½-½. Jerry Smith (KS), 87, defeated

Don Brown (W), 89-3-0. Ben Witherspoon (W), 86, defeated Jerry Hendricks (KS), 87-2-1.

Mann-Van Dusen (W) whipped Young-Downey (KS)-2-1. Smith-Hendricks (KS) beat Brown-Witherspoon-2-0.

A doubles match between Wallace and Wayne Scott of K-State and Dave Wilhoite and Dale Crowder of Oklahoma Baptist stood at 4-6, 6-2, but was called because of darkness.

The Cat net team will meet Oklahoma A&M in a match today, and round out its road trip with a match at Oklahoma tomorrow.

In doubles matches, Dalton and Shaw defeated Circle and Champlin, 6-3, 6-4; and Stout and Ison defeated Adler and Holwerda, 6-2, 6-4.

NW Takes Crown In Gals' Basketball

Northwest hall took the women's intramural basketball championship from Kappa Delta, 46-27, yesterday in Nichols gym.

The contest closed play in the women's loop for the season.

Carolee Baertcl and Marilyn Hanna hit 14 points apiece to lead Northwest in the contest. Norma Eversole of Kappa Delta tied those two for game honors with 14.

Northwest led at the end of the initial quarter, 9-6, and held a 27-15 halftime margin. By the end of the third period, Northwest had opened up a 39-25 lead, and the dorm team outscored the KD's 7-2, in the final period for the end result.

Hitting Highlights Exhibitions

By UNITED PRESS

In baseball, as in horse racing, there are always the imponderables to consider.

How else could you explain the New York Yankees winning a spring exhibition game on only two hits and the Milwaukee Braves losing a game despite a 16-hit barrage?

Eight spring-time tuneups yesterday produced a staggering total of 171 hits. That's an average of more than 21 hits a game. Yet the Yankees needed only one of those singles to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0.

Robin Roberts worked the first eight innings for the Phillies, yielding only a safe bunt to Hank Bauer in the fourth inning. When Roberts was lifted for a pinch hitter, rookie Dick Farrell took over in the ninth and lost the game. Woody Held tripled and scored on Gil McDougald's sacrifice fly.

The Braves, meanwhile, outhit Brooklyn, 16-14, in a wild contest at San Antonio, Tex., but still lost to the homer-happy Dodgers, 14-8.

Elsewhere along the exhibition circuit, hits were a dime a dozen ... or cheaper.

The Baltimore Orioles collected 22 safeties in whipping the Chicago Cubs, 18-5. Tito Francona led the Baltimore hit parade with four, including a home run, while Bill Gardner also homered for the Orioles.

In another slugfest at Salt Lake City, the New York Giants broke a three-game losing streak with a 13-hit attack that wrecked the Cleveland Indians, 9-6.

The Pittsburgh Pirates assaulted Virgil Trucks for eight hits and four runs in the first two innings and went on to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3.

An impressive three-inning relief job by Ellis Kinder enabled the Chicago White Sox to edge the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in 11 innings, while the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senators, 5-4, on a 10th inning single by Don Hoak.

Bit Part Was Beginning Of Little Royal in 1928

Twenty-nine years ago, the Little American Royal began as a livestock parade and exhibition for the benefit of people attending Farm and Home week. It was sponsored by the Animal Husbandry department in cooperation with the Block and Bridle club.

The show became a student contest three years later through the combined efforts of Farm and Home week and the Dairy club to test students' ability to fit and train animals for the show ring. It continued to be an attraction for Farm and Home week visitors until 1942.

In 1942 the Little Royal was discontinued because of the small student enrollment during the war. It was reinstated in 1948 under the co-sponsorship of the Dairy and Block and Bridle clubs.

The Little Royal is now the biggest single event of the year for Ag students at K-State.

Before 1951, the show was held in the livestock pavilion between East and West Ag. Since 1951 it has been held in the Field House.

Comedy was introduced to the Little Royal in 1935, by a special fitting and training class which included such "livestock" as a donkey, turkey, dog, and a goat.

Old Timer in Royals

Seeks More Prizes

When the Little American Royal opens tomorrow evening, Ray Sis, VM Sr, will be trying to add another blue ribbon to his collection of prizes won showing animals in the Royal during previous years.

Ray has the distinction of winning a prize every year he has shown an animal in the Royal. He has won three blue ribbons and one red ribbon with his animals and has won a prize in every class of Block and Bridle competition.

The four classes in which animals are shown in Block and Bridle are beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. The four class champions meet for the over-all championship of that division.

In 1951, Ray won the championship of the beef cattle class and placed second in competition for the championship of the Block and Bridle division.

For the next two years he followed the pattern established in 1951 by winning the championship of the class he entered and by taking second in the combined championship.

In 1956, the only year he failed to place first in his division, Ray took second in the horse class with a quarter horse. He plans to show a quarter horse in the Royal again this spring.

Ray believes the reason for the success he has had with his animals is the steady work he puts in on them from the time he draws them until they are shown in the Royal.

"I try to do some work on my animal each day. A once-a-week effort will not get the job done. Some work every day is worth more than a lot once a week," he said.

Ray started to KSC in 1949, and after receiving a degree in animal husbandry in 1953 he switched to veterinary medicine. He will receive his degree in that field this spring.

He is married and has two young daughters; one two years old and one two months.

His oldest daughter, Susan, is probably familiar to most Kansas State basketball fans. She is the little girl who helped Kansas State's cheerleaders during the last part of the 1956-57 basketball season.

Ray was a member of numerous judging team while he was in animal husbandry and has been a member of the Union Governing board for two years. He is chairman of that organization this year.

"We haven't scored enough touchdowns. We have moved the ball pretty well but we haven't scored much. We haven't had long runs or passes.

"Maybe it's because of defensive pursuit, maybe it's because the offense hasn't jelled yet, or maybe we just aren't good enough. I hope it's because the defense is ahead of the offense," he said.

Injuries have already begun to deplete the thin ranks of Mertes' squad. He said doctors have informed Chuck Sprinkle that he will have to drop football permanently because of a neck injury he suffered last fall. Sprinkle was the starting center for the Wildcats in early games until he was injured.

Cat Golfers Edge Wichita

K-State edged Wichita university 9 1/2 to 8 1/2 in a golf match on the Wichita country club course yesterday.

The Wildcat golfers could win only one of four singles matches but they won two of those by 3-0 counts for the narrow point margin.

Garry Mann of Wichita recorded an 84 for the day's low score on the par 71 course. Ron Young, with an 86, had K-State's best score.

Garry Mann (W), 84, beat Ron Young (KS), 86-2-1. Butch Van Dusen (W), 85, beat Joe Downey (KS), 88-2 1/2-1. Jerry Smith (KS), 87, defeated

Don Brown (W), 89-5-0. Ben Witherspoon (W), 86, defeated Jerry Hendricks (KS), 87-2-1.

Mann-Van Dusen (W) whipped Young-Downey (KS)-2-1. Smith-Hendricks (KS) beat Bo-Bo-Witherspoon-3-0.

A doubles match between Wallace and Wayne Scott of K-State and Dave Wilhoite and Dale Crowder of Oklahoma Baptist stood at 4-6, 6-2, but was called because of darkness.

The Cat net team will meet Oklahoma A&M in a match today, and round out its road trip with a match at Oklahoma tomorrow.

NW Takes Crown In Gals' Basketball

Northwest hall took the women's intramural basketball championship from Kappa Delta, 46-27, yesterday in Nichols gym.

The contest closed play in the women's loop for the season.

Carolee Baertel and Marilyn Hanna hit 14 points apiece to lead Northwest in the contest. Norma Eversole of Kappa Delta tied those two for game honors with 14.

Northwest led at the end of the initial quarter, 9-6, and held a 27-15 halftime margin. By the end of the third period, Northwest had opened up a 39-25 lead, and the dorm team outscored the KD's 7-2, in the final period for the end result.

Hitting Highlights Exhibitions

By UNITED PRESS

In baseball, as in horse racing, there are always the imponderables to consider.

How else could you explain the New York Yankees winning a spring exhibition game on only two hits and the Milwaukee Braves losing a game despite a 16-hit barrage?

Eight spring-time tuneups yesterday produced a staggering total of 171 hits. That's an average of more than 21 hits a game. Yet the Yankees needed only one of those singles to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0.

Robin Roberts worked the first eight innings for the Phillies, yielding only a safe bunt to Hank Bauer in the fourth inning. When Roberts was lifted for a pinch hitter, rookie Dick Farrell took over in the ninth and lost the game. Woody Held tripled and scored on Gil McDougald's sacrifice fly.

The Braves, meanwhile, outhit Brooklyn, 16-14, in a wild contest at San Antonio, Tex., but still lost to the homer-happy Dodgers, 14-8.

Elsewhere along the exhibition circuit, hits were a dime a dozen ... or cheaper.

The Baltimore Orioles collected 22 safeties in whipping the Chicago Cubs, 18-5. Tito Francona led the Baltimore hit parade with four, including a home run, while Bill Gardner also homered for the Orioles.

In another slugfest at Salt Lake City, the New York Giants broke a three-game losing streak

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN
Friday, April 5, 1957-4

with a 13-hit attack that wrecked the Cleveland Indians, 9-6.

The Pittsburgh Pirates assaulted Virgil Trucks for eight hits and four runs in the first two innings and went on to defeat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3.

An impressive three-inning relief job by Ellis Kinder enabled the Chicago White Sox to edge the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in 11 innings, while the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senators, 5-4, on a 10th inning single by Don Hoak.

Bit Part Was Beginning Of Little Royal in 1928

Twenty-nine years ago, the Little American Royal began as a livestock parade and exhibition for the benefit of people attending Farm and Home week. It was sponsored by the Animal Husbandry department in cooperation with the Block and Bridle club.

The show became a student contest three years later through the combined efforts of Farm and Home week and the Dairy club to test students' ability to fit and train animals for the show ring. It continued to be an attraction for Farm and Home week visitors until 1942.

In 1942 the Little Royal was discontinued because of the small student enrollment during the war. It was reinstated in 1948 under the co-sponsorship of the Dairy and Block and Bridle clubs.

The Little Royal is now the biggest single event of the year for Ag students at K-State.

Before 1951, the show was held in the livestock pavilion between East and West Ag. Since 1951 it has been held in the Field House.

Comedy was introduced to the Little Royal in 1935, by a special fitting and training class which included such "livestock" as a donkey, turkey, dog, and a goat.

Old Timer in Royals Seeks More Prizes

When the Little American Royal opens tomorrow evening, Ray Sis, VM Sr, will be trying to add another blue ribbon to his collection of prizes won showing animals in the Royal during previous years.

Ray has the distinction of winning a prize every year he has shown an animal in the Royal. He has won three blue ribbons and one red ribbon with his animals and has won a prize in every class of Block and Bridle competition.

The four classes in which animals are shown in Block and Bridle are beef cattle, swine, sheep, and horses. The four class champions meet for the over-all championship of that division.

In 1951, Ray won the championship of the beef cattle class and placed second in competition for the championship of the Block and Bridle division.

For the next two years he followed the pattern established in 1951 by winning the championship of the class he entered and by taking second in the combined championship.

In 1956, the only year he failed to place first in his division, Ray took second in the horse class with a quarter horse. He plans to show a quarter horse in the Royal again this spring.

Ray believes the reason for the success he has had with his animals is the steady work he puts in on them from the time he draws them until they are shown in the Royal.

"I try to do some work on my animal each day. A once-a-week effort will not get the job done. Some work every day is worth more than a lot once a week," he said.

Ray started to KSC in 1949, and after receiving a degree in animal husbandry in 1953 he switched to veterinary medicine. He will receive his degree in that field this spring.

He is married and has two young daughters; one two years old and one two months.

His oldest daughter, Susan, is probably familiar to most Kansas State basketball fans. She is the little girl who helped Kansas State's cheerleaders during the last part of the 1956-57 basketball season.

Ray was a member of numerous judging team while he was in animal husbandry and has been a member of the Union Governing board for two years. He is chairman of that organization this year.

Fellowship Offers Variety Of Activities for Students

By CAROL SHIDELER

Students vary their activities from Bible study discussions to bridge games at the Disciple Student Foundation. The minister to students, Walter Abel, Psy Gr, his wife, Myra, HT Jr., and their two sons live at the Foundation, 1633 Anderson.

The Foundation is open to students any time. On weekends students go there to play cards, publish the DSF, student newspaper, listen to records, play ping pong, or just visit. DSF members had intramural football, basketball, bowling, and volleyball teams and entered in tennis, horseshoe pitching, and ping pong.

Plans are now being made to build a new Foundation on the lot east of the present DSF Foundation. Construction of the L-shaped building should start within the next year. The plans include a lounge with a fireplace, study, library, office, meeting rooms, assembly-recreation room, and kitchen. The student minister will live in the present Foundation building.

The Disciple Student Fellowship emphasizes student responsibility and service to others as well as spiritual development. The membership is divided into five groups with each group responsible for a job for a three weeks period.

The Sunday school class meets at the Christian church. Students serve as junior deacons each Sunday, and some members sing in the church choir. Kappa Beta, service sorority, meets in the homes of church women and recently had a joint meeting with the Missionary society. As many as 190 students have attended the Sunday school or evening fellowship this year, with attendance averaging 60.

Students are responsible for the programs given each week. DSF members have presented programs on studies of worship where the members visited Catholic, Lutheran, Pilgrim Baptist, and other church services, followed by an explanation by a leader of the church visited.

Members visit old people at the Riley County hospital each week. The group sponsors a Gospel Team which visits small churches. They have given 12 services this year traveling as far as Wausau, about 175 miles away.

Last Thanksgiving some DSFers helped refinish a church in Lawrence. Members will help repair a camp for orphan children near Denver the first week in June.

During the last week of April, members will attend a State Retreat at Bonner Springs. The retreat originated at K-State when students spent a weekend at a camp for study and worship. Ed Dillinger, Sed Jr., is president of the state DSF which is made up of six active clubs. Mary Lou Ficke, ChW Jr., is state secretary.

Last year Wilderness camp near Colorado Springs was originated.

Don Elson Elected KUSF Treasurer

Donald Elson, AgE Jr., was elected treasurer of the newly-organized Kansas United Student fellowship at the organizational meeting in Topeka last weekend.

The KUSF is made up of United Student Fellowship groups from K-State, Kansas University, Washburn University, Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, and Wichita University.

Economy Drive Delays School Construction Bill

Compiled From United Press

Washington—House supporters of a $2 billion compromise school construction bill today devised a strategy of delay to steer clear of the congressional economy drive.

They planned to hold up the bill until early summer in hopes that the economy drive will have slowed by then. They said the school construction program never would get by budget cutter now.

Other developments are:

Postal—Chairman Clarence Cannon of a House appropriations subcommittee accused Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield of trying to "sandbag" Congress into giving him an emergency $47 million appropriation. Summerfield said unless his department got the money it would have to curtail postal services. The curtailment order was expected to go through by midnight.

Suicide—The Senate internal security subcommittee planned to push ahead with a general investigation of U. S. diplomats in the Mideast. The subcommittee made the announcement in the face of Canadian bitterness over the suicide of the Canadian ambassador to Egypt after he was named in the inquiry as an alleged communist.

Israel Fears New Crisis

Israel received reports today that overwhelmingly pro-Soviet elements were about to seize control of Jordan and Syria in moves that could touch off another crisis in the Middle East.

Premier David Ben-Gurion was studying the reports closely for Israeli sources have said any such drastic change in the governments of Israel's neighbors would be a major new threat to its security.

Operation for Seaton

Washington—Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton was scheduled to undergo an operation today for a spinal condition.

The decision to operate was made by Dr. Otto Kostal of Hastings, Neb., Seaton's personal physician, after consultation with physicians at Walter Reed Army medical center.

The 47-year-old secretary has been under observation and treatment at Walter Reed since March 7.

WEATHER

Skies in Kansas will be mostly cloudy with snow flurries today and weather will be continued cold. It will be partly cloudy tonight and Saturday.

Saturday's forecast is for warmer weather, with high temperatures in the 30s in the Northwest and 40 to 45 in the Southeast. Lows will range between 25 and 30 degrees. Temperatures at 8:30 a.m. in Manhattan was 25 degrees.

Dunham, Mach Top All In Little American Royal

Grand Champion showmen for the 1957 Little American Royal held Saturday night before 2,000 spectators in Ahearn field house are Dick Dunham, DH Soph, in the Dairy division, and Donald Mach, VM Soph, in the Block and Bridle division.

Reserve champions are Larry Hall, EE Fr in the Dairy division, and Leon Sucht, AH Sr in the Block and Bridle division.

After winning or taking second in their breed class, each contestant showed ani-imals from each breed class and was judged for the Grand Championship on improvement in appearance of the animal and ability to show the animal in the ring.

Breed Grand champions were—Beef cattle, Mach; Sheep, Sucht; Swine, Jim Wittum, AH Sr; Holsteins, Jack Van Horn, Ag Jr; Jerseys, Emery Corbett, DH Soph; Guernseys, Dunham; Ayrshires, Hall; Horses, Buddy Schepler, DH Soph.

Guernseys, Lawrence Odgers, DM Soph; Ayrshires, John Anderson, Ag Jr; Horses, Ray Sis, VM Sr.

TV Appearance For Chi O, ATO Orpheum Skits

Chi Omega sorority and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity Y-Orpheum skits will be featured on a TV program over WIBW-TV, Wednesday, from 7:30 to 8 p.m., according to Bruce Wilson, His Gr, executive council general chairman 1957 Y-Orpheum.

The skits, "64,000 Yen," and "TV or Not TV," were picked by officials of WIBW-TV for televising.

These officials explained that they tried to pick the first place winners as nearly as possible, but because of space limitations in TV productions, they deviated somewhat in the fraternity division choice. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the fraternity division and Alpha Gamma Rho took second.

K-Hill Renovation Halted, Awaits Action by State

The K-Hill renovation project is at present awaiting action by the State Purchasing Agent, according to R. F. Gingrich, physical plant superintendent.

Earlier bids for repairing the "K" were cancelled when it was decided that action on the student fund project should be approved by the state office.

The project involves replacing the foot of the letter "K" which has broken away from the main body of the letters.

Originally, most of the work on the concrete letters was done by engineering students, but because of a need for special equipment to anchor concrete to rock and the steep slope of the working surface, professional workmen would be needed, Gingrich said.

It will probably be about two weeks until action is taken by the State Purchasing agent, Gingrich said.

The lowest bid received in the first round of bidding was for $2,100.

The Student Council has allocated $2,000 for repair of the 25 foot long, 14 foot wide strip of concrete. The engineering honoraries and departmental clubs have started raising the needed extra $100.

COUNTING BALLOTS cast in the student primary elections are Laura Langford, EEd Jr, and Ron Whitchurch, BAA Fr. Some students worked until 11 p.m. Friday tabulating the results of ballots.

Primary Victories Go to Scott, North

Neil Scott, Soc Jr, led all candidates in obtaining the Integrity party nomination for Student Body President and Ray North, PrL Jr, was named by United Stater voters to oppose him in the student primary elections Thursday and Friday.

Scott got 860 votes in beating Tom Bowman, PrL Jr, the other Integrity presidential candidate, who got 331. North, the only United Stater candidate for president, got 509 votes.

Approximately 20 ballots were declared invalid because too many votes were cast on a ballot.

In the race for Student Board of Publications, Ray Lippe polled 842 and P. A. Young 837 votes on the Integrity ticket. Gary Yeakley had 65 write-in votes giving him the third position on the Integrity ticket for the general election.

Marcia Boyd, United Stater candidate for Student Board of Publications got 481 votes.

Running for Student Council from the School of Arts and Sciences on the Integrity ticket will be: Gene O'Conner, 276; Warren Keegan, 238; Pat McDermott, 204; Kay Eplee, 193; George Hooper, 186; Jim Shane, 180; Barbara Ericson, 173; and Lynn Mechesney, 172.

United Stater candidates will be Joyce Graham, 202; Charles Wingert, 171; Carolyn Eby, 161; Mel Eaton, 160; Paul Attwater, 140; Winkie Killian, 138; Bill

Friends Get $233 For Holland Family

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holland, whose Elliot courts residence and furnishings were damaged by fire March 27, have presented the Hollands with $233 to defray cost of replacing the furnishings.

Money was collected last week by one woman out of every two barracks in Hilltop and Elliot

Patterson, 132; and Bob Carlson, 125.

United Staters seeking positions on the Student Council from the School of Engineering and Architecture are Linnea Brown, 102; Ron Garlow, 99; Hubert Guest, 98; Clyde McKenzie, 95; Michael Maggard, 93; and Joseph Haegelin, 92.

Integrity party candidates for Engineering and Architecture are James Runberg, 238; Sam Warren, 234; Keith Small, 228; Dwight Bennett, 225; Vern Scott, 217; and Don Smith, with 106 write-in votes.

The School of Agriculture primary winners from the Integrity party for Student Council were Paul Hatfield, 107; Dean Peter, 83; and Bill Brethour, 82.

David Nuttle polled 37 votes and will represent the United Staters in the School of Agriculture.

For Student Council from Home Economics school will be Integrity party members Donna Knoche, 67; Dixie Brown, 61; and United Stater Janet Kugler, 49; and Carol Kellogg, 44.

Student Council candidates from the School of Veterinary Medicine are Edward John, United Stater, 24 votes; and Sam Strahm, Integrity, 91 votes.

Student Council candidates from the Graduate School are Pat Henry, United Stater, 19 votes; and Integrity members Harold Garner, 15 votes, and John Snider, 14 votes.

courts. Some money was donated by persons other than residents of the courts, according to Mrs. Vernon Scott, one of the fund raisers.

The Hollands moved back into their home Friday night. They have been staying with neighbors.

Three student-directed plays will be presented by the players studio of K-State Players in Holton hall Thursday and Friday at 8:15 p.m. There is no admission charge.

"Crime in the Streets" by Reginald Rose, a television play adapted for presentation by K-State Players, is directed by Herman Zilmer, Sp Gr. In the play Frankie, played by Bob Lincoln, PrV Fr, almost commits a murder.

A satire of play production "The Pot Boiler" by Alice Gersenberg, takes place in a technical rehearsal two days before a play is to be presented. The actors are perturbed because the author hasn't written a conclusion to the play. Dennis Darner, Sp Sr, is director.

In the cast are Jim Hollis, Sp Sr; Louann Oberhelman, Sp Jr; Linda Merritt, EEd Fr; Bill Brenner, Sp Sr; Dan Hahn, Sp

Soph; Dean Hyde, ArG Sr; and Howard Young, EE Soph. Miss Oberhelman also is stage manager.

The third play, "The Unsatisfactory Supper" is one of the two Tennessee Williams plays that were combined and rewritten to form the movie script, "Baby Doll." Cast members are Clenece Roberts, Sp Fr; Linda Stout, Sp Fr; and Gene Olander, EE Fr. Director of the play is Dale Livengood, Sp Sr.

Thinking About Cutting Classes? Odds and Pros are Against You

By WARREN BENNETT

WINTER IS PREPARING to depart and that old spring fever will soon launch its attack against our gallant but sometimes weak ambitions. If you are beginning to have thoughts of cutting class maybe you would like to know what your instructors and fellow students think about the same subject.

In answer to the question: "Do you think compulsory attendance is necessary?" the answers broke 7 to 5 in favor of attendance.

● ORVAL EBBERTS, assistant dean of Arts and Sciences—"Yes; being a state institution, K-State has to accept any high school graduate and in so doing often gets students who are not sufficiently motivated to do college work. This means that they will not attend classes with sufficient regularity to assure them maximum returns. The student actually pays for only a small portion of his education, about $1 for every $3 spent by the State.

Also, in many courses only a small portion of the necessary knowledge is contained in the textbook alone. Therefore, the student who does not attend classes regularly is missing a vital part of the course.

Finally, I do not believe that freshmen and sophomores are capable of judging which lectures and recitations are important and which are not important to them.

● ALWYN BERLAND, assistant professor, English—"Yes, for all but superior students."

● DR. PHILIP YOUNG, associate professor, English—"No. People who have to be forced to show up ought to flunk out anyway."

● DR. NORMA BUNTON, assistant professor, Speech—"Yes, it is necessary for freshmen and sophomores."

● GENE SMITH, AA Sr.—"No. I think it should be up to the student."

● MARY GARNER, DIM Sr.—"Yes, but only for freshmen."

● ISAAC WAKABAYASHI, instructor, electrical engineering—"No, it's something a person should decide for himself."

● RICHARD FOSTER, AEd Sr.—"No. By the time you get to college you should know whether you have to attend class to get your grades."

● KERMIT REISTER, electrical engineering instructor—"Yes, because of the lack of maturity in the average student at K-State."

● PHYLLIS NICHOLS, DIM Sr.—"Yes for freshmen."

● CHARLES GOETZINGER, assistant speech professor—"No. If you are ever going to develop maturity in a student you have to give him responsibility."

● DR. THOMAS PARKER, mathematics professor—"Yes, more rigidly for freshmen than sophomores and then gradually ease off as they show their capabilities."

Mother Nature is All Mixed Up; Unseasonal Storm Sweeps Nation

By UNITED PRESS

A third spring snowstorm in as many weeks buried the storm-battered Rockies and western plains states today under as much as a foot of drifting snow.

The storm swept into Kansas and the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles during the night after dumping an average of one foot of new snow in much of Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. Leadville, Colo., with 36 inches of snow on the ground, had the heaviest accumulation.

Gusts up to 50 miles an hour whipped the snow into giant drifts at Liberal and Jetmore, Kans.

Drifting also was reported in the Rockies and from Southwest Nebraska to the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandles and portions of New Mexico. The strong winds ripped dust clouds across Southeastern New Mexico.

Heavy rains soaked Eastern sections of Kansas and Oklahoma Northeastward to the Great Lakes region, with one-quarter to one-half inch reported in a six-hour period during the night.

Weathermen warned the rain will turn to snow today in most of Oklahoma and Missouri while considerable blowing snow is expected in the central plains.

Showers and thunderstorms also are seen for the Ohio valley, where many streams flooded in recent heavy rains.

Floodwaters receded in Missouri, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and North Carolina.

The Eastern snow was wet and heavy, snapping tree limbs and power lines. At Cleveland, numerous power failures were reported, and one utility line fell across a police car. No one was in the car and there were no injuries.

The storm also tied up traffic from the Geauga County Maple festival near Columbus which was attended by an estimated 65,000 persons.

Ranchers and travellers throughout the western storm area had ample warning and there were few reports of stranded motorists or lost cattle.

The Southeastward flow of the storm touched off new tornado alerts in twister-wary Texas, and for parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Louisiana during the night. No tornadoes were reported, however.

Another finger of snow pushed into the east from the Great Lakes to New York state. Five inches of snow were reported on Erie, Pa.

The western storm eased up over Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska, but clearing skies sent the Mercury plunging to record low readings near the zero mark.

Denver, Colo., recorded one of its coldest spring nights in history with an early morning reading of 10. The previous low for the date was 11, and the all-time low for this time of year was 8 degrees.

Other low readings included 3 degrees at Laramie, Wyo., 8 at Cheyenne, 4 at Fort Collins, Colo., 5 at Colorado Springs, and 16 at Pueblo, Colo. Temperatures of zero or lower occurred in the higher elevations.

Spend Night in Jail

By Shari Shellenberger

THE EMPORIA STATE college swimming team spent a night in jail last week. But not because of speeding, running a stoplight, or reckless driving.

Returning from a conference swimming meet at Hays on a night the recent Western Kansas blizzard was at its worst, the seventeen team members ran into impassable highways. Stranded in Great Bend, the team and coach found all hotels and motels filled with other stranded motorists.

THE ONLY PORT of refuge was made available by a friend of one of the swimmers—the friend turned out to be the Barton County sheriff, the port he offered was the county jail.

Said one of the team members: "We were warm, the food was good, and after all, it was really much better than being out in the blizzard. It seemed rather like dormitory life."

A UNIVERSITY of Colorado freshman named Don Benton lost a poker game. But that's not all—he also lost his hair.

Benton and a group of his dormmates, conscientiously observing the rule that gambling for money is illegal on University of Colorado property, gambled with the agreement that the loser would get his head shaved. Don lost, and got scalped.

ONE OF BENTON'S friends termed the incident as "timed wrong." Said the friend: "If he'd gotten scalped a year ago, Yul Bryner would now have a 'Don Benton' haircut, and Don would be famous."

ALSO, AT CU, an alum writes to the editor, suggesting that 'Mr. Chips', the University's buffalo mascot, be used for a barbecue at Homecoming next year. This, says the alum would do away with 'lawsuits arising from injuries suffered by innocent by-standers who are so inconsiderate as to be in the way when this half-ton of animal whips out of control.'

Guess the barbecue would be fine in Mr. Chips' case, as we've heard of barbecued buffalo meat. But Touchdown IV can consider himself safe—who ever heard of barbecued Wildcat?

IN ITS APRIL FOOL issue, the University of Oregon Daily Emerald reported a panty raid, not on women's dormitories, but on men's dormitories.

Said the Emerald: A mob of 2500 lusty women stormed the halls just before scheduled women's closing hours and fought for men's undergarments until dispersed by police using bludgeons and fire hoses. (April Fool, naturally.)

Telegraphic Tabloids

Waco, Texas—A 450-pound calf ran loose through a residential section for nearly an hour yesterday. He was finally lassoed on the old Chisholm trail, now known as North 11th St.

Dallas, Texas—Everybody put a match to the fire that burned the mortgage at St. Luke's Episcopal church last night.

Series of Unusual Events Center Around KS Little Royal

TALK ABOUT a variety of unusual events—this was exactly the situation at the Little American Royal in the Field House Saturday night.

And it was a great night for Lawrence D. Morgan, a K-State alum from Goodland, as his wife and daughter had their own contributions to the special features of the Royal. Daughter Connie, HE Fr, was introduced as queen of the Agriculture school, and reigned as queen of the Little American Royal.

Four pure bred gilts were given to members of Future Farmers of America and the 4-H club as Queen Connie drew winning names from a raffle barrel.

MORGAN PRESENTED grand championship trophies at the conclusion of all the contests. Harold Garner, AH Sr, introduced Morgan's wife, the former Isabel Porter who was barnwarmer queen 25 years ago.

A crowd estimated at 2,000 witnessed a colorful grand entry of 70 animals, including horses, beef steers, and dairy cattle. An outstanding sire with a record of approximately 20,000 offspring was a special attraction in the parade. Herington high school band furnished the music.

IN GALA COSTUMES Harry Todd, AH Soph; Darrell Keener, AH Soph; and Joe Cukjati, VM Fr; were clowns and led a goat in the grand entry parade. This provided the crowd with regular Little Royal humor.

To a modified version of "Texas Star," the Sand Spring Saddle club square danced on horseback. Their costumes were white shirts trimmed with purple, and light yellow chaparajos.

JAN GADDIS, Ag Soph, won a blue ribbon for sheep showmanship. Miss Gaddis was champion horse showman last year. And, according to Bob Bozworth, DH Sr, chairman of the Little American Royal executive council, girls usually do well in their classes. Of the seven female entrants in the show, the lowest rating was a fourth.

Winners of the grand championship trophies were Don Mach, VM Soph, in animal husbandry; and Dick Dunham, DH Soph, in dairy breeding.

As First Aide

Wilson Aids Cat Trackmen

By DENNY BASSETT

Herman Wilson, young ex-Cat trackman, is the first assistant track coach in K-State's history.

"While I am here at K-State I hope I can help build K-State's track team back where it used to be," Wilson said.

"I have always wanted to coach college athletes and now I am," he said. "I believe it is what I wanted and expected it to be. The boys are doing their best and excelling in their field, and I am out there to help them all I can."

Athletics Director Bebe Lee commented that "Herm is certainly doing a fine job—he is coming back next year."

Wilson left private business to take the post this school year. A pole vaulter, Wilson was a state champion in that event twice while attending Wellington high school.

After serving two years with the Navy during World War II he came to K-State where he lettered in track.

Lee describes Wilson as a hard working coach who knows track and enjoys coaching it.

"Herm left private business to return to his first love, and to get an advanced degree in physical education," Lee said. "He loves collegiate sports, especially track and field, and will do K-State a lot of good in the future."

Ward Haylett, Cat track coach, describes Wilson as a fine track coach who is doing a swell job with the freshman. "He knows his track and gets along well with the boys," Haylett said.

Besides coaching track and working on an advanced degree, Wilson teaches physical education classes, which he finds to his liking.

"The boys seem to enjoy themselves, which is as it should be. It gives me a chance to look for new talent for our track teams, too," Wilson said.

"There are differences and similarities between coaching high school and college boys, but college athletes are specialized in their field which gives a coach the chance to teach the finer points of the sport."

Wilson does not specialize entirely in track. He coached a Great Bend Ban Johnson baseball team to a first place in its league in 1954.

But even though he has time to enjoy other sports, track is still highest on his list.

At Our Discretion

K-State football Coach Bus Mertes was both pleased and concerned after his varsity whipped an alumni outfit, 26-13, Saturday.

Mertes was pleased with his team's showing and concerned about quarterback Les Krull's injury suffered in the first quarter in Saturday's contest.

"I think there's a lot of fight in this club," he said. "They did a nice job—especially after the first five minutes of the first quarter."

Krull suffered a fractured ankle in that first quarter after a hard tackle by an alum as he was pitching out to halfback Ron Beshik.

Beshik went for some 20 yards, but Krull did not get up after the play, and he was shortly carried from the field.

Krull was running as second unit quarterback at the time of the injury. He scored K-State's first touchdown from the one-foot line, and began a drive from the varsity 30-yard stripe that ended as the second varsity score.

Krull left the game with the ball resting on the alums' 30-yard line. He was taken to Student Health where an x-ray revealed the fracture. However, he should be ready to play next fall, Student Health said Saturday evening.

Mertes commented that he was well pleased with those Cat gridironers who played with the alumni, as well as those playing for the varsity.

Two undergrads playing with the alums with whom Mertes must have been especially happy were quarterback John Solmos and halfback Mike Kinsella.

Solmos did a good share of the alums' quarterbacking, and he engineered the second alumni touchdown with Kinsella scoring from four yards out. Another varsity gridiron, halfback Larry Dunham, threw the key block that cleared Kinsella's way to the score.

In the alumni dressing room after the contest, the atmosphere was one of reunion. The tired ex-Cat gridironers had come to renew old friendships and "have a little fun" playing against K-State's varsity.

Player-coach Ed Pence of the alums remarked that "K-State has the best backfield it's had in a long time. (Gene) Keady, Krull, (Ralph) Pfeifer, and (Keith) Wilson played outstanding ball against us," he said.

"It was a real good game, and I'm sure some of the younger boys on the varsity had a rude awakening to some of the things that go on in college football. They should play better next fall because of the experience they've gained in this game."

enne, Wyo. He has two more years to serve, after which he will return to the Green Bay Packers and professional football.

"The varsity looked real good," Switzer said. "They were very aggressive. That's the most downfield blocking I've seen at Kansas State."

In another corner of the room, Corky Taylor was knocking mud from his cleats. After introductions, Taylor told us that the professional game looks a lot rougher than it really is.

Taylor plans to assist in coaching the Ft. Myer, Va., service team where he is stationed, after which he will return to the Los Angeles Rams and pro football.

Taylor said that he and Switzer had "tangled a couple of times" in professional play, but added, "Joe's not the kind you want to tangle with on the football field."

KS Varsity Tops Alumni, 26-13

K-State's varsity football team tripped up a star-studded alumni outfit, 26-13, Saturday in the annual spring contest that ordinarily ends spring practice.

However, the Cats face two more workouts, since inclement weather caused postponement earlier during the training schedule.

Saturday's contest, although at times raggedly played, produced some outstanding team and individual efforts.

Les Krull, playing as second-unit varsity quarterback, scored the first touchdown of the afternoon when he slipped across the goal-line from a foot out with 7:37 remaining in the first quarter. Halfback Ben Grosse kicked the conversion to make it 7-0, varsity.

Shortly after, alumni halfback Corky Taylor gathered in a Don Zadnik kickoff and ran 103 yards for the first alumni touchdown.

Joe Switzer, a K-State all-American, threw a key block that gave Taylor a clear path to the goalline. Jim Rusher's conversion attempt missed, and the score stood at 7-6 with 7:15 left in the first period.

Soon after, Krull started the varsity on a drive from its 30-yard line that resulted in the second Cat touchdown. But Krull was not around when the score was pushed across. He left the game with a broken ankle, the ball resting on the alums' 30-yard stripe.

Halfback Ron Beshk chopped off another 10 yards, then a penalty set the varsity back to the 34 yard line. Quarterback Dick Corbin pitched a pass to end John French from that point good for the touchdown.

The conversion left the score at 14-6, and it remained there through the second and third quarters. Early in the fourth period, a pair of varsity gridders loaned to the alumni for the game helped punch across the final alum score.

from alum Art Dettmire. Sophomore quarterback John Solomos engineered the score from his own 38 yard line for the grads.

Fullback Ray Giaze clipped off 17 yards for the third varsity touchdown with 6:34 showing on the clock. Zadnik's block of a Taylor punt on the alums 23 yard line set up the play.

The final score of the contest was recorded with :40 left in the game. The drive began on the varsity 9 yard line, and ended as Keith Wilson rolled out to the left side for a 3-yard scoring run.

KS Cage Slate Shows 23 Games

K-State's 23 game 1957-58 basketball schedule will include a pair of double headers on consecutive nights, in which the Cats will be joined by Kansas' Jayhawks in games against two Pacific Coast powers.

The first double header will be Friday, December 20, at Lawrence with K-State meeting California and KU taking on Washington. The following evening, the four teams will move to Manhattan and switch opponents.

The Wildcats will play four defending conference champions and four teams from the perennially strong Big Ten conference, next season.

K-State will meet Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, and Purdue of the Big Ten. Purdue is a new opponent on the K-State schedule and the Cats will face them on December 9 on the tail end of a two-game trip into Big Ten territory. K-State plays Indiana at Bloomington two days prior to the Purdue game. The Iowa and Minnesota games will be played in Manhattan.

Conference champions K-State will meet are California of the Pacific Coast, Kansas of the Big Seven, Indiana co-champion of the Big Ten, and Texas Western of the the Border Conference.

The Cats will open their season against the only completely new opponent on the schedule, Texas Western, December 3, at Manhattan. K-State's 1957-58 basketball schedule:

Dec. 3—Texas Western at Manhattan
Dec. 7—Indiana at Bloomington
Dec. 9—Purdue at Lafayette
Dec. 14—Iowa at Manhattan
Dec. 16—Arkansas at Fayetteville
Dec. 20—Double-Header at Lawrence; K-State vs. California; Kansas vs. Washington
Dec. 21—Double-Header at Manhattan; K-State vs. Washington; Kansas vs. California
Dec. 28—Missouri at Kansas City (First-round, Big Seven Pre-Season Tournament)
Jan. 6—Minnesota at Manhattan
Jan. 11—Nebraska at Manhattan
Jan. 18—Oklahoma at Norman
Jan. 25—Iowa State at Ames
Feb. 1—Colorado at Manhattan
Feb. 3—Kansas at Lawrence

Texas Meet Missed by 8 As 2 Place

Only two of a squad of 10 K-State trackmen competed in the Texas Relays Saturday when plane trouble kept eight men in Manhattan.

The two who competed, juniors Ralph Willard and Gene O'Connor, left Thursday night with Coach Ward Haylett by train. The other trackmen were aboard the plane Friday morning when it developed engine trouble.

At Austin, O'Connor took second in the 120-yard high hurdles being beaten by 18 inches by Eddie Southern of Texas. Both men were clocked in 14.1 seconds, which is O'Connor's best time. His previous best was 14.4.

In the javelin, Wildcat Ralph Willard took third with a throw of 201 feet, five inches. This was also Willard's all-time best throw.

Coach Haylett said that for the benefit of those who did not compete in the relays Saturday, he had tentatively scheduled a dual meet with Oklahoma university this Saturday at Norman.

AS NAVIGATOR OR PILOT

The flying U. S. Air Force is a team of men who command the aircraft and men who plan the attack. These are the pilots and navigators, both equally important to the defense of America.

You, as a young man of intelligence and sound physical health, may join this select group in the world's most exciting and rewarding adventure. Your training will stand you in good stead, whatever your future plans may be—and you'll be earning over $6,000 a year 18 months after training.*

If you are between 19 and 26½ years of age, investigate your opportunities as an Aviation Cadet in the U. S. Air Force. Priority consideration is now being given to college graduates. For details, write: Aviation Cadet Information, P. O. Box 7608, Washington 4, D. C.

"What I probably like most about this job," says Tom, "is that you're never tied down to one desk and the same routine. There's always a new problem . . . a new approach needed . . . new people to meet and work with."

But first, what does a Systems Analyst do? "Briefly, we study a customer's present system—payroll, inventory control, billing or whatever—and convert it to a mechanized system using either conventional IBM business machines or IBM's high-speed electronic computers."

Tom works out of the IBM Baltimore Office with some of America's biggest companies as his customers. Graduated from Johns Hopkins in August, '55, with a B.S.I.E., he came immediately to IBM. During his training period, Tom studied IBM's Punched Card and Electronic Data Processing Machines. He learned their uses, their applications, and was instructed in the theories and methods of data processing.

Diversified Assignments

A leading aircraft company was Tom's first major assignment. "My job there," he explains, "was to analyze the application of IBM's latest electronic computer—the 705—to regulate the flow of materials and machines used to fill Government contracts."

Then came a short, but highly satisfying assignment. At the Bellwood Quartermaster Corps, Tom set up a "SOAP" system (System for Optimum Automatic Programming) de-

For the past six months, Tom has been working with the Statistical Services Division of Headquarters Air Research & Development Command. "We are designing and implementing a system to link eleven reporting centers to Headquarters by wire transmission," Tom reports. "Data transmitted to Headquarters by this system will be coordinated and then processed by an IBM 650 electronic computer."

Why Tom chose IBM

How does a senior like Tom, who was interviewed by at least twenty companies while in college, select his future employer? "In my case," Tom says, "the choice was easy. IBM offered the best opportunities. I knew IBM sales were about doubling every five years—and when I considered the tremendous growth potential of the electronic computer field—I had no trouble making up my mind."

"Besides, I was impressed by the caliber of IBM personnel. They had a broader outlook and an approach to business which I can best describe as professional.

"My future? It looks good—very good. I've already received two generous raises in less than two years, and at the rate IBM and the electronic computer field are expanding, my future is both assured—and rewarding!"

IBM hopes this message will help to give you some idea of what it's like to be a Systems Analyst in the Data Processing Division. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, I.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians, Liberal Arts majors, and Business Administration graduates in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing Engineering, Sales and Sales Assistance. Why not drop in and discuss IBM with your Placement Director? He can supply our brochure and tell you when IBM will next interview on your campus. Meanwhile, our Manager of College Relations, P. H. Bradley, will be happy to answer your questions. Just write him at IBM, Room 11904, 590 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, Tuesday, April 9, 1957

Patsy McClenahan Is AWS President

Patsy McClenahan, EEd Soph, is the new president of the women's council of the Association of Women Students.

The other new officers are Peggy Daniels, Eng Soph, first vice-president; Rosalyn Rowell, Soc Jr, second vice-president; Sally Carney, Eng Soph, third vice-president; Jean Koerner, DIM Soph, recording secretary; Kathy Schultis, HEJ Soph, corresponding secretary; and Janice Edwards, Pth Fr, treasurer.

These officers were elected last Monday and Tuesday in an election in which all the women on campus voted, and were announced and installed at the All Women's Day program last night.

Mrs. Justus Fugate, dean of women at Wichita University, talked on the subject, "What is a Woman."

Special entertainment was provided by Celia Dixon, EEd Jr, who sang two songs from the musical score of "Oklahoma"; Linnea Brown, Ar 03, who did an acrobatic dance portraying a little girl on the farm, at the big city, and finally at K-State; and Doris and Donna Geis, both PEW Sophs, who sang "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White."

Philosopher To Speak At Thursday Assembly

Mortimer J. Adler, educator and philosopher, will speak on "Liberal Education in an Industrial Democracy" at an all-College assembly Thursday.

The assembly is to promote Hospitality Day, Saturday, April 13, in the Home Economics school. The School of Home Economics will present four distinguished service awards to outstanding alumnae at the assembly, which begins at 9:30 a.m. Classes will follow the regular assembly-day schedule.

Dr. Adler is director of the Institute for Philosophical Research in San Francisco.

The four alumnae to receive service awards are Mrs. Stewart P. Rowland, Hutchinson; Helen Tracy Parsons, Madison, Wis.; Katherine A. Tucker, Topeka; and Anna Maude Smith, Oklahoma City.

These women are the second to win this award, the first being in the School of Engineering and Architecture in connection with the annual Engineering Open House last month.

Scott Honored At SC Banquet

Neil Scott, Soc Jr, was selected the outstanding member of the Student Council, at a recognition banquet given by the Student Governing association recently.

Recognition was given several other students and faculty members for outstanding service rendered during the year.

Outstanding members recognized on the Tribunal were Kirsten Peterson, EEd Soph; Leo Fritschen, Agr Gr; William Wisecup, VM Sr; Philip Warnken, Ag Soph; and Shirley Sarnes, HT Sr.

Union Governing board members receiving recognition awards were Roger Tointon, LDs Jr; John Mock EE Fr; Ray North, PrL Jr; Jim Shane, His Jr; Lee Ruggels, AE Gr; Gary Rumsey, AEd Jr; Ray Sis, VM Sr; Sharon Diamond, Soc Sr; and Keith Swenson, Ar 04.

Receiving awards as outstanding members of Student Council committee were Dwight Ben-

Student Council Approves Four Board Appointments

Appointments to four vacant positions on the Union Governing board were the top actions taken last night at Student Council meeting.

Jim Smith, VM Jr; Lynn Mchesney, Gvt Soph; Kirsten Peterson, EEd Soph, and Gerald Smith are the new Board members. These four were the top four from a list of eight names recommended by the Board.

The Council voted $100 as an entry fee for a K-State coed in the Miss Kansas Scholarship contest to be held this year in Pratt. The winner of this contest will represent Kansas in the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J. The Associated Women Students will be asked to handle the campus selection.

Changes suggested by school councils in a proposed alteration to the Student Governing association constitution were adopted by the Council.

The school councils objected to a clause which would give the Student Council power to amend the constitutions of the schools without consulting the schools.

The revised proposal now reads that the constitutions of the various schools can be amended or modified by two methods.

1. By a three-fourths vote of the total membership of the Student Council if first recommended by the school council concerned.

2. By a majority approval of the total Student Council members with a percentage concurrence as set up by each school council.

An appeal for funds from World University service was turned down by the Council on the basis that K-State had already contributed $200 from an emergency fund.

Neil Scott, Zoo Jr, reported that the primary election ran well and that an additional voting booth will be set up in the Student Union for the final election Thursday and Friday. Scott reported that plans are currently underway to set up a listening party Friday night in the Union for a running account of election returns.

Tennis Courts Not Needed To Ease Parking Problem

By MORRIS GREENWOOD

OVERHEARING A conversation in the Union concerning the relocation of the tennis courts in favor of more adequate parking, a survey was made to see how students would feel about this possible adjustment being made. The following views were given, and they speak for both sides of the problem.

● GLENN WHITE, Sp Soph—"I think they should put the courts somewhere else. I commute from Junction City, and by the time I arrive for classes, I could just as well have parked my car in Ogden and walked on in. Maybe if the courts cannot be relocated, a system of assigned parking spaces could be worked out."

● THOMAS YORK JR., Eng Jr—"I definitely think the tennis areas should be moved, and I can even suggest they be placed in the West Stadium parking lot area. In this way, maybe I won't have to leave home at six a.m. in order to get a spot in the Union lot, or along Anderson."

● KENNETH CARDWELL, SED Soph—"It's hard to say what reaction this might have on the already crowded conditions on Anderson avenue. Although I am heartily in favor of more space for parking, I am equally interested in playing tennis in a desirable location and the present area occupied by the tennis courts is among the best."

● LOREN DAVIDSON, ME Soph—"The tennis courts should not be moved. Too many people lack the fortitude to walk from the West Stadium parking lot, which is never overcrowded. What you would be doing is making it easier for a lot of them to use less of what God gave them for getting around on."

● SUE GOSS, TJ Soph—"Where you relocate the courts is the problem you have to consider first, although the need for more parking space is very definitely shown by the crowded conditions in the Union parking lot at the present time."

● RICHARD SEARLS, BPM Soph—"No, no, no! Leave my only method of escape open. I am continually using the courts for a short cut to my car, which I park on Anderson."

● RUSSELL GASTON, BA Fr—"Don't move the courts. It is just one-half the distance from the courts to the Union as it is from the West Stadium lot to the Union. Surely this small distance won't do people any harm."

● JACK MURRISON, BAA Fr—"I don't care for the idea of relocating the tennis courts. I walk to the campus every day, and it might do some of the others good to do so too."

● KENNETH OSBOURN, BAA Fr—"I like the courts where they are for their beauty, namely the girls' tennis classes."

● THORNTON EDWARDS, Director of Housing—"Eventually the tennis courts will be relocated, not in favor of more parking area, but to make way for the proposed College auditorium which they plan to locate there."

K-Staters Show Approval To College Name Change

By LOREN HENRY

THE QUESTION, "Do you think Kansas State college should change its name to Kansas State university?" is a question of long standing on the K-State campus. A spot check of students on this question revealed most students wanted the name changed to Kansas State university.

The key word in the questioning was "prestige." This word figured in both the negative and the positive answers. The argument used by the positive side was that the name "university" would bring more prestige to the institution, while the negative side said that prestige given us by tradition cannot be given us by a new name.

● PAUL HATFIELD, AED Jr—"Yes, because of the prestige attached to a university and attraction of graduate students. Of course it will take time and hard work, but I think it can be accomplished."

● BRENT ADAIR, MTc Sr—"No. The only reason people want K-State called a university is because they don't want to be connected with a 'cow college.' Why make it a 'cow university?' The prestige given us by tradition is much greater than that given by a name. A name means nothing except what is behind it."

● CHARLOTTE RILEY, Sp Soph—"Yes. It would give prestige to graduates, and possibly help in getting better teachers."

● DAN FARRELL, PrL Sr—"Yes. I think K-State is a university, so why not call it a university?"

● JOHN CRAIG, ME Fr—"No, it is the same horse no matter what the name is."

● SUE KENISON, TxC Jr—"Yes. When you think of a college you think of a small group of people, and we are no small student body."

● NANCY PAULSON, HEA Soph—"Yes. K-State will attract more students if it is called a university."

● HARRY TODD, AH Soph—"No. We have already established a name at Kansas State college. Furthermore, anyone can have a university, but not everyone can have a state college."

● CORINNE SMITH, DIM Jr—"No, because of confusion of the two universities in the state. Yes, because it would give more prestige to the institution."

● PHYLLIS LOSEKE, HT Sr—"Yes. It would make a degree mean more. We have the qualifications, why don't we recognize these qualifications?"

● SAM STRAHM, VM Soph—"Yes. We are a university in actuality, so why shouldn't we have the prestige which goes along with this standing?"

● F. L. YOUNG JR., DH Jr—"No. Kansas State college has been recognized all over the world as one of the top colleges in agriculture. If the name is changed there might be a mix up in catalogues of the two universities by people in foreign countries."

Congress for Military Aid But Not on Permanent Basis

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—Congressmen generally reacted favorably today to an administration proposal to make foreign military aid part of the defense budget.

They also favored administration hopes to put most economic aid eventually on a long-term basis.

But, Congress generally took a cooler attitude to other administration proposals to put foreign military aid on a permanent basis and make long-term loan commitments for economic aid.

Other congressional developments:

Civil Rights—Two top GOP members of the House rules committee—Reps. Leo Allen and Clarence J. Brown—predicted the House would pass the administration's civil rights bill by mid-May.

Drought—The Senate passed a baby soil bank program to encourage ranchers in the drought-stricken Southwest to withdraw parched grazing lands from use. The program is expected to cost 30 million dollars during its first two years.

Republicans—Sen. Barry Goldwater, former Senate GOP campaign committee chairman, charged the administration's record peacetime budget would subvert the national economy. He accused the President of breaking his 1952 campaign promises to economize.

Safe Landing After Trouble

Atlanta—A Capital Airlines plane landed safely with its 17 passengers and three crewmen today after circling the Atlanta Airport for several hours with landing gear trouble.

Emergency crews, including the fire department, were standing by and foam was spread on the runway in case the gear collapsed on landing and the plane had to ride to a stop on its belly.

But the gear held and the only damage was a flat tire.

Leaders Seek Nordic Unity

Helsinki, Finland—The Foreign Ministers of Finland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, and Iceland met here today to discuss Nordic unity. The meeting coincided with a series of Soviet atomic threats aimed at Denmark and Norway.

The five nations, members of the Nordic council, did not place the threats on their formal agenda but informed sources said new Soviet moves in the cold war may be the major topic of the secret discussions.

It was doubtful the five countries could reach a policy decision on the issue which they could publish in a communiqué since Sweden and Finland are "neutral" nations while the other three are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Auto Union to Up Dues

Atlantic City—The United Auto Workers union tackled the question of a dues increase for its 1,500,000 members today. Some opposition to the proposed increase was reported.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO was to address the morning session of the union's 16th constitutional convention.

The convention yesterday adopted UAW

Brothers to Trial Soon

Tehran, Iran—Pakistan handed over bandit king Dad Shah's two brothers today to face trial and possibly the firing squad for the murder of three Americans in Iran.

Indications mounted that Dad Shah, the hated and feared leader of gangsterism in Persian Baluchistan, may have cheated the executioner by killing himself.

Maj. Gen. Ali Q. Golpira, Chief of the Iranian Gendarmerie, said it was his personal opinion Dad Shah committed suicide after running out of food and water in the desolate badlands of Southeast Iran.

Doctrine Backed in Israel

Jerusalem—Premier David Ben-Gurion is applying pressure to the traditionally left-wing and anti-American members of his cabinet to accept the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine, informed sources said today.

The reports said he was threatening to fire the cabinet members if they do not come around to his way of thinking. The ministers are members of the left wing (Unity of Labor) and Mapam (United Workers) parties.

British Doctor Innocent

London—A jury of 10 men and two women today found Dr. John Bodkin Adams innocent of murdering an 81-year-old woman patient with overdoses of narcotics.

The jurors, who had listened to 16 days of evidence and judge's charge spread over two days, took only 44 minutes to absolve the 58-year-old physician from the fashionable seashore resort of Eastbourne.

The crown had accused him of murdering Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell because he thought he would get a chest of silver and a Rolls-Royce through her will.

Israel May Attack Jordan

Cairo—Egyptian sources expressed fear today in Cairo that Israel might launch a "surprise move" against Jordan.

The statement came as Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt accepted an invitation by King Hussein of Jordan to attend another Arab "summit" meeting to deal with the new threat.

There was no reply yet from Syrian President Shukri El-Kuwatly nor from Saudi Arabian King Saud who met with the Jordanian and Egyptian leaders in Cairo soon after Saud returned from Washington early this year.

Egypt has placed its troops on a full military alert, cancelled some army leaves and called a series of air raid drills in principal cities. Unconfirmed reports in Cairo said the nation may soon call up its reservists.

Recent reports have said Saudi Arabian troops were preparing to move into the Jordanian Port of Aqaba which is less than five miles from the Israeli Port of Eilat at the top of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Cats Meet Huskers In Weekend Baseball

By JAY WORKMAN

Big Seven baseball action begins for K-State when it meets Nebraska at Lincoln in a single game Friday and a double-header Saturday.

Both teams are inexperienced and will be fighting for the top spot in the second division of the conference, if preseason predictions hold true. Last year Nebraska was second in the Big Seven while K-State was last, but both are low on returning lettermen—Nebraska has eight and K-State six.

Coach Ray Wauthier's nine invade the Cornhusker ballpark with a 2-0 record, holding wins over Memphis Naval Air Station, 6-1, and Hilldale (Mich.) College, 19-3. The Cats were rained out in four games during the later part of last week's Southern road trip.

Roy DeWitz is the Wildcats top hitter to date—smacking a homerun, a triple, and two singles in nine trips to the plate. Ken Nakari has a double and three singles in eight at bats to rank second in the Cats batting column. Paul Bader has four hits in nine attempts and Ken Weatherd stands at four for eight.

Warren Polak was the winning pitcher in K-State's opening 6-1 victory, pitching six innings, giving up two hits and no runs. Mike Lair won the second game, giving up one hit in five innings. Rain halted the second tilt in the sixth inning.

Husker coach Tony Sharp will field a team that posted a 8-4 record in Big Seven play last year as opposed to K-State's 3-9.

The Wildcats lost three games to Nebraska in 1956 by scores of 4-0, 15-6, and 11-8. The Cats won their final contest against the Huskers, 19-9.

The Red Sox snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 8-7 triumph over the Pirates in 10 innings at Fort Myers.

Pro Champs May Breakup Tennis Tour

A storm appeared to be brewing in the professional tennis world today with champion Pancho Gonzales' announcement that he would like to promote "a tour of my own" instead of continuing to work for promoter Jack Kramer.

Kramer, who preceded Gonzales as world pro tennis champion, has been the world's foremost tennis promoter in recent years with almost all of the top stars appearing on his tours.

"I'd very much like to start promoting a tour of my own," said Gonzales last night at the tour's stop in Rochester, N.Y. Gonzales already has announced that he wants to quit the Kramer-promoted tour after May 26.

The dark-haired, 28-year-old Los Angeles star said his salary arrangements with Kramer on his present tour against Australian star Ken Rosewall were "satisfactory," but added, "I am still not earning as much as Kramer was when he was on tour."

Gonzales said he wanted to quit the Kramer tour for "money and personal reasons," but admitted, "There's nothing I can do until my option with Kramer is over."

Milwaukee Braves Lead Grapefruit Circuit

By UNITED PRESS

Milwaukee is out in front for the Grapefruit Circuit Championship, a title that's just a lot of fruit juice to manager Fred Haney, who would rather see his men save something for September.

The Braves couldn't beat Brooklyn last fall when it really counted, but they clinched their spring series with the Dodgers by defeating them, 8-5, at Oklahoma City, Okla., yesterday.

As matters now stand, the Braves have taken six out of eight games from Brooklyn this spring, and they lead all major league clubs with an exhibition record of 18 victories and eight defeats.

Left-hander Jack Harshman, who figures prominently in the White Sox pitching plans, gave manager Al Lopez something to smile about when he hurled seven scoreless innings in a 3-0 victory over the Cardinals at Charlotte, N.C.

Burly Bob Nieman hasn't been hitting particularly well this spring, but he snapped out of it in Dallas, Tex., to drive in five runs and lead the Orioles to a 6-4 decision over the Cubs. Nieman hit a homer with two on a single and two sacrifice flies.

The Red Sox snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 8-7 triumph over the Pirates in 10 innings at Fort Myers.

Willie Jones' two-run homer off Jack Crimian in the seventh inning powered the Phillies to a Clearwater. It marked Detroit's 6-5 decision over the Tigers at 10th loss by one run this spring.

Independents Invited by ISA To Attend Election Meeting

Students not affiliated with a Greek social organization are urged to attend the meeting of Independent Students Association at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday on the third floor of the Union.

Election of officers for the coming year will be the main purpose of the meeting, according to Don Lancaster, Sp Sr, president.

Plans for the national convention will be discussed during the evening. Students interested in attending the convention should plan to attend the ISA meeting Wednesday night, Lancaster said.

Debate

Anita Grimm, Soc Sr, and Dave Nuttle, AH Jr, leave Manhattan today to participate in a debate tournament at the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Indiana, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. About 20 other schools have been invited.

There will be six preliminary rounds of debate and the top four teams will go into the semi-finals.

ASAE

Walter L. Moden Jr., AgE Sr, has placed second in the student paper contest at the Mid-Central section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. The winning papers in the contest were announced Saturday by the chairman of the student paper committee, Dr. George H. Larson, at the Mid-Central meeting in St. Joseph, Mo. Both first and third place winners were from Iowa State college. Judges in the contest were from Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, and Nebraska.

Moden will receive a cash prize for his paper which is entitled "The Use of Strain Gauges for Draft Comparison of Two Sub-soldiers." If the paper is chosen one of the top three in the National ASAE contest, he will win an all-expense paid trip to present it at a national meeting in June.

United States

Chili was served to 75 United States Sunday at a political rally in the Canteen following the primary elections held last week.

Phil Reid, EE Soph, acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the candidates whose names will be on the general ballot. Ray North, PrL, student body president nominee, spoke to the group.

Members of the U. S. party will be guests at the Alpha Kappa Lambda social fraternity house for dancing and refreshments Friday night. Roger Day, PrV Soph, party president, will telephone results from the polls during the evening.

RCC

Keith Landis, Gvt. Jr., has been elected president of the Religious Co-ordinating council. Other officers are vice-president, Charles Hahn, BAA Jr; secretary, Rosalyn Rowell, Soc Jr; and treasurer, Lyle Clum, EE Fr.

The Rev. Roy S. Turner, Canterbury club advisor, was chosen religious advisor and Verne Sweedum, General Studies professor, faculty advisor of the RCC.

Officers will be installed April 11, according to Gary LaBarre, BPM Jr, RCC publicity chairman.

It's D-Day; Chimes 'Pealing for Dimes'

Today and tomorrow, members of Chimes will be collecting dimes from students, with the money to go into the K-State Development Fund.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, will man booths in the Union, and in front of Anderson hall and Waters hall, using as their theme, "D" Day.

The Development Fund has made possible such projects as the Student Union air conditioning, married students housing, the Chapel auditorium, and Putnam scholarships.

Through campaign mail and the alumni newsletter for the past three years, the Endowment association has made people and organizations all over the country aware of K-State's need for auxiliary aid, and now through "D" Day, Chimes is helping to acquaint students with the need.

Students will recognize the booths by the tin umbrella canopies, and the donors will be recognized by the green tags they will be given to wear after contributing to the drive.

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, will help Chimes collect the dimes. Donors' names will be placed on next year's Development Fund honor roll along with names of alumni and friends, who individually have given as much as $20,000 in one year.

Wanted: Staters To Run Collegian, RP, Directory

Applications for positions of editor and business manager on the fall and summer Collegian and the 1958 Royal Purple and for editor of the 1957 Student Directory should be submitted by April 18, according to Prof. Ralph R. Lashbrook, chairman of the Board of Student Publications.

Application blanks are available in Professor Lashbrook's office, K 205. Each one should be submitted to Professor Lashbrook with a covering letter.

Faculty Senate Elects Beck as New President

Dr. Glenn H. Beck, director of the Agricultural Experiment station, was elected president of the Faculty senate and chairman of the executive committee yesterday.

Dr. Beck will represent the School of Agriculture on the committee. Representatives from the five other schools:

W. C. Hummel, professor of English, School of Arts and Sciences; Gwendolyn L. Tinklin, associate professor of foods and nutrition, School of Home Economics; Dr. Embert Coles, assistant professor of pathology, School of Veterinary Medicine;

Roman J. Verhaalen, acting head of the Continuing Education department, Division of Extension; and Dr. Milton Raville, head of the Department of Applied Mechanics, School of Engineering and Architecture.

An extra booth will be in use in the general campus elections tomorrow and Friday, according to Neil Scott, Soc Jr, chairman of the Elections committee.

The extra booth will be placed in the Student Union.

Arts and sciences students will vote at a booth in Eisenhower; engineering and architecture students in Seaton hall; vet medicine students in Veterinary hall; agriculture students in Waters hall; and home economics students in Calvin hall. Graduate students can vote at any of the election booths.

Any student, regardless of his school, will be eligible to vote at the booth in the Union or at one to be set up in Anderson hall.

Candidates for student body president are Ray North, PrL Jr, United Staters party, and Neil Scott, Soc Jr, Integrity party.

Three vacancies on the Board of Student Publications will be up for grabs in the election.

Twenty-one positions for Student Council representative are also on the line: eight from the School of Arts and Sciences, six from the School of Engineering and Architecture, three from the School of Agriculture, two from the School of Home Economics, one from the School of Veterinary Medicine, and one from Graduate school.

Ballots, in order to be valid, must be marked with X's. All ballots improperly marked will be ruled invalid, Scott warned.

Students must submit their activity cards in order to vote, he said.

Lambda Chis Race Ahead With Chariot Relays Plans

Preparation is underway for the third annual Lambda Chi Alpha chariot relays to take place in Memorial stadium April 27 at 1:30 p.m., Dale Scott, CE Jr and publicity chairman, announced today.

A change in the bracket system of staging heats has been confirmed by Bebe Lee, director of athletics, Fritz Knorr, assistant to athletics director, and Tex Winter, head basketball coach.

In charge of this year's relays is Vash Rumph, AH Sr, and vice-president of Lambda Chi. Other committees and committee heads are Dick Streets, AED Soph, tickets;

Bob Lawrence, MTc Jr, rules; Lance Gilmore, TJ Jr, program; Bob Paschal, DM Jr, grounds; and John Steele, ME Soph, concessions.

In past years President McCain has "looked forward to the relays as being one of the largest all-school events," and Tex Winter has commended Lambda Chi for sponsoring the "worthwhile event" on campus.

Manhattan merchants donated prizes for the first chariot relays on April 23, 1955. Beta Theta Pi won at a speed of 53.4 seconds and received a trophy and a television set. Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed second and Tau Kappa Epsilon took third. Sixteen chariots entered competition.

The Sigma Chis broke the Betas' record by running the 440 yard track in 51.9 seconds last year. They received a 35-inch trophy.

As a two-time winner for the most original entry, Kasbah, men's organized house, will be looking for its third win this year. A cannon shooting a rubber ball half the length of the football field, placed first in '55. Last year Kasbah won with a decorated Model T Ford.

Applications Wanted For SC Committees

Applications are being accepted for Student Council appointments to permanent committees. Application cards for Apportionment board, Big Seven Planning conference, Homecoming, and Parents' day committees may be picked up in the Dean of Students office. All applications must be returned by Saturday noon.

The present Peace Pact committee was dissolved with a recommendation that a new committee be set up by the new Council. Student Body President Pat Wilkerson reported that Kansas university rejected all three of K-State's suggestions for a new Peace Pact trophy. The ideas will be returned for further consideration, he said in Student Council.

Council President Ron Bryant said that the idea of printing a notice on the final exam schedule about multiple exams in one day was being considered by the faculty. One change was noted that permission to reschedule finals would be granted by the student's dean instead of the instructor.

INCOMING PRESIDENT of the Faculty Senate is Glenn H. Beck, director of the Agricultural Experiment station. Beck was elected by a faculty committee composed of one member of each of the schools. The president of the Faculty Senate holds office for one year.

SC Committee Naps, Ducat Dispute Sleeps

A FEW WEEKS ago the whole campus was up in arms about what we term "the activity card situation." At the request of President McCain, the Student Council set up a committee to study the activity ticket controversy and make changes for next year.

The committee was set up, met with the Athletics council a few times and did absolutely nothing. It may be all right to let the situation go unchanged now because there are no more major athletic events scheduled this year. But come time for the K-State-KU basketball game here next year, everyone is going to cry, "Why wasn't something done last year about this?"

THE STUDENT COUNCIL is tactfully evading the situation. But why shouldn't they. This time next year there will be a new Council and they can wrestle with the problem. Oh, well, why should I worry, I won't be here, but it looks like someone would be interested enough after all of the previous yelling to want something done.—Jane Moore

Anti-Communist Movie Flops; Information Agency Subsidized

By UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON—A House appropriations subcommittee disclosed today the United States Information agency secretly spent $100,000 subsidizing a commercial anti-Communist movie generally for American consumption.

A top official of the propaganda agency told the subcommittee the movie turned out to be a box office flop when shown in 1953. He said that unfortunately was the history of such films.

Closed-door testimony made public by the subcommittee today showed that the agency flatly refuses to disclose the name of the film or where it is being shown now. But the testimony indicated that a foreign language version now is being produced—without help this time for the taxpayers.

THE SUBSIDIZATION of the movie was disclosed in subcommittee questioning regarding USIA's request for 140 million dollars to finance its international propaganda and news operations in the next fiscal year.

That would be a 27 million dollar increase over its current budget. The agency also wants an extra 4 million dollars to build a powerful new radio transmitter.

Other highlights of the closed-door testimony:

Subcommittee members also questioned whether the USIA wire service, operated last year at a cost of $1,280,000, duplicates commercial news services like the United Press. Officials said it does not. The service goes to about 10,000 publications, organizations, and officials.

THE AGENCY is stepping up its radio broadcasts, known as the Voice of America. Instead of the $16,849,479 it got this year it wants $27,387,767. A new land-based transmitter would be built "in the Greek area" to replace the shipborne transmitter, "Courier," which has been tied up off the Island of Rhodes for the past four years.

Negro band leader Dizzy Gillespie for several months last year received for an overseas culture tour a government-guaranteed salary higher than President Eisenhower's. Gillespie was paid $2,150 a week—about $150 a week more than the president.

Readers' Forum

Dear Editor:

It occurs to me that Pogo's canal project is the best thing ever conceived by man. Just avoid the Indian ocean and hit dry land. Cargo can be shipped from one end of the earth to the other in 42 minutes flat. (Give or take a few decimal places either way, because my cheap EE slide rule won't give me the decimal place.)

One simply drops the cargo in at one end, and after falling 8,000 miles through the earth, it will come to a dead stop, whereupon, it is snatched before it falls down the hole again. What other methods can top this? I hereby announce my intentions to sell stock.

PS The deacon says that air friction will slow it down, and, furthermore, it's very hot in the center of the earth. (Is the deacon a mechanical engineer or a geologist?) If he thinks he's so hot, I'll hire him to install a vacuum pump and an air conditioner inside my canal and sell stock for 30% less.

PPPS The deacon informs me that I hadn't taken into account the Coriolis effect and besides my calculations are wrong. (Who does he think he is, a physicist and a mathematician too?) Fortunately, the problem is an easy one. I'll dig from the North pole to the South and sell my stocks for 60% less.

PPPPS I now find out that it would be illegal for me to sell stocks. (Et tu, Bus Ad. and Law Dep'ts?) Well, I can interest the U.S. Government and we'll all have the satisfaction of knowing that our taxes will be well spent.

Good Student Politics Requires Two Parties

INTEGRITY PARTY PRESIDENT Warren Keegan leans back and takes it easy before the SGA general elections get underway tomorrow.

By DICK HAINES

"STUDENTS LEARN THE value of experience by working in campus politics," according to Warren Keegan, Ec Sr, president of the Integrity party and the Collegian's Personality of the Week.

"I am glad we have a two-party political system operating on the campus. I feel it is healthy for campus politics."

Asked what he felt the primary objective of the Integrity party is he said: "It is designed to make student government as democratic as possible." The Integrity party was founded by an independent student, he pointed out.

CHANGING THE NAME of Kansas State college to Kansas State university was Warren's idea. He first proposed the idea at a meeting of the SGA general assembly last Spring.

"The name change depends upon the number of students who are in favor of the idea," he said.

Warren is also vice-president of the Young Republicans club but he's interested in other activities besides campus politics. He is chairman of the Banquet committee for Greek Week. Recently he was elected chairman of the board of directors of Campus Industries. He is a member of Scabbard and Blade Society, Army ROTC cadet officers organization.

Warren is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He was a representative on the Interfraternity council last year. His home is in Junction City.

Van Horn Elected President Of Agriculture Association

Jack Van Horn, Ag Jr., was elected president of the Agricultural association at the Agricultural seminar recently. Other officers are Paul Hatfield, AEd Jr., vice-president; R. B. Billiar, FT Jr., secretary; Bryan Barr, AH Soph., treasurer; Paul Faidley, AEd Jr., Ag Week manager; and Jim Beauchamp, TA Soph., assistant Ag Week manager.

An amendment to have presidents of the departmental clubs and the Ag Week manager on the Agricultural Council was added to the constitution. The Kansas Agricultural Student magazine editor was dropped from the council.

Other amendments said the assistant manager of Ag Week would automatically be declared Ag Week manager for the following year, and allowed the Ag council to elect a new Ag Week manager if the office becomes vacant during the year.

A fourth amendment listed two ways the constitution could be amended. One is by a three-fourths vote of the total membership of the Student Council. Majority vote of the Student Council with a three-fourths vote of the members of the Agricultural association was the other method.

Israel Fears Talks On Suez Will Fail

By KEITH KEMPER

Jerusalem, Israel—Israel fears the current American-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez canal will fail and plans to ask France to intercede in the UN Security Council if they do, informed sources said today.

France, which has had increasingly closer relations with Israel since last fall's Suez canal invasion, will be asked specifically to bring up Egyptian threats to sink any Israeli ship trying to use the Suez canal, the sources said.

Israeli plans for an appeal to the Security Council coincided with another series of minor border incidents between Israel and Jordan and Syria and accusations by Egypt that Israel was planning some new move of aggression in the Middle East.

Spring Grid Workouts End

K-State's football team wound up spring football drills Tuesday night with a practice session that Coach Bus Mertes termed a "real good workout."

"Except for the weather, the coaches and I are very well pleased with spring workouts," Mertes said. "All the boys we figured on came through for us, and we found a few new boys who will help us, like guard Jack Hazlett and tackle Harold Reichers."

Mertes said the size of the squad that finished the spring session was about 49 men and that they will all be invited out again when fall practice starts September 1.

Mertes said he was hopeful injured guards Rudy Bletscher and Don Martin would return. He added that he believed Martin had a better chance of playing again than did Bletscher.

At practice last night, the coaches stressed to the players the importance of practicing their offensive and defensive fundamentals and conditioning during the off season.

"It is most important that the boys are ready next fall—we face one of our toughest schedules," Mertes said.

Four of K-State's better gymnasts will compete in the Southern Invitational Championships Saturday at Northwestern Louisiana State college in Natchitoches, La., Coach Frank Thompson said yesterday.

"We won't take all the team. We will be working more towards winning individual titles," Thompson said.

Wildcats who will make the trip are Richard Rood, the team's high point man so far this season, Bob Gramzow, Merle Schneck, and Jerry Johnson.

The team's co-captains, Wendell Menckley and Allen Olsen, will not be able to make the trip because of a heavy study schedule.

Thompson describes the Southern Invitational as the biggest meet in the South.

Baylor university, Texas A&M, Texas university, and Houston university of the Southwest conference are included in the nine-team field. In addition, Louisiana State university, Louisiana State college, and Southern Illinois university are entered.

The host team, Northwest Louisiana, is expected to take the team title by virtue of its depth and all-around team strength with Texas university making a strong bid for the crown.

Cincinnati Wins Over Senators In Training Tilt

By UNITED PRESS

Warren Hacker, who was plagued by the home run ball for many years, is discovering why Cincinnati Redlegs pitchers call it their best friend.

Hacker chalked up his fourth victory of the grapefruit league campaign yesterday when the Redlegs unleashed a barrage of six homers to beat the Washington Senators, 9-7.

The National league champion Brooklyn Dodgers snapped a four-game losing streak by whipping the Milwaukee Braves, 5-4.

Al Worthington and Joe Marineron collaborated in a five-hitter as the New York Giants downed the Cleveland Indians, 4-2.

Cal Neeman, a rookie who hopes for the Chicago Cubs' regular catching job, drove in four runs with a homer and two doubles in an 8-3 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Chicago White Sox collected only five hits but drew 14 walks to take a 6-5 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Andy Carey bopped an eighth-inning homer that enabled the New York Yankees to beat Jacksonville of the Sally league, 5-4.

George Brunet and Ken Johnson, optioned by Kansas City only this week, pitched seven-hit ball as the Little Rock Travelers embarrassed the parent Athletics, 5-4.

ONLY HURTS WHEN I LAUGH
After effects of Saturday's varsity-alumni football game showed today in Student Health as Larry Dunham, who suffered a broken foot, points to the cast on Les Krull's broken ankle. Krull, a sophomore quarterback for the varsity, was taken directly from the game to the hospital in an ambulance. But Dunham, a freshman playing with the alumni, didn't discover the break until he felt a "pain" when marching in ROTC drill yesterday.

Boston Needs a Win To Cinch NBA Title

By UNITED PRESS

The Boston Celtics were a confident lot today as they headed west to meet the St. Louis Hawks, needing just one more win to clinch their first National Basketball association championship.

A victory for the Celtics tomorrow night in the sixth game of the NBA title series would give Boston its first league crown in 11 years.

Bill Sharman echoed the feeling of the club when he said, "we've got their backs against the wall now and we can win the whole thing if we play out usual steady game."

However, St. Louis Coach Alex Hannum promised, "this is going to be a dog fight right down to the wire." And knowing the fighting quality of the Hawks, the Celtics mixed caution with optimism.

The caution stemmed from the knowledge that the Hawks came out of virtually no place to win the Western division championship.

The optimism came from the comforting thought that a seventh game, if necessary, would be played in Boston Saturday afternoon.

If the Celtics were as hot as Sharman was last night, that contest would not be needed. He poured in 32 points, 20 during Boston's second-half surge, to give the Celtics a 124-109 victory here, and a 3-2 edge in the playoffs.

Sharman had brilliant assistance from former Holy Cross stars, Bob Cousy and rookie Tommy Heinsohn.

Intramural Softball Begins Today

Intramural softball competition will begin today, according to Frank L. Myers, director of intramural athletics.

Starting at 4:15 p.m., Beta Theta Pi will play Pi Kappa Alpha in the southwest corner of the park; Sigma Chi will play Lambda Chi Alpha in the northwest corner of the park; Sigma Phi Epsilon will play Delta Sigma Phi on the west half of the military field; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will play Phi Kappa Tau on the east half of the military field.

Games at 5:15 will pit Alpha Kappa Lambda against Phi Delta Theta in the southwest corner of the park; Phi Kappa against Kappa Sigma in the northwest corner of the park; Theta Xi against Acacia on the west half of the military field; and Alpha Tau Omega against Beta Sigma Psi on the east half of the military field.

DISK JOCKEY Bill Cole, Sp Jr., appears as he is ready for a station break on one of his record programs on local radio station KSDB-FM.

Bill Cole Fulfills Ambition To Be Evening Disc Jockey

By JANE FRANZ

"I was riding around in my car one spring evening, listening to the radio, when it dawned on me all of a sudden that I wanted to be a disc jockey for a late evening record show," said Bill Cole, Sp Jr., who has two shows on KSDB-FM each week and is also talent director.

"At that time I was planning on being a chemical engineer, but the disk jockey idea sounded much better to me, because I have always been lazy at heart. To me, spinning records sounded like easy work and a lot of fun," recalled Bill.

"Since then I have found out that it isn't as easy as I thought it'd be. There is a lot more to being a disk jockey than just sitting down in a soft comfortable chair and spinning records," he said.

"In fact, the first semester of my freshman year I thought I'd better switch to another field, because my future looked pretty dim at that time, especially after listening to my voice tape recorded," Bill added.

However Bill stuck it out, and with more experience as an announcer, he decided that with a lot of luck and hard work, he could develop his ambition to become a disc jockey.

This semester Bill has two "DJ" programs—the "House of Notes," which can be heard from 9:15 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. Wednesdays, and "Random Rhythms," which is broadcast every Saturday from 2 to 3 p.m.

"It takes me about an hour to plan a program and I never get around to planning it until right before it goes on the air," Bill said.

When asked about his college activities, Bill said he was a member of Alpha Epsilon Rho, radio honorary, and then he added, "Well, I'm president of the Rationalizers club, but there are only two members—my roommate and myself. When we don't feel like studying, which is pretty often, we call a meeting and rationalize ourselves into going to a movie," Bill said.

Bill has worked one summer for a radio station in Colby, his home. "I did about everything while working for them except sweep the floors," he said.

When Bill graduates he hopes to work for a small radio station doing all types of announcing.

Student Health Runs Low on Polio Vaccine

"The supply of polio vaccine is getting low and we are giving shots only to persons who need their first or second shot," Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health, said. "At present we are not giving anyone their third shot, because of the shortage."

"There is a tremendous demand for the vaccine all over the country and the drug companies are unable to meet the need at present. However, the companies have stepped up the production of vaccine, and will probably get caught up before the approach of summer," Lafene explained.

"Last year when there was more than enough to meet the demand. People did not take advantage of it, which caused the companies to slow down their output," he added.

RCC To Sponsor Holy Week Events

A sunrise worship service, an all-College assembly, and a Jewish Seder meal will be some of the highlights of the Holy week program to be sponsored by the Religious Coordinating council beginning this Sunday.

The United Student Christian council will conduct a sunrise worship service, which will be on Bluemont hill April 14 at 5:45 a.m. The worship service will be followed by breakfast.

A play, "The Summoning of Everyman," directed by Don Hermes, assistant speech professor, with original music by Professor Thomas Steunenberg of the Music department, will be presented at the all-College assembly Wednesday, April 17.

An ancient Hebrew tradition will be carried out in the Jewish Seder meal which will be sponsored and conducted by the members of the B'nai B'rith Hillel foundation Wednesday, April 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Other features of the Holy week program will be worship services in the All Faith Memorial chapel at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 15, and at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 16.

"The Meaning of Holy" will be the topic of a speech by Bishop Goodrich R. Fenner of Topeka at the Tuesday night worship service which will be sponsored by the Canterbury association. The Rev. Roy Turner, Canterbury chaplain, will read the service which will be directed toward an understanding of the meaning of Holy week.

Devotional services will be presented by various organizations in Danforth chapel before 8 a.m. each morning of Holy Week.

Adler Talks on Education

"That the most serious problem we face in this country today is the problem of setting up the first time in the history of the world a true democratic system of education," was the thesis set forth by Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, director of the Institute for Philosophical Research, at this morning's all-College assembly.

Dr. Adler said that education in the world today is not democratic, as we like to think of it, but that it is actually anti-democratic.

He contrasted education as it existed in the pre-industrial aristocracies with the past with what education is and should be in the new industrial democracy of today.

"The real substance of a liberal education is the art of learning and we need to plan our educational program, according to Dr. Adler. He advocates: (1) the same kind of education for all, and (2) a type of liberal education which is preparation for the democratic freedom.

He took into account differing intellectual capacities of students with a plea to "Give each child the opportunity to be filled to the brim of his capacities."

Student Directed Plays Set For Players' Presentation

Players Studio of the K-State Players made last minute preparations for presentation of three student-directed plays at dress rehearsal in Holton hall last night. The plays will be presented in Holton hall today and tomorrow at 8:15 p.m.

Herman Zillmer, Sp Gr, directs Reynald Rose's play, "Crime in the Streets," a television play adopted for the stage by K-State Players.

Making his first appearance in a college play, Bob Lincoln, PrV Fr, plays the role of the antagonist Frankie, and says, "I have the part of a boy who was brought up in the slums, and am untouchable. The play is filled with emotion, and in the end I make a turn for the best."

"The Pot Boiler," Alice Gersenberg's comedy satire on play production, is directed by Dennis Darner, Sp Sr, "The play within a play takes place at a rehearsal only a few days before it is to be presented. Everyone is upset because Jim Hollis, Sp Sr, as Sud, has not written the end."

In "The Unsatisfactory Supper" by Tennessee Williams, Clenece Roberts, Sp Fr, has the character lead. "I am a very eccentric old lady and feel that I am losing my last home. In the play I have a deep faith in Jesus, and it ends in a dramatic, playful mood." Gene Olander, EE Fr, as Archie Lee plays a crude individual who feels that his Aunt Rose has out-stayed her welcome. And his wife, Babydoll, played by Linda Stout, Sp Fr, isn't like the baby doll in the movies.

Election Polls Open; Scott, North To Vie

Polls for the general election will be open today and tomorrow for student body president, positions on the Board of Student Publications, and Student Council representatives for the coming year.

Ray North, PrL Jr., of the United States party and Neil Scott, Soc Jr., of the Integrity party vie for the student body president position.

North makes his home in Coffeyville and maintains a 1.8 grade average in his pre-law work.

He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho debate honorary, Chancery club, Union Governing board, and Collegiate Young Republicans. He received an award of recognition while serving on the UGB.

North is chairman of the Greek week rush program for fraternities and a member of varsity debate team.

Scott makes his home at Rozel and maintains a 2.0 grade average in his studies in sociology.

For the past year Scott has served as vice-chairman of Student Council, and he received the award for being the outstanding member of Student Council. He Kansas State college students are discussing the impact of labor-management relations on the industrialization of an agricultural economy at the 1957 Industrial Relations conference which began this morning in the Student Union.

Featured speaker this year is Dr. Stefan H. Robock, manager of the economics division of the Midwest Research Institute, Kansas City, who will address the evening banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Union ballroom. His topic is "Industrialization of an Agricultural Economy."

A representative of management, Robert A. Finney, general manager of the Humboldt Brick and Tile company of Humboldt, and a representative of the International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, Wichita, will speak to the conference in the afternoon.

The annual conference is held to give K-State students interested in labor-management relations a better understanding of problems in this area. Around 500 K-State students are expected to participate in the daytime sessions of the conference.

Tickets for the banquet are being sold on campus by Alpha Kappa Psi, the Society for the Advancement of Management, and by the Department of Economics and Sociology.

Union's Dances To End Friday At Last Chance

Students . . . this will be your last chance to go to a dance in the Student Union. "Last Chance Dance," will be held this Friday in the main ballroom from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Novelty tickets will be sold for the dance. Students will be charged 75 cents if they are just dating. If students are going steady it will cost 70 cents (provided a fraternity necklace or men's jewelry can be shown); 65 cents if they are pinned (pin must be showing); 60 cents if they are engaged (engagement ring needed); and only 55 cents if they are married. (wedding ring in sight). If this is the "first date" it will cost $5.

Republicans Fear Democrats Will Launch Early Tax Battle

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—Key Republicans concluded today that House Democrats are playing a waiting game before springing a tax drive later this year.

They said the Democrats already have decided to launch the drive despite Democratic assertions they would wait for the present to see if two conditions are met—that federal revenues hold up sufficiently and that Congress cuts enough from President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget of nearly 72 billion dollars.

Other Congressional developments:

Loan—The House approved a bill to allow Britain to postpone up to seven of the annual payments on its $4,372,000,000 debt to the United States.

No Showdown Expected in Jordan

Jerusalem—Western diplomats returning here from Jordan said today any sign of trouble brewing in the neighboring kingdom of Jordan was "essentially of an underground nature."

The diplomats said there were no indications of an imminent military showdown between pro-Soviet and anti-Soviet troops in Jordan.

One highly-placed American source told the United Press there were no heavy deployments of Iraq Saudi-Arabia, or Syrian troops as reported in press dispatches to the United States.

Budget Director Shorts Post Office

Washington—President Eisenhower's budget director has admitted he helped bring on the post office department's present money crisis because he didn't understand part of the federal bookkeeping system.

Budget Director Percival F. Brundage told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently that

Quotes from the News

Washington—Democratic Sen. Richard L. Neuberger defending to his Oregon constituents the purchase of helicopters for the president's use: "Do people expect Mr. Eisenhower to take a trolley car when he decides to play a round of golf?"

Washington—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in testimony before a House appropriations committee made public last night:

"I think the only serious danger of war with the Soviet Union is a war which might come about through a miscalculation on their part. I think if we make our own position clear in advance so as to exclude that risk of miscalculation, then we will do away with the greatest risk of war."

Washington—Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo, after saying he does not intend to run for the Philippine presidency and presently sees no need that he run:

"If there is a real need for somebody to carry on with the Magsaysay traditions and see to it that his love for the masses and his leadership of the people for democracy should continue . . . I will not shirk my duty to my people and my country."

Beck May Hold Meeting Next Week

Houston, Texas—Teamster boss Dave Beck and 12 of his top aides were reported today as planning to hold a top-level strategy meeting in the Houston-Galveston area next week.

The meeting, it was reported, will be held Monday and Tuesday in a hotel in either Houston or Galveston. Reservations reportedly were made at a hotel for Teamsters executive board members.

A canvas of leading hotels in Houston and Galveston failed to turn up the reservations.

The meeting was reported to have one principal purpose—to decide if Beck will defend himself against a barrage of charges hurled at him by AFL-CIO brass and a Senate Investigating committee.

The meeting will be "top secret," the report said.

Death Toll Down on Kansas Highways

Topeka—The deaths of a 22-month-old girl and a 77-year-old McPherson widow today sent Kansas' highway death toll soaring to 138 for the year.

The Highway Patrol said little Patsy Ann West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert West of Redfield, became the 22nd traffic victim in April and a 77-year-old McPherson widow, Mrs. Kate Schlatter, died yesterday in a two-car collision four miles north of McPherson on Route 81.

There were 161 traffic fatalities at this time in a record death year last year, and 137 in 1955.

Gas Poisoning Sends 39 to Hospital

Ellwood City, Pa.—A chlorine tank car parked at a chemical plant in nearby Frisco sprung a leak early today sending green clouds of deadly gas billowing over a mile-square area.

Thirty-nine persons were treated for gas poisoning at Ellwood City hospital. A score of other residents jammed Ellwood City physicians' offices.

Interviewed Staters Say

Union Needs Book Store

By TERRY KNOWLES

NINETY PER CENT of the K-State students interviewed said they would like to see some changes made in the Student Union when asked if they were satisfied with the present operation of the Union.

In citing the changes that most of the students desired, many of the students interviewed said a book store in the Union would be a big aid to K-Staters. Several pointed to the book store in KU's Union as a successful example.

A number of suggested changes were aimed at the present Union policy of not cashing checks over $5. The students felt the sum should be raised to either $10 or $15.

FOLLOWING ARE a few of the replies to the question, Are you satisfied with the present condition and facilities of the Student Union.

● GARY GRUENDEL, IE Fr—"No. A book store should be installed in the Union in order to make it easier for students to obtain books and supplies."

● STEVE LESTER, Ec Fr—"No. I would like to see the week end movies improve and I believe there shouldn't be a charge for the movies since the students already pay a Student Union fee."

● JIM GRIER, CE Soph—"The Student Union definitely needs a book store and there should be a snack bar in the Dive."

● DAN KERSHAW, TJ Fr—"Yes, I am satisfied with the facilities of the Union but I believe that they could have a little better service during rush hours."

● HOMER KRUCKENBERG, Ec Fr—"No. The Union needs a book store and a book exchange."

● STAN PETERSON, Ag Soph—"I believe the Union should be able to cash bigger checks than $5. They should be able to handle $10 or $15 checks."

● JERRY HARRIS, AH Jr—"Definitely not. The Union should be able to afford better service in the state room. Also, the Union tries to run too many campus activities."

● BILL SINDERSON, BAA Sr—"The Dive should be more private with a partition separating the card room from the dancing area."

● CHARLES McCABE, BPM Fr—"No. A book store should be installed along with more area in the state room. The state room should extend farther into the cafeteria."

Students Regret 'Cow College' Nickname for K-State As They Keep Trampling 'Cowpaths' in Campus Lawn

THOSE AREN'T SIDEWALKS! A spiderwork pattern of paths weaves its way like spokes of a wheel across the Anderson front lawn, where students, too lazy or careless to walk around, continually trample the little grass that is there into the dirt. In this aerial photo, a few individuals can be seen walking across the Anderson lawn, not even following the paths. Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, plans to erect signs very soon to remedy this situation.

By JACKIE DuMARS

"K-State's campus looks like a pasture and the students use it like one, only they use it in one spot—like sheep," Thomas B. Shackleford, landscape architect, says.

However, the students cannot be held totally responsible, Shackleford says, "for until we get some good grass and a decent appearing lawn, students will not have enough pride and interest in their campus to try keeping it looking nice."

With Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and Alpha Phi Omega, scouting fraternity, planning campus beautification, Shackleford feels that the problem of students walking on the grass will be partially solved. He thinks the students, walking like sheep now across the grass, will then develop such a code of ethics that the person caught making cowpaths will be made the "black sheep."

There is no exact date yet when Mortar Board and Alpha Phi Omega will start this program, but Shackleford feels that when the campus is put in good shape with flagstones and new grass, students will develop pride in it and keep it in good shape.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

FOOTPRINTS IN the sands of time? No, these footprints across the lawn west of Fairchild are in the grass at K-State. Students cut across instead of using sidewalks, and then cut across instead of using the paths that have cut across (above). A lone tree, planted in the rear of the Union, symbolizes the effort of the landscape architect to keep the campus presentable. Nature has a lot of power and can fight man in many ways, but small blades of grass have no defense. Unless, of course, you get hit by lightning while cutting across those blades. "Maybe that would do some good," one observer commented (right).

IN 1955, Mortar Board began a "Take a Walk" campaign, putting signs in most of the more prominent paths across the green grass. The project became unsuccessful as their foot-shaped signs (above) became favorite decorations of various rooms of students who thought they were unique, and who decided to "Take a Walk" across the same ol' path.

Tours, Exhibits Planned For Arts-Sciences Days

Further plans for Arts and Sciences Days, scheduled for May 3 and 4, were completed at a recent meeting of Arts and Sciences council.

Three students were elected to fill vacancies on the board. Those chosen were Kay Miller, Chm Soph; Lee Teaford, BAA Soph; and Pete Lindsay, BAA Soph.

The program scheduled all day Saturday, May 4, will begin at a general assembly at 9 a.m. with speeches by Dean John C. Weaver, School of Arts and Sciences, and Chuck Wingart, president of the Council.

On the tentative schedule are displays in the main lobby of the Union by the English and Education departments, an art display in the art gallery and main lounge, a style show in the main lounge, an exhibit by the Department of Social Sciences in the walnut dining room, and displays on the second floor by the Air Science, Military Science, Physical Science, Bacteriology, and Speech departments.

Tours will be sponsored by the Radio-Television, Zoology, Technical Journalism, and Physical Education departments.

K-State Wins, 14-0 In Baseball Game

K-State's baseball team trounced Fort Riley's Vanguards in a practice game yesterday, 14-0, to give the Cats a record of 2-0 in both practice and regularly scheduled games.

The Wildcat nine won a Tuesday practice contest, 5-3, over Division Artillery, on the strength of a bases-loaded home run by outfielder Paul Bader, followed by a homer by first baseman Wally Carlson.

Yesterday the Cats opened with five runs on three hits in the first inning and followed with a run in the second, three in the third, two in the fourth, and three in the fifth—in the six inning tilt. Top hitter was Bader with three singles in five trips to the plate. Outfielder Bob Boyd and second baseman Ken Rafferty followed with a pair of singles apiece. Ken Nakari got the lone extra-base hit of the game with a two-bagger.

Last week, in regularly scheduled games, the Cats won the first two games of a four-game Southern road trip and were rained out of the other two.

By UNITED PRESS

College football fans, who take their action in the comfort of their homes via television, can look forward to an attractive program next fall which includes such top-flight games as Oklahoma-Notre Dame and Army-Navy.

The complete schedule:

Softball Starts With 7 Games In Intramurals

Intramural softball competition began yesterday afternoon with seven games being played—all in the fraternity division.

Sigma Chi whipped Lambda Chi Alpha, 10-2; Pi Kappa Alpha beat Beta Theta Pi, 10-6; Sigma Phi Epsilon took Delta Sigma Phi, 5-1; Sigma Alpha Epsilon nosed Phi Kappa Tau, 5-4; Phi Kappa outslugged Kappa Sigma, 12-7; Theta Xi whipped Acacia, 9-2; and Phi Delta Theta tied Alpha Kappa Lambda, 8-8. That game was called at end of the time limit.

A scheduled game between Alpha Tau Omega and Beta Sigma Psi was postponed due to the appearance of the ATO Y-Orpheum skit on television last night.

Five independent and four fraternity games are scheduled this afternoon.

The schedule: 4:15—Tau Kappa Epsilon-Delta Tau Delta, southwest city park; Delta Upsilon-Farm House, northwest city park; Wesley Foundation-House of Breck, west military field; and YMCA-House of Williams, east military field.

Tribe Triumphs In Spring Tilt

By UNITED PRESS

Herb Score, Cleveland Indians' left-handed flamethrower, is ready to start shooting for a third major-league strikeout crown on opening day, if the Indians let him.

Showing no bad effects from the swollen knee that has bothered him during spring training, the 23-year-old 20-game winner showed regular-season form last night as he pitched seven shutout innings and fanned seven batters in a 4-1 triumph over the Giants at Miami.

Score's brilliant effort came just in time to assure new Tribe manager Kerby Farrell of a fit opening day pitcher.

Don Drysdale became the first Brooklyn Pitcher to go nine innings as he blanked the Milwaukee Braves, 5-0, on four hits while fanning five.

Homers by Ted Williams and Dick Gernert paced the Red Sox to a 6-3 win over the Phillies; Bill Virdon of the Pirates boosted his spring batting mark to .420 with three hits in a 3-2, 10-inning win over Detroit; homers by Sherm Lollar, Ron Northey, and Larry Doby led the White Sox to a 9-7 win over the Cardinals.

Ex-Yankee Rip Coleman yielded just one run in seven innings for Kansas City in a 4-2 win over Little Rock; Bob Rush, the Cubs' opening-game pitcher, was rapped for 11 hits in six innings in a 7-3 loss to Baltimore; and Cincinnati took a 6-2 victory over Washington.

Letters To Be Given To Eighteen Athletes

Nine wrestlers and nine swimmers have been recommended to receive varsity letters at K-State for the 1956-57 season, according to H. B. (Bebe) Lee, K-State director of athletics.

Kansas State revived swimming as a varsity sport last season for the first time since 1948.

VIDEOT'S DELIGHT

The academic world has made its first tentative steps into television. A few lectures, a few seminars, but may I respectfully suggest that the academic world has not yet learned the full potential of television?

Why don't the colleges use television's vast capacity to dramatize, to amuse, to unshackle the imagination? Like, for example, this:

ANNOUNCER: Howdy, folks. Well, it's time again for that lovable, laughable pair, Emmett Twonkey Magruder, Ph.D., and Felicia May Crimscott, M.A., in that rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101. . . . And here they are, the team that took the "hiss" out of "history"—Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott!

"A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate."

DR. MAGRUDER: Howdy, folks. A funny thing happened to me on the way to my doctorate. A mendicant approached me and said, "Excuse me, sir, will you give me 25 cents for a sandwich?" I replied, "Perhaps I will, my good man. Let me see the sandwich."

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh, how droll, Dr. Magruder! How piquant! How je ne sais quoi! . . . But enough of badoing. Let us get on—with our rollicking, roistering fun show, American History 101.

DR. MAGRUDER: Today we will dramatize the taut and tingling story of John Smith and Pocahontas. I will play Captain Smith and Miss Crimscott will play Pocahontas.

ANNOUNCER: But first a message from our sponsor. . . . Folks, have you tried a Philip Morris lately? Have you treated yourself to that good natural tobacco—zestful yet mild, hearty yet gentle, rich yet dulcet? Hmmm? Have you? . . . If not, light a Philip Morris soon. Light either end. . . . And now to our grim and gripping story. Picture, if you will, a still summer night. An Indian maid stands by a moonlit brook. Suddenly she hears a footstep behind her. She turns . . .

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Oh! John Smith! You-um startle-um me-um!

DR. MAGRUDER: Hello, Pocahontas. What are you doing down by the brook?

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Just washing out a few scalps. But what-um you-um want-um?

DR. MAGRUDER: I came to see the Chief.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: You-um can't-um. Chief is leaving for Chicago.

DR. MAGRUDER: On what track?

ANNOUNCER: And speaking of tracks, stay on the right track with Philip Morris—the track that heads straight for smoking pleasure, for fun, for frolic, for sweet content. . . . And now back to those two cool cats, Emmett Twonkey Magruder and Felicia May Crimscott.

DR. MAGRUDER: Well, folks, that's all for today. See you next week, same time, same station.

MISS CRIMSCOTT: Stay tuned now for "William Cullen Bryant: Girl Intern."

ANNOUNCER: And remember, folks, each end of Philip Morris is ignitable. It's just good, rich, natural tobacco, any way you light it!

Any way you light it, it's great. Any way you like it—long size or regular—we've got it. Natural Philip Morris! Made by the people who bring you this column.

K-Staters Take Third Place In National Bridge Tourney

Kansas State placed third in the 1957 Intercollegiate Bridge tournament, according to Prof. Tom Parker, adviser.

Chi-sen Lai, CE Gr., and Tsu-Liuh Lee, placed first in their division.

Kathy Horridge, PEW Soph., and Connie Benjamine, HEN Soph., won fifth place in their division.

Daniel Lee, McT Sr., and Chung Y. Wang, EE Gr., had the best scores in competition on the K-State campus only.

More than 2,000 students at 103 colleges and universities in the United States and the District of Columbia took part in the tournament.

Aeronautical Science Institute
The Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences will meet today at 4 p.m. in room 107 of Seaton Hall. Dr. Milton Raville will speak on sandwich honeycomb materials.

K-Club
All those who have earned a K-State letter in a varsity sport and want to join K-Club are invited to attend the meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the K-room.

Initiation will be held for those eligible. The initiation fee is $2. Election of new officers and plans for the annual spring picnic are on the agenda.

Marketing Class Field Trip

Members of the marketing farm products class will leave this weekend for Kansas City, Mo., to get first hand information on marketing functions. Tours of the stock yards, the Board of Trade, and the Mid-west Wool cooperative are planned.

Alpha Zeta Award

Arnold P. Appleby, AEd, Sr., is winner of a $300 national Alpha Zeta memorial award for an outstanding student planning graduate at work in agriculture.

Appleby will use the award to work toward a master's degree in agronomy at K-State next year.

Alpha Zeta, scholastic honorary in agriculture, offers four scholarships annually to members of its chapters throughout the nation. The award won by Appleby is one of three known as the "Burkett-Cunningham - Dennis" scholarships, in honor of three men who gave notable service to Alpha Zeta.

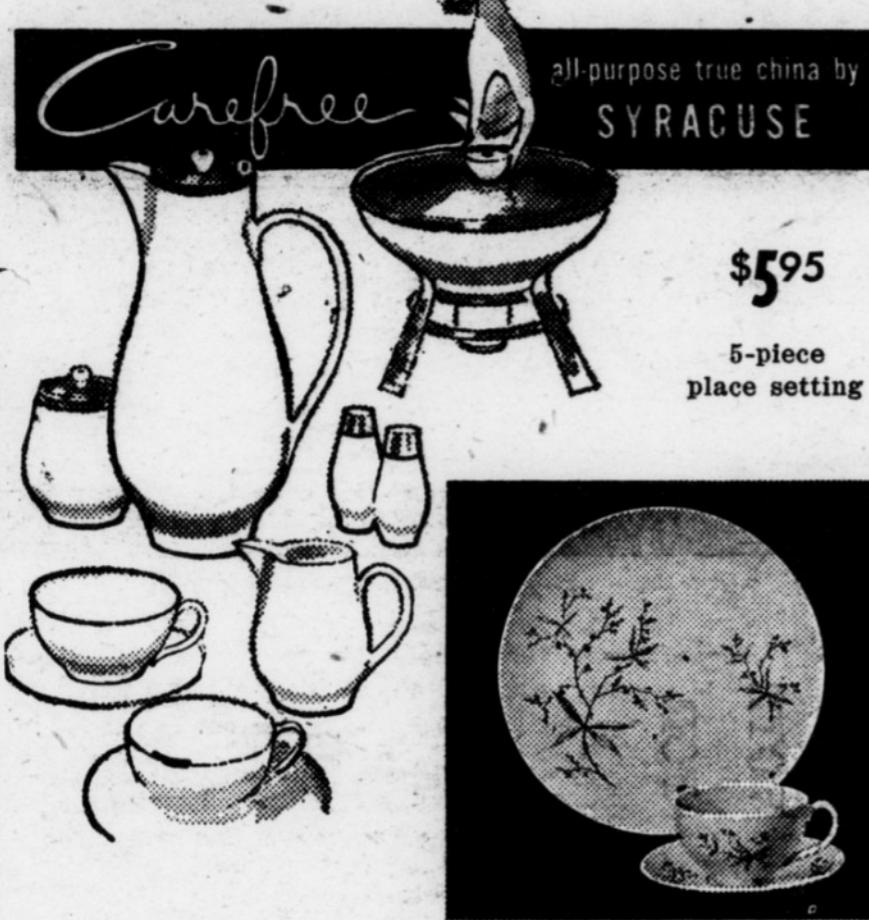

The K-State senior has maintained a near A record through four years of college. He held the Blue Key and Borden scholarships previously. He is from Fomosa, Kans.

Alpha Phi Omega

New pledges of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, are Jack Middleton, BMT Sp; Sid Jones, PrV Soph; Ronald Cook, EE Fr; Brian Mullen, ME Fr; Norman Newton, EE Fr; John Neal, PrV Soph; and David Zeckser, BPM Fr. They will be initiated in May, according to Wally Brown, BA Jr., publicity chairman.

Choir To Sing On H.S. Tour In Two States

The Kansas State A Cappella choir left Manhattan at 8 a.m. today to make an all-day tour on which it will appear at three high schools.

The choir directed by William R. Fischer, associate professor of music, recently appeared in three states on a longer tour. However, it was unable to include in that tour all the schools it wanted to, and will be singing at three of these today.

This morning's performance was at Minneapolis high school and this afternoon's will be at Belleville high school. This evening's performance will be at Superior, Neb., high school at 8:15. Therefore, the choir will not return to Manhattan until about 1 a.m. tomorrow.

In addition to the spirituals, folksongs, secular numbers, and arrangements by Professor Fischer which the choir has sung throughout the year, three new tunes have been added to today's program. These tunes are "Sing We Merrily Unto God, Our Strength," the opening number; "When Rooks Fly Homeward," by Arthur Baynor; and a choral benediction by Peter Lutkin which will conclude the hour-long programs.

Home Ec To Have Hospitality Day

"Alice" will truly be in "Home Ec Land" tomorrow from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. when she attends career programs, fashion shows, and takes tours of exhibits and of the campus in an effort to become acquainted with K-State's School of Home Economics and the careers available in the field.

"Alice" represents all the Kansas high school girls who have been invited here to attend Hospitality Day under the theme, "Alice in Home Ec Land."

Registration from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. in the Student Union will be the time the girls are divided into five groups as designated by the colored name tags they will receive. Program and address-memo books in purple will be given to them at this time, also.

A half-hour assembly in the Auditorium will introduce the girls to K-State.

Keeping in their respective groups, the girls will tour from 9:30 a.m. until noon the 17 exhibits in Anderson hall, Calvin hall, Kedzie hall, and Thompson hall. They will see a style show in Anderson hall recreation center of garments the girls have made, and listen to representatives from the Home Economics departments discuss their curriculums at a career program in Engineering Lecture hall.

Girls desiring to see the Child Development laboratory and the Home Management houses may do so by guided tours also.

Box lunches will be served and entertainment provided in Nichols gymnasium from noon to 1 p.m.

There will be a continuation of the exhibits and guided tours after lunch until 3 p.m., at which time the girls will go to Northwest and Southeast halls for a tea.

Kansas State Players To Give 'Everyman' During Assembly

"Everyman," an old morality play, will be presented by the K-State Players at the Easter assembly in the College auditorium Wednesday at 11 a.m. Prof. Donald Hermes of the Speech department, is the director.

"In a leading role Sid Hutchins, Sp Jr, as Everyman, represents mankind," Hermes said, "and all characters are descriptive of themselves—Beauty, Strength, and Conscience. God has called Everyman to him to bring reckoning of his life.

Everyman encounters different facts of living and tries to take them with him to discover in the end that only good deeds are lasting. Strength, beauty, and other worldly goods are insignificant after death."

Other members of the cast are Fred Martell, Ar 02, Messenger; John Barry, Sp Jr, Voice of God; Hermen Zillmer, Sp Gr, Death; Dan Hahn, Sp Soph, Deceit; Bud Annan, BAA Fr, Cowardice; John Miller, EE Sr, Fellow; Jim Johnson, PrV Fr, Conscience; Glen Rhea, Sp Fr, Cousin;

Richard Mansfield, BPM Jr, Kindred; Darwin Klein, BAA Fr, Conceit; Jim Tullis, EE Sr, Malice; Judy Hall, Sp Jr, Faith;

Dwayne Nuss, Sp Sr, Evil; Landon Friesen, Soc Soph, Servant; Jerry Hager, Sp Jr, Goods; Ann Soelter, Sp Gr, Good Deeds; Mary Jean Thomas, Sp Gr, Knowledge;

Wayne Stewart, EE Jr, Confessing; Gene Olander, EE Fr, Discretion; Bobbi Baumann, Sp Fr, Beauty; Lou Ann Oberhelman, Sp Jr, Five Wits; and Don Kearns, Sp Soph, Strength.

AWS Committees Opened to Coeds

Applications are now being accepted for the six standing committee chairmen of the Association of Women Students, according to Darlene Nelson, EED Sr, chairman of the Nominating committee.

Any coed on campus having a one-point grade average or better is eligible. Application blanks can be obtained from any member of the women's council, or by contacting Miss Nelson. They have to be returned on or before April 17 to Miss Nelson, College post office box 186.

Applicants will be interviewed on April 25 and 29.

Committee members for the Orientation, Conference, and Publications committees will be selected as soon as the chairmen are appointed, said Miss Nelson.

Balloting Is Light In SGA Election

Voting was considerably light on the first day of the Student Governing association general election, according to Neil Scott, Soc Jr, chairman of the elections committee.

Voting will continue today until 5 p.m. in Anderson, Calvin, Eisenhower, Seaton, Veterinary, and Waters halls. Students may also vote in the Union, according to Scott.

Collections Total $157 In D-Day Campaign

More than 1,300 persons contributed a total of $157.36 to the Endowment association during D-Day Wednesday.

Chimes, junior women's honorary, and Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, collected the money for the association's development fund for College projects that cannot be met by state funds.

The junior class was the largest group contributing, with the classes of 1959 and 1960 following in that order. One member of the class of 1960 and eight members of the class of 1962 were among contributors.

The Endowment association is a non-profit organization which receives money for the College through the development fund. Every year it publishes an honor roll of names of alumni and friends who have contributed money and gifts to the College. This year the honor roll will include names of students participating in the D-Day campaign.

Prexy Goes to Europe; Leaves KS Tomorrow

Pres. James A. McCain leaves tomorrow to begin his six months tour through Europe as an Eisenhower Exchange "Fellow."

Dr. and Mrs. McCain and their daughter Sheila will leave Topeka by train tomorrow for New York. Dr. McCain will visit the Institute of International Education Monday and travel to Philadelphia where he will visit the Eisenhower foundation.

The family will sail the morning of April 17 on the Queen Elizabeth. Upon arrival in Europe April 22, they will travel to Paris where they will pick up their new French car, a Citroen, which they will use for transportation in Europe.

The McCains will locate in Switzerland for their six-months' stay. Sheila will attend school there, and Dr. McCain will travel from there visiting various European educational institutions.

The McCains will visit with K-State alumni throughout Europe, and with Larry Mullins, Moon Mullins' son, while in Rome. They also plan to visit the home of Chiara Bini, Sp, whose home is in Bologna, Italy.

Arthur D. Weber, dean of the School of Agriculture, will be acting president during McCain's absence.

McCain states that "the main reason I am going to enjoy the trip so thoroughly is because I know Kansas State college will be in such good hands. I will not have the slightest worry."

McCain plans to spend his time aboard the Queen Elizabeth brushing up on his foreign languages. He studied three years of German and three years of French as an undergraduate college student, and two years of German in Graduate school. "However," he says, "that was a long time ago, and I will need to brush up a lot."

Goodbye James, Welcome 'Dad'

KANSAS STATE COLLEGE students bid a happy bon voyage to President and Mrs. McCain and their daughter Sheila as they leave tomorrow to begin a six-month trip to Europe.

This is a "once in a lifetime" opportunity and President McCain is fortunate to have won this honor. We hope the McCains will have many exciting experiences but we will be glad to see them return in October.

To Dean Weber, who will be acting president during McCain's absence, we extend wishes for a successful six months.—Jane Moore

Hospitality Day Budget Leaves $14.32 in Kitty

By CHARLES SCHREIBER

THE BEST LAID plans of mice and men may sometimes go astray but evidently not those of the Hospitality Day budget planners.

This year the Hospitality committee has $1,296.32 to work with. It was granted $1,100 from the Apportionment board and had $196.32 left over from last year's festivities.

Now, after each prospective expenditure has had its day in the court of feminine intuition and insight, the girls have totaled up the results and found they must spend $1,282, leaving $14.32 for next year's kitty, they hope.

THE HOSPITALITY DAY budget:

KEEPING A CLOSE watch on last minute Hospitality Day proceedings is chairman Verlene Sobke. With folded arms she observes the finishing touches being applied as Hospitality Day approaches.

By SHARON TOTTEN

THE HOSPITALITY DAY program is going along just fine and there are only a few finishing touches left to be done, said Verlene Sobke, HET Sr. She should know because she's chairman of Hospitality Day and has been working on it since the first of this school year.

"I've felt a little guilty lately because all I have had to do was watch the committees and see that they got everything done," she said.

Most of Verlene's work came earlier in the year when the steering committee was chosen and jobs were assigned to committees. Since then she has presided at steering committee meetings, and acted as coordinator for faculty and student committees. She explained that the Home Ec department keeps a file of past Hospitality Days, and that all of these had to be given to committees which could use them.

THE THEME OF this year's Hospitality Day is, "Alice in Home Ec Land." Verlene stated this is the first year that a theme of this type has been used. "We hope this type of theme will make Hospitality Day more interesting," she said.

She explained that the committees have tried to choose parts of the story, "Alice in Wonderland," which will be familiar to most people and which can be correlated with the Home Ec department. For instance, "Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum," works in nicely with the child guidance committee, while the foods committee has chosen the theme, "The Mad Hatter's Tea Party."

Verlene estimated 1,500 to 2,000 guests are expected for Hospitality Day.

"This year we emphasized inviting high school juniors and seniors because we felt they would be more interested in our Home Ec department than the younger girls," said Verlene.

SHE SAID PRESS releases and posters have been sent to town and high school newspapers to publicize Hospitality Day. It has also been publicized in a 45-second TV skit.

This is not Verlene's first year of working on a Home Ec hospitality day. Last year she was a member of the steering committee, and co-chairman of the guides and tours committee.

Verlene is vice-president of the Home Ec Teaching club and a member of the Student Council. She has been rush chairman of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

"As far as hobbies go," she said, "I just love to swim." She also likes sewing and would like to teach sewing after she graduates this spring.

HE Artists Show Work In Anderson

Various segments of art, portrayed in five installments, will constitute the home economics Art department's display for Hospitality Day tomorrow.

According to Carol Lala, HE Soph, chairman of the art exhibit committee, the five divisions are of arts and crafts in elementary schools, drawing and design, interior decorating, plain crafts, and costume design.

The five divisions would be shown in the second floor hallway and rooms 220, 228, 227, and 221 of Anderson hall.

Miss Lala said the exhibit was designed to give visitors an idea of what is done in art at K-State.

Alumni News

Two '54 women graduates are now teaching school in Colby. They are Judith Case Hertney who teaches English and Mary Johnson Smith who graduated in home economics and now teaches it. She married Jay Richard Smith last year.

The lives of William Calvin Motes and Elvin W. Melcher have followed a similar pattern since their graduation from K-State in '54, after both majored in agriculture. Upon graduation both entered the service. Motes served in Washington and Melcher in Texas. Both are now in K-State's graduate school.

Ernest Konard Horber obtained a PhD in entomology while at K-State in '54. He previously obtained a diploma from the Swiss Federal Institution of Technology, located in his hometown of Zurich, Switzerland. He is now working for the Swiss Agricultural Experiment Station in Zurich Oerlikon, Switzerland.

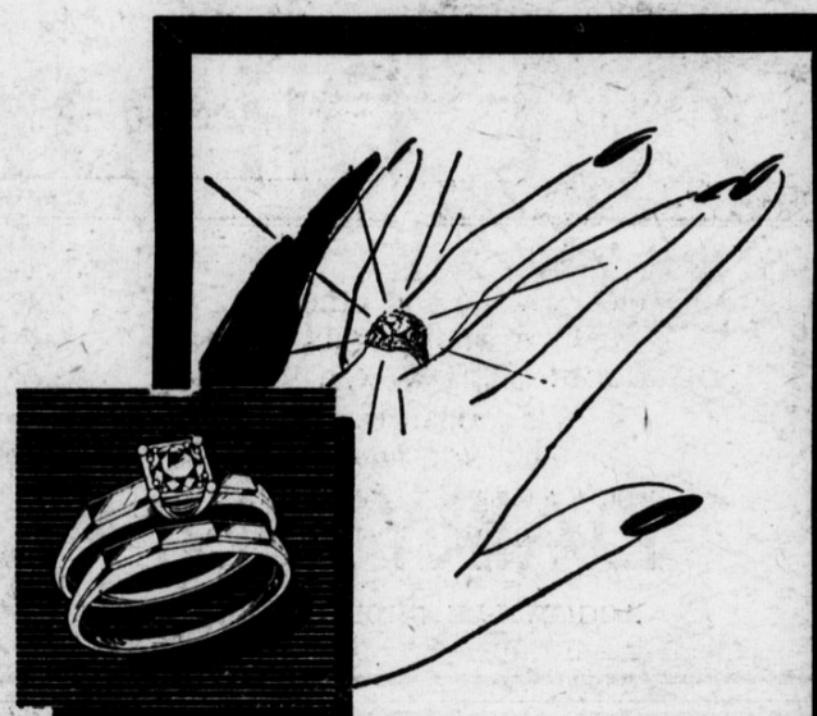

Patricia Angelle Leive, BS '57, married Fred Leive recently and is now teaching grade school at Prescott school in Kansas City.

Food, Drink Main Concern In Trio of Home Ec Exhibits

"The Mad Hatter's Tea," "Alice Knows Six Reasons for Using Low Heat," and "Steal Success with a Future in Dietetics and Institutional Management," are the themes of three home economics exhibits for Hospitality Day tomorrow.

The dietetics and institutional management exhibit using the latter of the three themes will be in room 101 of Thompson hall, according to Charlotte Lybarger, DIM Sr, general chairman of exhibits. A cardboard figure of the knave of hearts will infer that girls can steal success in dietetics and institutional management as the knave of hearts in "Alice in

Style Shows Are Included In HD Plans

The five Hospitality Day style shows tomorrow will feature a mythical "Alice" who will gaze at a wonderland of fashion modeled by 50 coeds, according to Sylvia Gaddie, TxC Jr, chairman of the style shows.

"This year we are having five style shows, instead of just one," said Sylvia. There will be three half-hour shows in the morning starting at 9:45 a.m., and two in the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The models will wear clothes they made themselves in sewing classes. Included in the show will be blouses, wool skirts, suits and coats, and dresses of all types, ranging from the basic styles, to the very formal.

For variety, Lynn Moxley, HT Jr, will model a black dress and will show how different accessories can change the appearance of the dress to fit various occasions.

Coeds using the same pattern but different material, will come on stage at the same time to illustrate the effects of different fabrics.

Diane Koon, TxC Soph, will narrate all five shows, and Kathy Schultis, HEJ Soph, will furnish the background music.

"Wonderland" stole the tarts.

The display of the quantity food preparation class will include a kitchen decorated like a rabbit den and called "institutional wonderland." Class members will make tarts during the exhibit to serve to visitors.

In another part of the exhibit quantity food purchasing will be contrasted with family cooking. Charts, recipes and quantities of food ingredients will be used.

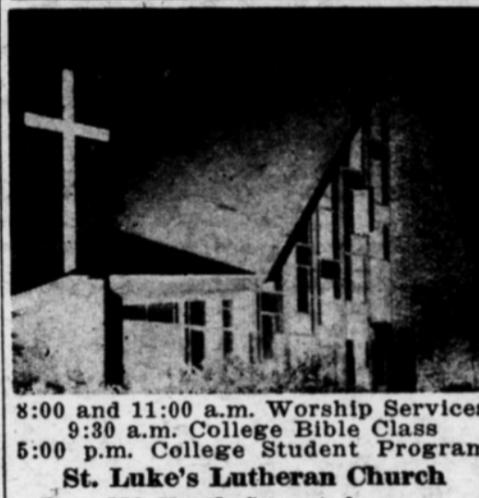

"Alice Knows Six Reasons for Using Low Heat," the meat department's exhibit, will be in room 101 of Thompson hall, exhibit chairman Madelon Neff, DIM Jr, has announced. A cooked rolled rib roast setting in an open oven will demonstrate the six reasons.

The foods and nutrition's exhibit, called "The Mad Hatters Calvin hall, said Phyllis Viergev-Tea," will be in room 101 of er, FN Soph, co-chairman of the exhibit. The exhibit will be placed on tea tables and will contrast possible courses of action of a girl coming to college for the first time.

The first table will show a number of courses in a jumbled manner to resemble the way a girl without a definite goal might become mixed up. The second will show a straight course of action in the field of foods and nutrition.

In another part of the exhibit members of food demonstrations technique classes will prepare creampuffs, cookies, salad dressing and other foods.

Bill Against Land Grabbing Passed in House; to Senate

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to stop the armed forces from "grabbing" public lands for military purposes.

Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), sponsor of the bill, said the practice has reached "staggering" proportions.

The measure would require the armed services henceforth to obtain prior Congressional approval before they could withdraw more than 5,000 acres of public land for their own use. Under present law, only the approval of the Interior Department and the President is required.

The bill also would put severe restriction on what Engle said was the armed services' practice of granting hunting and fishing privileges on military reservations to "high brass" military officers and "weekend sportsmen."

Engle, chairman of the House Interior committee, told the House that the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps at present "can get any amount of land they want merely by filling out a slip of paper."

Strife Brews in Mid-East

Washington—Early action is needed to settle the growing dispute over the International status of the Gulf of Aqaba and the adjacent Straits of Tiran, American officials said today.

Failure to face up to the issue may result in a new Middle East explosion. Saudi Arabia already has threatened to open fire on any Israeli ship heading through the Straits to the Gulf Port of Eilat. Israeli is counting heavily on this commercial route as an alternative to the Suez Canal.

Officials said the Saudi Arabian warning and the recent passage of an American ship through the Straits of Tiran into the Gulf of Aqaba make the dispute "hot again."

Youth's Fate in Jury

Las Vegas, Nev.—The Atomic Energy commission hoped to stage its highly-classified weap-

HEJs Plug Opportunities

Opportunities for women in home economics and journalism, both on campus and as a vocation, will be pictured in the home economics journalism display for Hospitality Day, in Kedzie 103 tomorrow, according to Betty Moore, HEJ Soph, exhibit chairman.

Copies of the Royal Purple,

K-State's yearbook, and the Collegian will be displayed, as will pictures of the Manhattan Mercury's home page, a women's section in that newspaper written and edited by students.

Pictures of six K-State home economics and journalism graduates will hang on the walls of the room.

Routes Planned to Assure HD Visitors Easy Traveling

Visitors tomorrow to "Alice in Home Ec Land" can be assured they won't be required to crawl down rabbit holes, travel for miles in subterranean tunnels, or wade knee-deep in water—as Alice did.

The Hospitality Day committee on guides and tours, headed by Pat Todd, HT Jr, has mapped five different routes for the girls to take—all of them equally safe and sane. In addition, Miss Todd says, approximately 90 hostesses will be on hand to give directions and information.

After registering in the Union all visitors will meet in the College auditorium at 9 a.m. where the welcome, "The White Rabbit Presents," will be extended.

The rest of the morning will be devoted to the exhibits and guided tours of the Child Development laboratory at 311 North 14th and the Home Management houses

HE at K-State 84 Years Old, HD 25 Years

The story of home economics at K-State began 84 years ago with a class in sewing and millinery taught in the chapel of the original arts building, then in Anderson hall and later in Kedzie.

In 1907 College President Nichols obtained an appropriation of $70,000 to build Calvin hall, named after Prof. Henrietta Calvin, dean of home economics from 1903 to 1908.

In 26 years, Hospitality Day has grown from a campus to a statewide event, and still has its original purpose in mind—to show what the K-State School of Home Economics can offer to high school girls throughout the state.

Through the work of Dean Margaret Justin, the first home economics open house took place in 1931. An all-day program was arranged with exhibits by the various departments and contest in different phases in home economics, in which high school students participated.

Called Hospitality Week until 1937, the event was changed to Hospitality Day in that year. The "Hospitality Hop," a semi-formal girl-take-boy dance, also came about that year. This has since been replaced by the "Snowball."

Men shared in the 11th annual Hospitality Day for the first time. Displays "especially for men" were offered to show the part that men play in homemaking.

Military themes were featured during the war. In 1944, to the theme of "We Also Serve," home economics students itemized the importance of their training in war and post-war service.

The first style review in 1946 proved to be a popular event on the program. It has since been an annual show.

For the first time since the event started, exhibits were judged in 1951.

Home Ec Dean Doretta Hoffman said last year that "almost three times as many high school students attend K-State's Hospitality Day as go to a similar event at Nebraska university."

The style show for "Queen Alice" is to be given in Anderson at 10 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 2:15 p.m.

The career program will also be presented at five different times throughout the day: 10 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 11:30 a.m., 1:30 p.m., and 2:15 p.m.

"The Mad Hatter" will be host at teas at Northwest and Southeast halls from 3 to 4 p.m.

Exhibits located in Anderson hall will be costume design, crafts, drawing, design, interior decoration, and arts and crafts for elementary schools.

HEAs Have Picture Series

"A Week in the Life of Alice the HEA" will be the title of the home economics extension Hospitality Day display in Calvin 102 tomorrow. It will picture six aspects of the work of a home economics agent.

The six pictures backed by black flannel boards will show an office conference with the agent's staff, an office call, a radio talk, a visit to the home of a 4-H club member, a home demonstration unit meeting, and work in 4-H clubs.

Haylett Guides Wildcats 29 Years

By JAY WORKMAN

Ward Haylett, K-State's first and only full-time track boss, is in his 29th year in that capacity. Joining the staff in 1928, Haylett has developed an impressive string of track stars during his reign.

Among them are Thane Baker, Olympic sprinter; Elmer Hackney, shotputter who set the American record of 55-11 in 1939; Rollin Prather, all-American shotputter and discus thrower; Herb Hoskins, all-American broadjumper; Virgil Severns, all-American high jumper; and Harry Hinckley, who set a world record in the high-hurdles in 1932.

Haylett also coached the football team at K-State for two years during World War II.

"Baker is the best track man I've coached," Haylett said. "And Hackney, Severns, Hoskins, or Prather were the best competitors in the field."

Haylett's college career began at Doane College in Crete, Neb., in 1915 but was interrupted by World War I.

After his discharge in 1919, he found it impossible to return to school because of a lack of finances.

Haylett coached five years in high school before going back to Doane in 1924 as a student and track coach. In his last meet in college competition he scored in eight events—hammer throw, javelin, discus, shot put, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, and to top the afternoon off, he ran a leg on the half-mile relay team.

"We competed just for the fun of it in those days," Ward said, "There wasn't nearly as much pressure on us as there is on track athletes now."

The Wildcat coach has gained international recognition for his trips abroad with track squads. In 1937 he coached the U. S. team in the Pan American games at Dallas.

The next year he took a U. S. team on a 10-country European tour. In 1948 Ward was an Olympic coach of broadjumpers, shotputters, and the decathlon. One of his best known pupils is Bob Mathias, who ran away with the decathlon crown.

After the London games, Haylett took a hand-picked squad to meets in Paris, Prague, and Strasbourg.

In 1951 he coached a 15-man squad on a good-will tour through Japan. That was his last foreign coaching assignment, but in 1952 at the Helsinki Olympics in which Baker ran, Ward was on hand as a fan.

"The chief reward of coaching is working with young men and having some effect on their lives."

"The tension is terrific before and during a meet, but that's half the enjoyment of it."

For relaxation Haylett likes to putter around his cattle farm and to travel in foreign countries. In 1954 he and Mrs. Haylett took a trip to Alaska, and in 1955 they toured Europe—with no trackmen along this time.

Over Ichabods in Topeka

K-State's tennis team won a 5-2 decision over the Washburn Ichabods at Topeka Thursday in a meet that was forced inside the Ichabod's Whiting field house because of snow.

Davidson-Colley defeated Circle-Chaplin (KS), 8-6. Andler-Holwerda (KS) defeated Davis-David Junge, (W) 8-2.

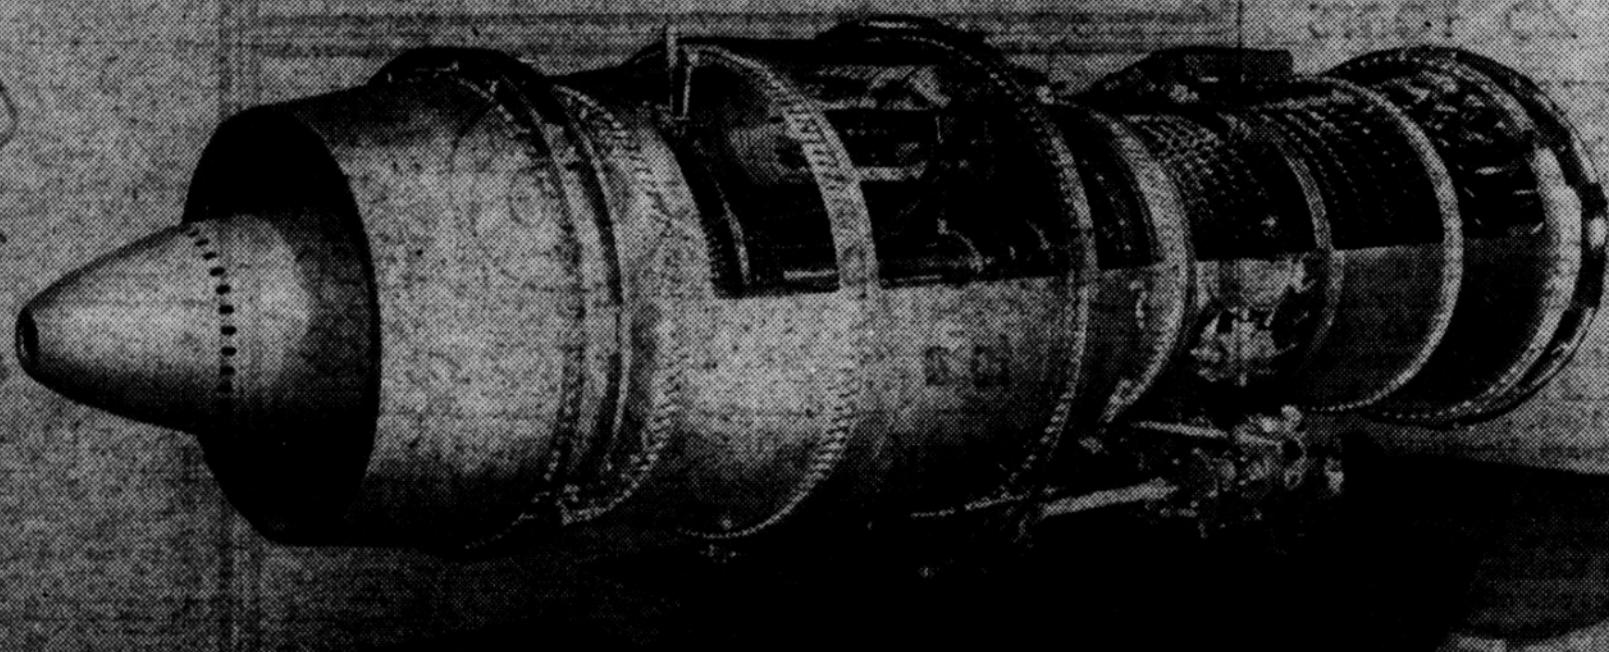

Baseball Stopped By Lincoln Snow

The K-State-Nebraska baseball game at Lincoln today has been canceled because of snow.

Coach Ray Wauthier said there is no chance of playing today but, if there is no precipitation and it warms up in Lincoln, the Cats may play tomorrow afternoon.

The games will not be rescheduled unless there is a tie for the conference championship, involving either K-State or Nebraska.

What's doing... at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Cutaway model of P & W A J-57 engine. This twin-spool, axial-flow gas turbine powers the country's newest fighters and bombers and is slated for Douglas DC-8 and Boeing 707 jet airliners. Engine was the first to be rated at more than 10,000 pounds thrust.

A LOOK at the record

From its founding in 1925, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has been essentially an engineering company. Its primary objective has been the design and development of new aircraft engines of superior performance and dependability. The guiding policy has always been, simply, that technical excellence must be the paramount objective, attained through constant effort to improve upon the best.

As early as 1928 Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's Wasp engines powered Navy seaplanes which brought back world records in altitude, range and speed from competitions in Switzerland, Germany and France. The following year, Wasp-powered Army Air Corps airplanes were flying combat formations at 30,000 feet.

All through the 1930s the power, range and fuel economy of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Wasp and Hornet engines were developed, and the engines seasoned with experience. Wiley Post, the Lindberghs, Martin and Osa Johnson, Amelia Earhart, Admiral Byrd and Roscoe Turner were among the host of famous pilots who made aviation history with Wasp power.

During World War II, 50 percent of the aircraft powerplants for the American air arms were engineered by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Three of the five key fighter airplanes, a host of medium and heavy bombers, and 98 percent of all the military transports used Pratt & Whitney Aircraft engines.

The postwar development of the J-57 gained the company a position of engineering leadership in the jet field. It powered the first jet aircraft to fly faster than sound in level flight, and is now used in six supersonic fighters, three bombers and the first two American commercial jet transports.

Broadly diversified engineering careers at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft offer truly fine opportunity for young men equipped to deal with challenging assignments. You will find many answers to important questions about careers at P & W in our informative booklet, Jet Engineering. For a copy, write to Mr. F. W. Powers, Engineering Department.

Baseball Coaching Fun for Wauthier

By MIKE SCANLAND

The favorite sport of K-State baseball Coach Ray Wauthier is, logically enough, baseball—and his favorite occupation is, logically enough, coaching baseball.

He chooses baseball because "everything connected with fundamentals and practicing is fun, not work. To me you're playing all the time. It's not like basketball and football where the fundamentals are work."

Wauthier enjoys coaching because he is "meeting young men and watching them progress and develop."

Baseball was not always his first choice. In high school at McDonald, Penn., where he lettered three years in football, basketball, and baseball, he enjoyed the cage sport most. "Probably because we were league basketball champions three years in a row while I was playing," Wauthier said. He was all-league in basketball during those three years.

Following high school, Wauthier went to George Washington university in Washington, D.C., for one semester and then transferred to Albion College at Albion, Mich., where he lettered two years in football, basketball, and track.

In March, 1943, he quit school and joined the Marine Corps.

It was while coaching baseball teams at Camp Lejeune, N.C., and the Naval Supply Depot at Mechanicsburg, Penn., that Wauthier developed his interest in coaching the sport.

He served as player-manager on his service teams, playing every position but catcher.

Wauthier was successful as a part-time pitcher, posting 8-3 and 9-2 records. Included in that record:

IM Softball Postponed

Yesterday's and today's scheduled games in intramural softball have been postponed because of bad weather. They will be played at the end of the regular season, according to Frank Myers, director of intramurals.

Super Service

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(UPI)—Milton French walked into a barber shop and said he wanted a "seven-minute haircut." Barber J. B. Smith cut French's left side, and R. M. LaBarre cut the right side, both finishing in exactly seven minutes.

ord is a 1-0 victory, which he named as his greatest thrill as a participant in sports.

Wauthier was commissioned after completing officers candidate school and held the rank of captain when he was discharged in December, 1945.

He returned to Albion in the spring of '46 to complete work on his degree in physical education and then moved to Drake university where he earned a masters degree in physical education in the summer of 1947.

Following college, Wauthier was head basketball and baseball coach and assistant football coach at Iowa Wesleyan college in Mount Pleasant, Iowa, for two years.

In a baseball game with Monmouth College of Illinois, Wauthier's Mount Pleasant team, after being down 13-6 going into the ninth inning, scored eight runs in the bottom of the inning (five of them with two out) to win the game, 14-13. He said this was his greatest moment in sports.

"Everything we did was right and everything they did went wrong. We just kept hitting every pitcher they threw up there like we owned him."

"That game helped impress on me that games aren't over 'till the last out. If you don't give up you always have that chance," Wauthier said.

Wauthier came to K-State in 1949 and has been here ever since. He says he likes Manhattan and K-State and plans to stay here.

"I think it's a good town to bring up a family in," he said.

Wauthier said the main reason he likes the school is the students he works with. "As far as my classes and baseball go, I like the wonderful kids we have to work with. Most of them come from smaller towns. Their attitude is a lot different than that of a lot of big-city kids. Of course, we've had good kids from Kansas City," he said.

Wauthier married his wife, Dorothy, 11 years ago when he was in the Marine Corps. They have four children, two boys and two girls.

Golfers' Meet Two Outfits In Manhattan

K-State's golf team, trying to rebound from one win and two losses on the road, will meet Wichita university Friday, and Washburn university Saturday, in the season's first home action.

The Wichita meeting will be a return match. In K-State's opening match of the season, at Wichita, the Wildcats edged the Wheatshockers, 9 1/2-8 1/2.

From there, the Cats went on to an 18-0 defeat at the hands of Oklahoma A&M Friday, and a 9 1/2-8 1/2 loss to Tulsa university Saturday, to account for their 1-3 record.

RAY WAUTHIER, Cat baseball coach, took his cut as the Cats worked out in Ahearn field house yesterday. Wauthier's team owns four wins this season without a loss, although two of the wins have been in practice contests. The Cat mentor has been at K-State since 1949.

K-STATE'S ENTRANT in the "Miss Football" queen contest is Connie Morgan, EEd Fr. Connie was selected from the sixteen candidates Sunday at a tea in the Union. She will fly to Berkeley, Calif., this fall to compete against candidates from other colleges and universities.

Morgan Candidate For Miss Football

Connie Morgan, EEd Fr, will attend Berkeley's 12th annual football festival next September as K-State's candidate for "Miss Football" of 1957.

Miss Morgan, representing Southeast hall, was chosen from among 16 coeds by six judges at a tea sponsored by the Association of Women Students in the Union yesterday.

Placing second and third in the school contest were Becky Culpepper, EEd Jr, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Ginnie Forbes, EEd Soph, Van Zile hall.

The other four runners-up were Katie Miller, EEd Fr, Delta Delta Delta; Carole Holmquist, EEd Jr, Alpha Delta Pi; Pat McDermott, BA Jr, Waltherm; and Kay Chamness, EEd Soph, Chi Omega.

"It's an honor to represent K-State," Connie says. From September 16 to 21 Connie with other representatives from schools across the U. S. will be the guest of the Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Claremont hotel and guest of honor at the opening football game between the University of California and Southern Methodist university.

Play, Devotionals Planned For Holy Week Program

An all-College assembly Wednesday, April 17, will be the highlight of the Holy Week program, according to William C. Tremmel, director of student religious activities.

The assembly will include a play, "The Summoning of Everyman," with original music by Prof. Thomas Steinenberg of the Music department.

Other features remaining in the Holy Week program are a worship service tonight in All-Faith Memorial chapel at 7:30 p.m. Guest speaker will be Dr. Richard Caemmerer, from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

Bishop Goodrich R. Fenner of Topeka will be guest speaker at the service in the Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. It will be sponsored by the K-State Canterbury association.

The festivals will conclude Wednesday with a Jewish Seder

Meal at 6:30 p.m. in the Union. Members of B'nai B'rith Hillel will conduct the meal. It is by invitation only, Tremmel said.

Easter vacation begins Thursday night, April 18, and classes will resume at 8 a.m. Wednesday, April 24.

Nursing Exhibit First In Home Ec Contest

For the second consecutive year the nursing exhibit was rated tops among the 17 Hospitality Day exhibits by the high school girls attending Hospitality Day here Saturday. The clothing and textiles, and art exhibits placed second and third, respectively.

ARTHUR (DAD) WEBER assumes his duties today as acting President of the College while President McCain spends six months in Europe on an Eisenhower Exchange fellowship. Weber is dean of agriculture at K-State and has been on the staff since 1922, except for five years at the University of Nebraska, 1926-31.

Two-Party Politics Is Postponed Despite United Staters Pressure

DESPITE THE FACT that the newly-organized United Staters party made a valiant effort to make Kansas State college a two-party school, the Integrity party captured 19 of 26 positions available in the annual Student Governing association spring elections.

Only about 36 per cent of the student body voted 2,290—which gives an indication of student interest in democratic society. However, this is 493 more than last year. We only hope the coming year's student governors will be more active than their campaigns.

Congratulations to both parties on the cleanest general election in SGA history, made so, probably, because there were no issues at stake.

THE JUNIOR MEMBERS of the Collegian staff have promised to check carefully in the coming year to see how well the members of the Integrity party live up to the promises set forth in their docile campaign. They'll keep an eye on the United Staters too.

Naturally there were a few who didn't read the ballot before voting. The elections committee was forced to disqualify 40 ballots.

In an interview with Neil Scott after the elections, he said he was well pleased with the way the elections came out and figured this must be an indication that the students are satisfied with their student government.

THE ELECTION RETURNS party held in the Union to keep people (mostly the candidates) posted was a fine idea but it turned out about as well as the elections did for the United Staters. There were many discrepancies in the votes listed as final in the Union and the actual count in the SGA office in Anderson.

A vote of thanks is in order for Cal Adams, PSp Jr, and Bill Amstein, AH Gr, who took over the job of counting the ballots in the SGA office.—Jane Moore

Scott Looking Ahead To Reign as President

The Winnah

By JANICE GRAHAM

LOOKING AHEAD to bigger and better student government, Neil Scott, Soc Jr, Student Body president, has already planned some changes in policy for the future.

"We plan to carry the platform out to the best of our ability," Neil said. "But naturally, any changes will be up to the new Student Council."

"In order to provide more coordination between Student Governing association committees and the Student Council, a member of the Council will be a representative to such committee meetings as Homecoming and Parents' Day, and will make a report to the Student Council," he said.

ALUMNI RELATIONS and other non-functioning committees will be disbanded, but Scott plans to continue Campus Industries, Inc., Leadership school, and committees on campus business relations and the name change. New ideas for expansion of the Big Seven convention are particularly important since K-State was elected permanent host at the winter meeting of student government representatives, Scott said.

"Exchange Student Council meetings with other schools in the Big Seven on days we play them in athletic contests is a possible means to bring about better and more functional relationships in student government," Scott said.

"We will continue to evaluate the National Students' association in an effort to decide whether or not K-State should become a member. There has been some controversy on the subject."

A FIRM BELIEVER in good student government, Neil thinks the "two party system is healthy" because it puts pressure on the party in power. "Otherwise there might be a tendency for the dominating party to let up on responsibilities."

As a member of the Integrity party since last spring, Neil was elected to Student Council and served on the Student Council workshop, Leadership school, Activity Tickets committee, and was head of the SGA gripe assembly last semester. He also was a liaison member to the Student Activities board.

"Someone presented me with the idea of running for Student Body president last spring, but I didn't decide to do it until about Christmas time this year when I changed my major from zoology to sociology."

NEIL IS FROM Rozel and had no connections with politics until he ran for Student Council last spring. He thinks it's important to be on Student Council before deciding to run for president of the student body.

"Understanding the wide scope of student government that you gain as a representative is important," he said. "After turning in two and three reports a week, you get to the place where you either like it or you don't."

Cats Divide Twin Bill With NU Baseballlers

K-State and Nebraska baseballers split a double-header at Lincoln Saturday, the Huskers winning the first game, 17-2, and the Cats taking the second, 11-4.

Both games were held to seven innings because of low temperatures and wind.

Wildcat pitchers gave up 16 walks and 12 hits in the first game, allowing six runs to cross the plate in the first inning.

K-State got single runs in the first and fourth innings but couldn't match the Huskers as they were shut out in the other five periods.

The Cats sent five runs across in the third and seventh innings and one in the sixth on nine hits while holding the Nebraskans to four scattered runs on five hits for the final 11-4 count in the second contest.

Bill Blume was the winner for K-State in the second game as he teamed with Mike Lair to allow five hits and four Cornhusker runs.

The first game was lost by Bill Sinderson, first of a trio of Cat pitchers.

In the first game, Cat catcher

Jim Berg received a mild concussion, according to NU's student health center, when Nebraska's Gene Torczon ran into him at home plate.

K-State Flying Club

The K-State Flying club will have its first open meeting this evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Union little theater, according to Keith Robertson, AgE Jr. club director.

An explanation of how the club operates will be given; plans for expansion will be discussed. A film on private flying will be shown.

Union Positions

All subchairmanships for the Union Program Council are available until Thursday at 5 p.m. They should be turned into the Union activities center before this time, according to Mary Lou Compton, Sp Jr, vice-chairman of the council.

The deadline was extended from today because of the lack of applicants. Positions are available on 13 committees. Flash cards and personnel are the two new committees accepting members today.

Young Democrats

Young Democrats will organize a new membership drive at a meeting at 7:15 p.m. tonight in SU 205, according to Bob McDowell, PrL Jr, president of the organization.

Other action on the agenda includes electing a presidential candidate for state convention, organizing a state convention delegation, and hearing a report of the annual meeting of Kansas democratic clubs.

Annual I.F. Sing Festival Lists 14 Sororities, Frats

Six fraternities and eight sororities will vie for Interfraternity Sing trophies at the annual May 10th event, according to Sue Downer, HT Jr, co-chairman of the Interfraternity Sing steering committee.

The entries:
Sigma Chi—"Sig's Marching Song" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," under the direction of John Thies, BA Jr.

Delta Tau Delta—"Sing to Delta Tau" and "Sweetheart of Delta Tau," under the direction of Larry Foulke, NE Soph.

Beta Theta Pi—"Loving Cup" and "Beta Marching Song," Ray Serpan, EE Soph., song leader.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—"Marching Song," and "SAE Melody," Chad Sims, BA Sr., song leader.

Sigma Phi Epsilon—"Wonderful Sig Ep Girl" and "Sig Ep Dream Girl," directed by John McComb, PrV Soph.

Phi Delta Theta—"Drums of Phi Delta Theta" and "Smoke Rings," under the direction of Duncan Erickson, Ar '03.

Alpha Delta Pi—"We Sing Tonight" and "I Dream of You," Sue Kenison, TxC Jr., directing.

Alpha Chi Omega—"Starlight Serenade" and "Let Us

Sing," Janice Casey, MAV Soph., song leader.

Alpha Xi Delta—"Evening Hymn" and "Singing Low," Carol Wilmore, EEd Jr., director.

Kappa Delta—"Kappa Delta Dreams" and "KD Blues," under the direction of Donna Turner, MEI Soph.

Pi Beta Phi—"Follow the Arrow" and "Pi Phi Welcome," Karen "Piper," EEd Jr., directing.

Chi Omega, "Chi O Medley," and "War Chant," directed by Georgianna Rundle, EEd Jr.

Delta Delta Delta—"Tri-Delt Blues" and "Into the Gold," Rachel Pickett, Soc Jr., song leader.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—"Give Your Heart to a Kappa Girl," and "KKG Blues," Judy Horn, EEd Soph., directing.

The Sing will be in the College Auditorium May 10 and will begin at 7:30 p.m. Each group will have approximately ten minutes to present its selections. Last year's trophies went to Delta Delta Delta in the sorority division and Sigma Chi in the fraternity division.

The Interfraternity Sing is under joint sponsorship by the Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council.

SC To Forward $200 Fund To World U. Relief Service

World University service, a relief organization, benefitted by $200.64 last night as the Student Council voted to forward the remaining amount of money from the K-State "emergency fund" to them.

The fund contained only $40.64 until the March of Dimes returned a $160 K-State donation, according to Pat Lloyd, fund chairman. The donation was returned because the March of Dimes cannot accept direct contributions, Lloyd said.

In other money matters, the Arts and Sciences open house committee was voted $61.50 to help defray costs of the May 4 event. The money will help pay for invitation letters sent to the top 500 high school students in Kansas and other expenses. The money will come from the Student Council reserve fund.

The activity question came under much discussion with the Council voting approval to three recommendations:

1. That the Athletics department make available to the students a guest ticket at the lowest possible cost.

2. That the possibilities of placing the student's picture on their activity tickets be studied.

3. That the committee be dissolved.

Two other recommendations were presented by the Activity Ticket committee. One lost and the other was omitted. The Council decided not to ask the Athletic department to make the athletic portion of the activity ticket optional. The omitted recommendation would have asked that the Field House be enlarged.

A committee on Ethics and Honors was established by the Council. Membership of the committee was set at 15 with 2 Student Council members and 2 faculty also serving. Newton Anderson, ME Jr, reported that the last committee failed because it couldn't get started.

Two recommendations were passed that would provide for an insurance questionnaire to be filled out by students at enrollment and a continued investigation of the problem of health insurance by the Council.

After the general business session, the Council began an indoctrination program for new Council members (see page two).

Project Designed For Greek Week

Lud Fiser, secretary manager of the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce, outlined the entire community project of Greek Week last night at the Interfraternity council meeting.

According to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr., and IFC publicity chairman, Fiser presented a plan that consisted of 14 separate projects that will provide enough work for 600 students. The plan generally consisted of a general cleanup and beautification of many Manhattan areas.

A list of the various projects will be published in tomorrow's Collegian and the various assignments will be available to the fraternities and sororities through the Greek Week Executive council of IFC Wednesday evening.

Roberts said that in order to increase interest in the community project, IFC had declared Friday, April 26 "Grub" day which is the day before the work on the project is to begin.

Alpha Gamma Sigma, an agricultural science fraternity was refused a charter on the campus by IFC. Roberts said that the reasons the fraternity was refused were that the campus already had two fine agricultural fraternities, Alpha Gamma Rho and the Farm House, and that the enrollment of students in agriculture is not sufficient to have a third fraternity.

V. D. Foltz, faculty adviser of IFC, said that the rush cards for rush dates would be ready within a week and the fraternities should order the number that they want.

Positions Open for Coeds As AWS Committee Heads

All coeds having a one-point grade average or better are eligible and can apply, if interested, for a chairmanship of one of the six standing committees of the Association of Women Students, according to Darlene Nelson, EEd Sr, chairman of the nominating committee.

Application blanks can be obtained at each house from the AWS representative. The applications have to be returned by tomorrow to Miss Nelson, College post office box 186.

"Coeds not appointed to a chairmanship will probably be appointed as a member of one of the committees. The chairman will be appointed April 29, and the committee members will be selected shortly thereafter," said Miss Nelson.

"Members for the Judicial Board of AWS will be selected soon. Each member of the Women's council should turn in a candidate for the board at the next meeting, April 29," said Peggy Daniels, Eng Soph.

"The Judicial Board will be similar to the College Tribunal, only it will not infringe on the

SU Committee Openings Will Close Thursday

The deadline for positions on the Union committees is 5 p.m. Thursday, according to Mary Lou Compton, Sp Jr, vice-chairman of the Union Program council.

Positions are available on the following committees: art, campus entertainment, dance, coffee hours, flash cards, games, harmonizers, hospitality, jazz club, movies, music and library, personnel and publicity.

UGB Votes To Up Cost Of Cigarettes

A move to increase the price of cigarettes in the Student Union by one cent was approved last night during Union Governing board meeting. The price increase will become effective June 1.

The Board also listened to a report from Bruce Wilson, His Gr, general chairman of this year's Y-Orpheum, on the feasibility of the Student Union continuing its co-sponsorship of the event with the YMCA. This year was the first time the YMCA has had any help in producing the show.

In other actions, the UGB moved: that newly elected members of the Union Governing board take office during the first meeting in May; and that faculty members chosen for the Board serve three-year terms with a new faculty member to be elected every year.

Wilson, in discussing the possibility of continued Union support of the Y-Orpheum, said this year's show was much better because of help from Union committees.

"Co-sponsorship worked well this year," he said, "and there's no reason why it can't be done again. Also I don't feel the YMCA is in a position to do the whole thing anymore."

Final action on the matter will be taken at the next meeting of the Board.

Gaddie Elected Council Prexy

Sylvia Gaddie, TxC Jr., has been elected president of the School of Home Economics.

Elections for the Home Economics council members were held in Calvin hall at the time of the general student body elections Thursday and Friday.

Out of 174 ballots cast, Sylvia pulled 111 votes to 60 for Darlene Larkin, TxC Jr.

Janice Albes, HT Soph, with 90 votes won the vice presidency over Barbara David, HDA Fr, who had 83 votes.

Carrilee Shipps, HT Jr, is secretary-treasurer. She received 97 votes to her candidates 77, Betty Sellers, HDA Jr.

These officers will run the council next year together with the elected presidents of the home economics clubs and the chairmen appointed by the president.

Prep TV Flunks Test in Legislature

By CHARLES SCHREIBER

THE KANSAS EDUCATIONAL television proposal was defeated in the legislature by a vote of 17 to 15 or just four votes short of the 21 necessary to put it on Gov. George Docking's desk.

The measure which was defeated would have provided a $10,000 token appropriation to begin fundamental planning for the future building program of a TV network and assure the Federal Communications Commission that Kansas did propose to utilize the channels allocated to its educational institutions.

A great deal of interest in the proposal remains throughout the state and providing the channels aren't taken away from the schools there is still a chance that an educational network can be established in the future.

EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION will remain a matter for speculation for sometime in Kansas but its proponents and opponents are active in many other areas.

The Ford foundation's annual report for 1956 shows that to date it has put more than $11 million into educational TV. This year they are appropriating an additional $8 million to bolster interest at all levels of the educational application of the medium.

These funds go primarily to support such things as research into programming, the operation of a national center for program production, professional and technical improvements, and information for citizen organizations interested in the subject.

THE FOUNDATION is trying to side step the reluctance shown by many arts and science faculties to accept television as an educational tool by establishing a fund of $1.5 million to be used to defray the costs of relieving faculty members from regular duties in order to work on educational telecasts.

Harvard has officially recognized educational television by using its share of this fund to establish two positions for "television lecturers."

A joint committee on Educational Television has been formed to provide a professional voice for education in legal and technical matters before the FCC. This agency operates on a grant of $140,000. One of its chief duties is to protect education channels from encroachment by private interests.

Another venture of the Ford Foundation into educational television is its production of the Omnibus program which was started four years ago to demonstrate that educational and cultural programs can compete successfully in commercial network broadcasting.

Washington—Sen. William F. Knowland is calling for further UN action on behalf of the freedom of Hungary:

"Is the conscience of the world that was so thoroughly aroused in October and November to be complacent and satisfied in April and May?"

New York—New York Postmaster Robert Schaffer on the extra-heavy load of mail New York postmen had to tote Monday:

"I don't think there is any doubt this is the biggest volume since the Christmas rush, when we hit a peak of 20 million in one day."

Galveston, Texas—Teamster Union Boss Dave Beck on whether his recent appearance before the Senate Rackets committee will result in a contempt of Congress indictment or his ouster:

"I've gone through these things for 40 years. They don't mean a thing. It just runs off my back like water off a duck."

Miami—Thirteen-year-old Ricard Guillen on why he hitched a ride in a cramped compartment of a Venezuelan airliner from Caracas to Miami:

"I wanted to scare my mama and papa."

House To Discuss Info Agency Cash

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—The House today called an early session to take up President Eisenhower's already deeply-cut program for the U.S. Information Agency.

The program faced a rough time.

The House Appropriations committee last week slashed the USIA's proposed $144,000,000 budget to $106,000,000—a 26 per cent cut.

The USIA budget is part of an appropriation bill including the State and Justice departments and the Federal Judiciary. The overall bill was for $563,799,793—15 per cent below Eisenhower's request.

Other congressional developments:

Postal—The Senate appropriations committee called a special session to act on the 41-million dollar emergency postal appropriation. Speedy approval was expected—opening the way for possible ending of postal service cuts before the weekend.

Conservation—The House passed a bill that would finally make the agricultural conservation program permanent. The bill was sent to the Senate.

Farm—The House voted supplemental 200-million-dollar authorization for future rural electric administration electrification loans.

New State Speed Limit in Effect

Topeka—The Kansas Highway Patrol has served notice that troopers will begin enforcing Kansas' new 70-60 mile an hour statewide speed limit on May 1.

Col. Harvey Schmedemann, Patrol Superintendent, said troopers would give warnings, even though the law is not in effect, but start handing out summonses in two weeks.

The law went into effect Saturday with the publication of the official state paper. It provides for a top speed limit on Kansas highways of 70 miles an hour during the day and 60 miles an hour at night for passenger cars.

The law sets 60 miles an hour as maximum for buses and 50 miles an hour for trucks of more than 5,000 pounds.

The Kansas Turnpike, which has an 80 mile an hour limit, is not affected.

Racket Group Starts New Hearings

Washington—The Senate Rackets committee began new hearing today on what it called "a classic example of the use of force and violence... and terror tactics by Union leaders."

The investigators concentrated on the Scranton, Pa., area and called as their first witness, Paul Bradshaw, a former teamsters union official convicted in connection with dynamiting of a house.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said in an opening statement the hearings will show that "some union officials engaged in bullying tactics and made use of violence and terror tactics to impose their will not only on certain segments of the business community but also on members of their own unions."

McClellan said such practices are a crime against the whole community and cannot be tolerated. He said he hoped the hearings will lead to corrective legislation.

Stability Restored in Jordan

Beirut, Lebanon—King Hussein restored stability to Jordan for the time being today, but the struggle for power in that impoverished Middle East land is far from over.

A new government purged of Communists and extremists and headed by Dr. Hussein Khalidi, a Palestinian with some sympathies for the West but with a bitter hatred of Zionism and Israel, had the difficult job of mapping Jordan's future between the contending East and West.

Jordan's reason for existence was largely eliminated with the recent arrogation of the pact which made it the base for stationing British troops in the Mideast and the recipient of British subsidies to keep its economy solvent.

But it still is involved in the great power struggle between the bloc of Arab states dominated by Egypt and the more pro-Western Arab states led by Iraq.

Old SC Members In Official Retreat

By GEORGE VOHS

THE FIRST OF TWO orientation sessions for new Student Council members got underway last night following a regular business meeting of the Council in the Union.

The program, designed to acquaint new Council members with the duties, functions, and policies of the Student Council, was launched by Student Body President Pat Wilkerson, BA Sr, who explained the positions of the Council in relation to other campus groups.

"The administration and the students need student government. Student government provides a contact between students and faculty, provides stronger alumni relations and co-ordinates student activities," Wilkerson said.

THE BASIC PURPOSE of student government is to provide a line of communication between the students and the administration, he said. "This gives the students an opportunity to air complaints to the administration."

Council committees must function well for the Council to do a good job, he said. The Council is the central governing body and all other student organizations are under its jurisdiction with a few exceptions.

Wilkerson brought a laugh when he inadvertently said, "The purpose of AWS (Associated Women Students) is to give women more governing over their body."

SLIGHTLY RED in the face, he concluded his remarks explaining that the Union Governing board was placed under Council jurisdiction to prevent friction and to bring closer ties between the Union and the student body.

Dean of Students H. Wunderlich next explained the position of the Council in relation to the administration.

Both organizations, the Council and Faculty Senate, "strive toward working together and furthering friendly relations," he said.

The faculty is primarily concerned with conveying knowledge to the students and doing research and hasn't time to do much worrying about extra-curricular activities on campus, he said.

FOR THIS REASON the faculty "permits student government to handle over $200,000 a year for these activities. The faculty values this program at that amount," Wunderlich said.

"We're all working on the same wave length with the desire to help students become the finest leaders in America. I hope we can move ahead together," he concluded.

Marilyn Smith, Soc Sr, next told what it means to be a Student Council member.

"Members must remember they are elected by the students and must represent the students at all times. It is a high honor to be elected to the Council and with that honor goes a responsibility that is a demand of time, thought, and service. The decisions of the Council mean a lot to the students," she said.

"PARTY LINES are forgotten and members must always remember to serve the students," she said.

Each officer of the Council then explained his duties and the meeting broke up into small-group discussions of committee activities.

Birmingham, England—Mrs. Mary Evans was fined $5.60 for attacking a teacher who gave her 12-year-old daughter a poor grade. She was charged with hitting the teacher with a basket, pulling her hair and knocking her across her desk.

Mrs. Evans recently was honored by a television program as a "typical housewife."

Amsterdam, Holland—Dutch breweries have found a new source of income. They're selling old beer bottles to the Army for use as dummy hand grenades in the training of troops.

London—A booklet for newlyweds published today by the British Medical association prescribed "a good double bed" as one of the best ways to assure a happy marriage.

A program for the coming year will be set up which will include plans for a field trip and setting up a booth during ag week.

A&S Elections To Be May 15

Election of students to Arts and Sciences Council will take place by May 15, it was announced by Chuck Wingert, His Soph, president of the Council, at a meeting yesterday.

An election committee will be chosen at the next meeting on April 24, to secure Student Council approval of the constitution and to make arrangements for the election.

Bermuda shorts will be in style May 8 in pre-celebration of Arts and Sciences Day, May 4. All students will be urged to wear bermudas to class on that day. The program planned for Saturday will carry out the theme, "Arts and Sciences in the Modern Society."

A letter to Student Council requesting $61.50 as a part of the cost for Arts and Sciences Day was approved by the group. They will pay $100 to complete payment of expenses.

A display to be received from the National Heart association will be included in the exhibit by the Bacteriology department, Wingert said.

Schedule of Workshops Told for Greek Week

The schedule of workshops for the first annual Greek Week, April 24 to 27, has been determined and leaders for the various sessions named, according to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr., publicity director.

"The workshops will be Thursday and Friday of Greek Week, April 25 and 26, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Student Union," said Roberts.

From 2 p.m. to 3:10 p.m. on Thursday four groups will meet. They are, V.I.P. workshop, room 206. Becky Cul-

Fall Scarcity Of Housing Is Predicted

"It looks as though married student housing will be very, very scarce next year," A. Thornton Edwards, director of housing, stated yesterday.

He said, "My advice to anyone living in an apartment is to make arrangements to reoccupy the apartment next fall before leaving school this spring." He urged students who cannot make arrangements this spring, to come to Manhattan during the summer and make arrangements for a residence next fall.

A great number of small apartments in town are listed in the housing office for occupancy next fall, according to Edwards.

He reported that for summer school, 42 students are on the waiting list for apartments at Jardine Terrace, while only 19 of the Jardine Terrace residents are expected to graduate.

The waiting list at Jardine Terrace for the fall of 1957 has 64 names at the present time, while only four students are expected to graduate at the end of summer school.

Edwards said the housing office now has 103 names on the waiting list for rooms at the men's dormitories in West Stadium next fall. This is the only men's dormitory on the campus, and it will house 176 students, according to Edwards. He stated this is a larger waiting list than ever before.

"The figures indicate to me that housing for men students will be scarce next year," said Edwards.

pepper, EED Jr, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Ron Pettit, Phy Sr, Delta Upsilon will be leaders. This group is for presidents, vice-presidents, and standards chairman.

V.I.P. workshop, section two, room 208, for treasurers, and house-managers. Jim Carpenter, FT Sojh, Delta Tau Delta, and Judy Crawford, His Jr, Pi Beta Phi will be leaders.

Pledge training workshop, room 207, for pledge trainers, assistants, and 1956-57 pledges. Dr. Charles S. Goetzinger, assistant professor of speech, faculty leader men's section, Bob McDowell, PrL Jr, Beta Theta Pi; and Dick Boyd, SED Jr, Pi Kappa Alpha are leaders.

In the women's section, Dr. Mary Frances White, assistant professor of English, is the faculty leader. Barbara Erickson, BA Jr, Alpha Delta Pi, is the student leader.

In the housemothers workshop, walnut dining room, Dean Helen Moore, dean of women, Mrs. J. L. Hollingsworth, Pi Beta Phi, and Mrs. Doris Erickson, Sigma Phi Epsilon, will lead a meeting of all housemothers.

The second group of meetings will get underway at 3:40 p.m. and end at 5:30 p.m. Thursday. The campus activity participation workshop, room 205, will be led by Bob Alexander, K-State Union activities director; Keith Swenson, Ar 04, Sigma Chi; and Rachel Pickett, Soc Jr, Delta Delta Delta; and is for all activity chairmen.

The workshops on sorority-fraternity relationships will be led by Dale Holmgren, RM Sr, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; and Sandy Arnold, HEN Soph, Pi Beta Phi; in room 206.

In the little theater, John Pacilie, Ar 01, Tau Kappa Epsilon; and Alberta Timm, HEB Soph, Kappa Delta; will lead a discussion on pledge leadership for 1956-57 pledges exclusively.

Friday, April 26, the participants will consider the "Role of the Greek in the Community," as Herbert Wunderlich, dean of students; Ron Bryant, ME Sr, Sigma Chi; and Gaye Fryer, HEJ Sr, Alpha Delta Pi; lead a discussion for Panhellenic, and Interfraternity council representatives, on public relations in the little theater.

Scholarship will be discussed by Assistant Dean of Students, Charles Jacot, and all scholarship chairmen in room 207.

'Everymans' Pilgrimage Dramatized at Assembly

That Everyman's pilgrimage will bring him to a place where he can help himself only by his own good deeds was the moral of K-State Players' presentation, "The Summoning of Everyman," in today's Easter assembly in the Auditorium. Original music was by Prof. Thomas B. Steunenberg, music department.

The play emphasized the brevity of human life, particularly at life's end. It showed how Fellow, Beauty, Pleasure, Jollity, and Strength fade in the last years of life, and Everyman is called to reckoning.

"My hope has been for Everyman that in my glory each should make his mansion," said John Barry, Sp Jr, playing the Voice of God, just after an explanatory quotation of the play from a messenger, Fred Martell, Ar 02, who entered the stage from his seat in the audience. "Tell Everyman that he must make a pilgrimage," boomed the Voice of God to Death, Herman Zilmer, Sp Gr.

Deceit and Cowardice, played by Dan Hahn, Sp Soph, and Bud Annan, BAA Fr, told "when persons fall, we are always there to puff them up again—Our lives are not so hard after all."

Sid Hutchins, Sp Jr, as Everyman, was unsuspecting of Fellow John Miller, EE Sr, and looked at him merely as "a faithful friend who did his bidding honestly." Always at Everyman's side, Conscience, Jim Johnson, PrV Fr, warned about the evil of flattery and other devices he might encounter in living each day.

Larry Woods Finalists

Eight Frosh Place In Speech Contest

Eight speakers have been selected to compete in the finals of the 12th semi-annual Larry Woods memorial speech contest. Forty-one freshmen and sophomores competed in the preliminaries held yesterday.

Finalists are Ken Lucas, NE Fr; Betty Larkin, MEI Fr; Jim Roberts, BPM Fr; Clenece Roberts, Sp Fr; Carol Korinek, MGS Fr; Richard Thomas, AH Fr; Robert Mueller, ME Fr; and William Warner, ChE Fr.

The final contest, in which three cash prizes and certificates will be presented, will be held in the Student Union little theater April 30.

Speakers will be judged on substance and significance of speech content, organization, physical and vocal delivery skill, and skill in language.

Judges are Joe Menzie, department of business administration; Doretta Hoffman, dean of the School of Home Economics; Dr. Robert E. Sager, Mrs. Walton S. Cole, and George W. Given, all of Manhattan.

The semi-annual contest was established as a memorial to Larry E. Woods, a former speech major at K-State, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Woods, Independence. To encourage young people to become better speakers, the Woods finance awards to the winning speakers.

The winner receives $30. Speakers placing second and third receive prizes of $20 and $10 respectively.

Ugly Man Competition

Three organizations were approved, an "Ugly Man" contest was okayed, and a raffle idea disapproved in yesterday's meeting of the Student Activities board, according to Joyce Graham, BA Jr, secretary.

The AFROTC organization was approved as a regular campus activity.

Youth of Restoration, a religious sub-group of the national Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, was approved by the board.

Sigma Alpha Eta, speech therapy organization, was given approval as a campus activity.

Alpha Phi Omega, honorary scouting fraternity, was given permission to hold an "Ugly Man" contest on the K-State campus. The purpose of the contest is to obtain funds for a campus beautification project sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

Each fraternity will enter a contestant made up to look ugly. Votes for the ugliest can be purchased with pennies.

The campus beautification project will include painting the building signs; erecting several large maps of Kansas State college; putting arrows on Poynz avenue pointing the way to the college; and installing sidewalks to replace the present cow paths.

One fraternity wanted to raffle a Hi Fi set and then contribute the money to the "Ugly Man" contest. This would serve the purposes of doing their share and also of having their candidate win. The idea was disapproved.

Foreign Study Grad Awards Now Available

CAPITOL RECORDS has put together a group of old favorites, interpreted distinctively by Nat King Cole, and come up with an album called "Two in Love." In the album, Cole lends his usual haunting quality to the tunes which are orchestrated by Nelson Riddle.

Songs included in the album are, "There Goes My Heart," "You Stepped Out of a Dream," "Love is Here to Stay," "Tenderly," "This Can't Be Love," "Let's Fall in Love," and "Autumn Leaves."

Readers' Forum

Dear Editor,

WE WOULD LIKE to take this opportunity to thank all our friends and neighbors who have been of so much help to us in our time of need.

We would like to thank all those who contributed to the fund which was under the supervision of Mrs. Verne Scott and those who helped her with it. Also the merchants who have given their help.

We feel very fortunate that our neighbors, Jerry Stegman, Don Canfield, and Bill Ogburn, discovered the fire and had it put out before more damage was done.

WE WOULD LIKE to thank the college maintenance for the work and time they spent getting our apartment repaired so promptly.

We also want to thank all those who found room in their homes for us and also those who have contributed clothing.

Words cannot express how grateful we are to all who have helped us but we would like to thank each and every one.

RCC Aids Manhattan As Well as Students

RCC President, Keith Landis

By SHARON TOTTEN

"I THINK ALL of the members of the Religious Coordinating council get satisfaction out of the knowledge that they are helping other people," said Keith Landis, Gvt Jr, who was recently elected president of the RCC.

"Not only do we help students on campus," he said, "but we help the entire college community, including Manhattan citizens."

Landis explained it has been found lately that few people realize what the RCC really is and what it does. The RCC was established with the purpose of coordinating the religious groups on campus, he said.

"WHEN YOU REACH a high enough plane in religion to realize that all religions are working toward the same ultimate goals through different means, then you can do some good."

"In RCC we try to help people see that other religions agree with their own so they can work together," he said.

Last year Landis worked on the sub-committee investigating segregation in Manhattan barbershops.

"WE TRY TO FOLLOW the golden rule, and when we see a situation where it is not being followed, we try to correct it," he said.

Landis gave credit for this year's Holy week program to the previous RCC administration, which held office until last week. "I think the past administration has done a good job on the program for Holy week," he said.

"I think the various evening programs are especially good," he stated. Each of these services is a full-scale church service of a different denomination, planned to give students a chance to gain an understanding of services other than their own.

BESIDES HIS WORK in the RCC, Landis is past-president of the Christian Science organization, a state officer in the Collegiate Young Republicans, and house manager at the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

This year he has been chairman of the State Resolution committee of the Collegiate Young Republicans and the Kansas State representative to the Midwest Federation convention of the Collegiate Young Republicans.

In YMCA this year he has been chairman of the committee planning a trip to the east coast for students. He explained that unfortunately this trip has fallen through because an insufficient number of students could afford the trip.

Sorority Tea Is Planned For Rushees

The annual spring rush tea, sponsored by Panhellenic council, for all upper class women interested in going through rush week next Fall, is scheduled for Saturday, May 11, according to Janell Farrell, TXC Jr, Panhellenic president.

Registration for interested women will be in Anderson hall and the Union on May 1 and 2.

The women who have registered for the tea will meet on the third floor of the Union and will be divided into four groups for the purpose of touring the sorority houses. The tea will be held at the houses.

No bidding or rushing will be done at this time, according to Miss Farrell.

On Friday, May 10, at 5 p.m., the Panhellenic advisor, Miss Mary Frances White, assistant professor of English, will speak to the women about the purpose and arrangements of the tea. This meeting will be on the third floor of the Union.

UGB To Establish Plan For Faculty Membership

The Union Governing Board to a 1¢ raise in the state tax, established a permanent system for selecting faculty representatives on the Board in their regular meeting last night.

The Board will nominate several members of the faculty and have them come to a meeting. Then two names will be selected and sent to the President for approval of one. Each representative will serve a three-year term.

Prof. Stuart Whitcomb, head department of Physics, moved that he be replaced this year, that Margaret E. Raffington, assistant to the dean of Home Economics, be replaced next year, and Prof. Samuel Keim, head of the department of Business Administration, be replaced the following year. This would set up the rotation of the members.

The Board also established the alumni representative's term at three years.

In other business, the Board decided to raise the price of cigarettes from 25¢ to 26¢ at the close of this school year. This was due Roger Tointon, LDs Jr, was appointed to set up some rules of procedure to be approved by the Board.

Bruce Wilson, His Gr, chairman of Program Council, gave a report on the Y-Orpheum. He wanted the Union Governing Board to decide if the Union should co-sponsor Y-Orpheum with YMCA and YWCA again next year. Action will be taken next meeting when more facts are available.

House Approval Due On Agency Cut Today

by Keith Kemper

Washington—The House today called up for final approval a deeply-slailed appropriation bill for the U.S. Information agency.

Administration forces held out no hope of restoring the cuts in the House. They looked to the Senate to do that—at least in part.

The House cut the USIA budget to $106,100,000 in preliminary voting—$37,900,000 less than President Eisenhower asked.

Other Developments:

Postal—Congress rushed through passage of a 41 million dollar emergency appropriation bill for the Post Office department. The President signed it in a matter of hours. Passage meant an end to most of the emergency postal service cuts ordered into effect last week.

Bonds—The House completed Congressional action of a bill that would make savings bonds a more attractive buy. The bill boosts the maximum interest rate on the bonds from 3 to 3 1/4 per cent. It was sent to the White House for signing.

Rackets—The Senate Rackets committee challenged the AFL-CIO to live up to its housecleaning pledge. It underlines the challenge by calling before it four Scranton, Pa., area union officials convicted in a bombing case.

Egypt Studies Attacks

Cairo—Israeli security forces accused Egypt today of instigating new Arab commando attacks from Jordan, Syria and the Lebanon to complicate the situation in Jordan where King Hussein has won a precarious political victory.

Dispatches from Israel, Jordan and Egypt emphasized that Jordan's political troubles were far from over. A Jordan source said in Cairo the new cabinet would be short-lived; the same prediction came from Amman. Israeli officials said Jordan's pro-Western and pro-Communist elements could not work together.

In Damascus, President Shukri El Kukatly denounced American policy and said Syria leans toward Russia because the Soviets did not ask for political or military concessions.

Cat Nine To Meet KU Here

K-State's baseball team meets Kansas' Jayhawks in Griffith stadium in a single game Friday and a double-header Saturday.

The Cats have a 3-1 record in play so far this season.

K-State and KU split a two-game series last year but the Jayhawks finished third in the Big Seven with a 6-5 record.

while the Cats were last with a 3-0 record.

Coach Floyd Temple lost only two regulars from last year's squad and has Eddie Dater, conference batting champion (.475) and Ron Wiley, league RBI leader (22) and home run leader (6), returning to lead the lineup.

Assistant Coach Merle Nay said the Cats were confident they could defeat the Hawks but that KU had a better team than last year.

"KU's Wiley is one of the best pitcher in the conference but we can do well if our pitchers do the job."

The Cat team will stay in Manhattan during Easter vacation in order to play the games.

Girl Sets Mark At AAU Meet In Swim Event

By UNITED PRESS

The 1957 National AAU senior women's indoor swimming and diving championships entered the second round of competition today in the wake of a new world record set by a teen-age California girl.

In yesterday's opening round of the three-day meet, 14-year-old Sylvia Ruuska of Berkeley, Calif., established a new world mark in the "decathlon" of swimming, the 400-yard individual medley, by splashing the distance in 5:08.0.

Miss Ruuska set the new mark in a qualifying heat; she also won the finals of the same event in 5:08.1, one-tenth of a second slower than her earlier record performance but still better than the previous world standard.

Miss Ruuska's 5:08.0 beat bettered the recognized world mark of 5:10.5 held by M. Kok of Holland, set December 10, 1955. It also shattered her own previous time of 5:14.9.

There was some confusion over whether her mark could be accepted, however, since the International Swimming Federation (FINA) has adopted a new rule for world records, effective May 1, that official times be recorded in a 55-yard pool.

Patty Kempner, 14, of Beverly Hills, Calif., was the second-best qualifier in the 400-yard individual medley at 5:14.2, bettering Miss Ruuska's American time.

IM Softball Slate Has 8 Tilt Action

Yesterday's intramural softball games were not played because of rain, but will be rescheduled at the end of the regular season.

The schedule today: 4:15 p.m.—Delta Sigma Phi-Theta Xi, southwest city park; Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Delta Tau Delta, northwest city park; Phi Kappa Tau-Alpha Tau Omega, west military field; Alpha Epsilon Pi-Alpha Gamma Rho, east military field.

5:15 p.m.—Kappa Sigma-Sigma Phi Epsilon southwest city park; Beta Sigma Psi-Tau Kappa Epsilon, northwest city park; Sigma Nu-Delta Upsilon, west military field; House of Brown-Jr. AVMA, east military field.

Vets Lead Clubs to Wins As Major Leagues Open

By UNITED PRESS

Stan Musial and Warren Spahn—two baseball gaffers—acted like old fire horses when they heard the bell sound for the opening of the 1957 campaign.

Musial, now 36 and in his 17th season with the St. Louis Cardinals, collected four hits in four official at-bats in pacing the Redbirds to a 13-4 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Spahn, who celebrates his 36th birthday Saturday and pitched his first major league game with the old Boston Braves back in 1942, got Milwaukee off flying by hurling a four-hit, 4-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

A crowd of 32,554 at Cincinnati watched the Redlegs absorb their worst opening day defeat in 46 years. And Musial emerged

KU Drops Cats In Golf Match; Smith Medalist

Kansas university defeated K-State, 8-4, in a golf match yesterday afternoon on the Manhattan country club course.

The Cat's record dropped to 3-2 as the Jayhawks shot no worse than 75.

Jerry Smith of K-State, the only Wildcat to record a win against the Hawks, shot a one-over-par 71 for medalist honors.

The results:

Gene Elstun, KU, (74) defeated Ron Young (78), 3-0.
Bill Saylor, KU, (74) defeated Dave Pfeutze (77), 2-1.
Jerry Smith, KU, (71) defeated Bill Hoalson (75), 3-0.
Bob Wood, KU, (74) defeated Joe Downey (85), 3-0.

as the biggest culprit, whacking out two singles and two doubles as the Cardinals bombarded four Cincinnati pitchers for 17 hits.

Spahn struck out five and issued only one walk in picking up where he left off last year, when he was the Braves' leading pitcher with 20 victories.

In other National league openers, Gino Cimoli's 12th inning homer gave the Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the Phillies and the Pirates trounced the Giants, 9-2. The Yankees opened defense of their American league pennant by edging the Senators, 2-1; the Red Sox turned back the Orioles, 4-2; the Athletics downed the Tigers, 2-1; and the White Sox clipped the Indians, 3-2, on an 11th inning single by Larry Doby.

Robin Roberts, who set a major league record last year by serving up 46 home run balls, opened the new season with three "gopher" pitches. In addition to Cimoli's winning blast, Roberts disappointed a record Phillies' opening turnout of 37,667 by giving up homers to Don Zimmer and Gil Hodges.

The Pirates scored six runs—five of them unearned—in the eighth inning while routing the Giants before 33,405 fans—the largest opening day crowd at Forbes Field in nine years. Bob Friend gave up 10 hits but was tough in the clutch as New York stranded 11 men.

K-State Thinclads Travel To KU Relays Saturday

When K-State trackman Gene O'Connor runs the 400-meter hurdles this Saturday at the KU Relays he will be seeking his third win in that event at the Relays, having won it in 1955 and 1956.

The only other K-Staters to win a KU Relays event three times were Elmer Hackney who won the shot put in '38, '39, and '40, and Thane Baker who won the 100-yard dash in '51, '52, and '53.

O'Connor will most likely meet severe competition from Texas' Southern, a 1956 Olympian who ran the 400-meter hurdles at Melbourne.

Another Wildcat seeking victory will be javelin thrower Ralph Willard. Willard threw 201 feet, five inches at the Texas Relays for third place after only a few days practice.

K-State's junior pole vaulter Karl Lindenmuth will be making a strong bid in the pole vault after being sidelined for two weeks with a sprained ankle.

He was scheduled to go to the Texas Relays but missed the affair because of plane trouble which forced him and seven other Wildcat trackmen to stay in Manhattan.

Lindenmuth will be meeting stiff competition also. Among those entered are Emporia State's Dick Utter who has cleared 14 feet twice since the beginning of the outdoor season, and Missouri's duo of Karl Englund and Bob Davis.

Willard Works for Success

By JIM CAIN

Ralph Willard, K-State javelin thrower, attributes hard work and persistence to his success in the javelin.

Two weeks ago Ralph threw the spear 201 feet, five inches for third place at the Texas Relays which marked the first time he has thrown better than 200 feet. He made this throw, his all-time best by 11 feet, three inches, with only a few days practice because of bad weather.

As for this week at the KU Relays, Ralph feels that he can easily better that throw. "I have had more practice and my back isn't bothering me like it was when I went to the Texas Relays, so I shouldn't have any trouble in beating it unless something goes wrong," the muscular 185-pounder said.

As a high school javelin thrower, Ralph was only mediocre. When asked exactly how far he threw, he replied, "I usually threw in the 160's but just exactly how far I threw I can't remember because there wasn't anything outstanding about it to make it worth remembering."

As for the future, Ralph is taking dead aim on the school record of 212 feet, 11 inches, set last year by Joe Powell.

"Ralph has the determination and the ability. Next year he should be even better because he will have competition from next year's sophomores," said Haylett.

Among this group is Sonny Ballard of Manhattan who just recently took up the javelin and threw it 192 feet—the first time he ever tried it.

During the indoor season, Willard puts the shot and does a respectable job of it. In the recent indoor season, Ralph took two firsts in the shot in a triangular meet with Chicago University and Western Michigan, and in a dual with Nebraska. In the NU dual, he reached his all-time best of 48 feet, 11 inches.

RALPH WILLARD will be shooting for bigger and better things at the Kansas Relays this weekend. He earned a third place in the javelin with a throw of 201 feet, 5 inches at the Texas Relays April 5-6. That was the best throw of his career by 11 feet, 3 inches, but he is confident that he can improve upon it. Among his goals, the 185-pound junior will be aiming for the K-State varsity record of 212 feet, 11 inches set by Joe Powell last spring.

In conclusion, Coach Haylett calls Willard a perfect trackman. "Ralph's main interest is the javelin but he still works very hard on the shot, mainly for the benefit of the team. That's the kind of trackman I like."

Garver To Face Bunning In Athletics-Tiger Game

By UNITED PRESS

The Kansas City Athletics, victorious in their third straight season opener, will go against the Detroit Tigers again today with both teams starting right-handers on the mound.

It will be Ned Garver for the A's and Jim Bunning for Detroit.

Tom Morgan, former Yankee relief pitcher, served notice he is determined to remain an A's starter. He held the Tigers to four hits in the 2-1 victory.

Gus Zernial produced a home run to cheer the 24,457 rain-soaked fans. The big outfielder also got a single for two hits in three trips to the plate.

Bob Cerv had a perfect day at bat, going two for two with singles.

A triple by Charley Maxwell, Harvey Kuenn's single and a fielder's choice gave Detroit its only run. It came in the eighth inning.

Morgan, who struck out three and walked four, permitted Detroit only one hit until the seventh inning when Red Wilson smashed a double. Morgan came to the A's last February.

Zernial's namer, a 330-footer that barely cleared the left field wall, came in the sixth inning. Singles by Jim Pisoni and Joe DeMaestri produced the other A's run. It came in the seventh.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

"After training... it's up to you"

That's what Alfred E. Morris says about the Bell System. "And that's the way I like it," he adds. "Right now I'm in a job I didn't think I'd have for ten or fifteen years."

The job Al thought was more than a decade away is Plant Superintendent for the Hutchinson district in Kansas with Southwestern Bell. "You can sum up my work by saying I'm responsible for the installation and maintenance of all telephone equipment in a large part of central Kansas," Al says. "In times of emergency—a tornado, for instance—I have complete charge of maintaining and restoring service."

Here's how Al describes the steps that led up to his present job: "I started out in Bell's management training program in 1951. This gave me an excellent opportunity to learn about all jobs in the company—not just the job I'd be doing. The program was well organized, and I got a lot out of it."

"My first assignment was to coordinate a dial conversion in La Crosse, Kansas, a quarter-million-dollar operation. My next assignments were in Abilene and Lawrence. Both carried increased responsibility."

"I knew I was moving along pretty fast—but I was really surprised when my present job came up. It bears out what my wife and I thought when I joined Bell—there would be great chances for advancement."

Al Morris graduated in 1951 from the University of Kansas with a B.S. in Industrial Management. He is typical of many young men who are finding interesting career opportunities in Bell Telephone Companies, Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Your placement officer has more information about these companies.

Six KS Students Fight Fires, Earn Way Through School

By JACKIE DuMARS

In case of fire, dial 345! This is the number of the power plant house of the campus' student firemen; who are working their way through school.

Chief of the crew is John

Roberts, ME Jr, who has four years of service. Irish Szatalowicz, PrV Soph, and Dick Boster, VM Fr, have been responding to calls for two years. Jim Roberts, PEM Soph, has one year's experience as a fireman. Newcomers in this role are Darrell Huggins, PEM Fr, and Riley Miller, BAA Soph.

If you should hear sirens within campus limits anytime between 5 p.m. and 7:20 a.m., any day of the week, you can be reasonably sure that these men are on another campus call.

Each of the men is required to be on duty in the power plant three or four nights a week and every night during vacation and the summer.

If you should ever be asked to their Fireman's ball, don't expect six men in black jackets and hats there to entertain you. The firemen can never get together outside of the plant.

"The 12-hour fire at the cattle barns in the fall of 1955 is the worst fire I've fought," John recalls. It took the full force of men and two of the fire engines to extinguish it. They did get the cattle out, however, and saved a great deal of the grain.

Once, they were called to combat a fire in the wrestling room of the gymnasium when a cigarette was dropped on the mats.

Recent jobs were the fire at Elliott court and the brush fire at bee yards northeast of the dorms.

The crew has three fire-trucks—a 1942 ladder truck, a 1937 pump truck, and a 1946 pump truck. Smoke masks, axes, and a 1,500 foot hose on each truck are part of their working equipment.

The men are not covered by insurance but according to Irish, there have been no major injuries that he remembers. They have three fire extinguishers for protection.

Case Bonebrake, supervisor of the physical plant, is not sure when the job of student fireman was created, but he thinks it was within the last 10 or 15 years.

Greek Week Council Plans Booklet, Trophy

The Steering council for this year's Greek Week has decided to publish a booklet listing all the events of the week. This booklet will be in the hands of every Greek on campus before Easter vacation, according to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr, publicity director.

"The council also decided to award a trophy to the organization that shows the biggest percentage of its membership attending all events during the week," said Roberts.

The Interfraternity Pledge council is selling tickets to the all-Greek dance which will be held April 27 to climax Greek Week festivities, according to Rex Pearson, BA Fr, publicity director for the Pledge council.

Marshall Grant Available

The fourth annual competition for Marshall scholarships, which provide study at British universities, is now beginning, according to Dean Harold Howe of the Graduate school.

These scholarships are awarded to 12 graduates of American schools every year.

Men and women under age 28 are eligible.

"Each scholarship has an annual value of $1395 with an extra $550 added for married men," Howe said.

Applicants for awards should contact Dean Howe.

Phi Kappa Phi Elects 67, Plans for Spring Banquet

Fifty undergraduate students, 11 graduates, and 6 faculty members have been elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary, at the annual spring semester meeting of the Kansas Beta chapter.

The candidates will be initiated in connection with the annual Phi Kappa Phi spring banquet scheduled at 6:30 p.m., May 7 in the main ballroom of the Student Union.

The eight students from the School of Agriculture: Roe E. Borsdorff, DH Sr; Willard G. Corns, AEd Sr; Roger M. Fedde, AH Sr; Raleigh J. Flanders, AH Sr; L. C. Garrison, DH Sr; Warren Lynn, TA Sr; Marvin Muckenthaler, AEd Sr; and Leon A. Siebert, AA Sr.

The 24 students from the School of Arts and Sciences: Larry L. Bean, PrL Sr; Ronald Christiansen, His Sr; Thomas M.

Robert P. Duncan, EE Sr; Lloyd R. Gaiser, CE Sr; Francis J. Honey, EE Sr; William C. Hoskinson, EE Sr; Stuart M. Hutchinson, CE Sr; Edward A. Rose, EE Sr; Frederick Suellentrop, ME Sr.

The two students from the School of Veterinary Medicine: Wayne M. Frerichs, VM Sr; and Franklin J. Heim, VM Sr.

The 11 candidates from the Graduate School: Harry Anthony, Pth Gr; Robert B. Cutler, Eng Gr; Clarence Dick, Ch Gr; James Dickson, Ch Gr; Martha Garrett, ChW Gr; Kenton Gruber, Ch Gr; Yao-Tong Hsieh, ChE Gr; Om Parkash Malhotra, Gr; Jack L. Mings, Agr Gr; Dorothy Miller, Eng Gr; Lloyd A. Taylor, Soc Gr.

The six elected faculty members: Orville W. Bidwell, associate professor of agronomy; James C. Carey, professor of history; Mrs. Myrtle G. Correll, associate professor of family economics; Drayford Richardson, professor of animal husbandry; Vernon H. Rosebraugh, associate professor of civil engineering; and Gustave E. Fairbanks, assistant professor of agricultural engineering.

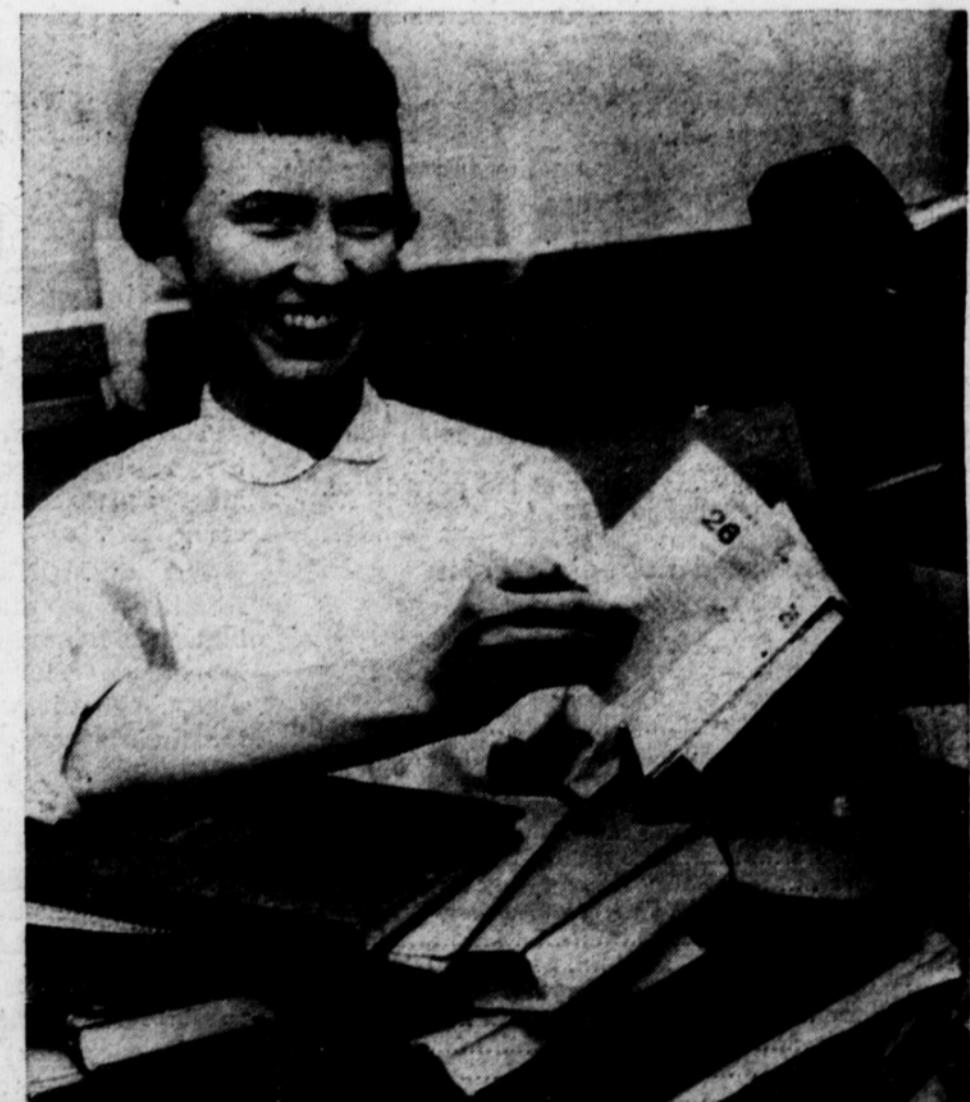

Green Grass, No Paths Is Aim of Mortar Board

Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, has found six new ways of saying "keep off the grass," as part of its program of campus beautification.

Sixteen pressed wood signs bearing a variety of reminders have been placed around the campus in areas where grass might grow if given half a chance. These signs will be used until the close of school and again during orientation week next fall.

Mortar Board member Anita Grimm, Soc Jr, hopes the students will stop making cow paths when they read "your feet are killing me," "beware, grass under repair," "let me grow lover," "detour, grass under construction," "the lawn you save is your school's," and "sad sod who trods."

Today or tomorrow K-fraternity, K-State varsity lettermen, will use a public address system to reprimand people not using walks.

"ALMOST OVER," think Shirley Sarvis, HT Sr, as she looks through her well-thumbed calendar. With thoughts of commencement, caps and gowns, diploma, and the future, Shirley finds it hard to concentrate on those last few weeks of school known as the time for "Senioritis" to set in.

K-State Union To Get Cooling

Air-conditioning will be installed in the Student Union sometime between July 1 and 15, according to R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the physical plant.

Work has begun on the cement base of the cooling tower. The tower should be completed about May 13, Gingrich said.

A control center will be the last unit to be installed, and it is expected to arrive May 31.

Degrees to More Than 800 At May 26 Commencement

Names of more than 800 candidates for degrees at spring commencement exercises were announced today by R. A. Anderson, assistant director of admissions and registrar.

Because of the large number of degrees to be conferred no formal commencement address is planned. A. D. Weber, dean of agriculture and acting president in Dr. McCain's absence, will confer the charge on the class.

The exercises will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 26, in the Field House.

Candidates:

GREEK WEEK activities began with a banquet in the Union last night. The Nightcaps, a quartet made up of, from left: Bob Sanders, MGS Fr; Jon Weigand, NE Soph; Janet Holm, EEd Fr; and Doug Exline, ME Fr, entertained during a break in the banquet.

Greek Week 1957 Officially Begins

Greek Week 1957 started last night with a banquet at the Union at 6 p.m. This is the first annual Greek Week at K-State and is scheduled to end April 27 with a dance in the Union main ballroom.

Speakers at the banquet were Gerald Tucker, coach of the Phillips 66 Oilers basketball team, and past Olympic basketball team coach, and H. P. (Jack) Davidson, national executive secretary of Theta Xi fraternity, and editor of the Theta Xi national magazine.

Vernon D. (Tiny) Foltz, professor of bacteriology, was toastmaster at the banquet where 500 Greeks were present.

Tucker told of his trip to the

K-State Union To Get Cooling

Air-conditioning will be installed in the Student Union sometime between July 1 and 15, according to R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the physical plant.

Work has begun on the cement base of the cooling tower. The tower should be completed about May 13, Gingrich said.

A control center will be the last unit to be installed, and it is expected to arrive May 31.

Names of more than 800 candidates for degrees at spring commencement exercises were announced today by R. A. Anderson, assistant director of admissions and registrar.

Because of the large number of degrees to be conferred no formal commencement address is planned. A. D. Weber, dean of agriculture and acting president in Dr. McCain's absence, will confer the charge on the class.

The exercises will be held

Only 20 More Days of Classes Left, Just 16 Collegians To Be Published

WELCOME BACK to the campus! Just for the record there are only 31 days until commencement; 26 days until undergraduate final week; 20 days of classes, not including final week; and 16 more issues of the Collegian. It won't be long now.

Greek Week may be termed successful if last night's banquet is any indication of how the rest of the week will go. Nearly 500 representatives from the various fraternities and sororities turned out for the kick-off of the week, the first of its type at K-State.

H. P. (JACK) DAVIDSON, national executive secretary of Theta Xi fraternity, and Gerald Tucker, coach of the Phillips 66

Oilers basketball team and past Olympic basketball team coach both gave inspirational talks to head-off the week.

The week could be dubbed worthwhile if the Greeks will turn out for the workshops planned for the rest of the week. Each fraternity and sorority could profit from discussing their problems with other students who have similar problems.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE committees who have worked hard in organizing the entire Greek Week.

Congratulations are also in order for Farm House fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority for their trophies awarded for outstanding grades last semester.—Jane Moore

Campus Industries Inc. Adopts Student-Designed Trademark

A TRADEMARK for Campus Industries, Inc., designed by Don Beck, ME Jr, has been approved, according to Jerry Holliday, ArE Sr, chairman of the executive committee.

Designed with a gear wheel, denoting industry, over a striped pennant, signifying the college, a large CI is centered in the wheel. Campus Industries, Inc., is written above the design, and "A Kansas State College Student Product," is below the pennant.

Done in a pastel purple, the design has already been made into a lead plate and a rubber stamp. It will be used to tag all products manufactured by the corporation.

AFTER LOOKING at 10 designs made by commercial illustrations students, it was decided none of them would fill the requirements. Beck, a member of the board, then designed the trademark and submitted it with others drawn by students.

The trademark's purpose is to promote a unity within the divisions of the industry and connect products with Kansas State. A meeting of the directors in E 207 at 5 p.m. today will start proceedings towards a patent, according to Holliday.

Chicago—The Illinois State Medical society says the common characteristic of a recurring annual illness "is a wish to depart from all routines which form a part of daily living."

The illness? Spring fever.

Fulton, Miss.—O. R. Cooper rode into town yesterday and tied his horse to the nearest thing to a hitching post—a parking meter.

He returned later to find a parking ticket tucked under the bridle between the horse's ears. Cooper forgot to put a nickel in the meter.

Chicago—Mrs. Rosemary Williams is puzzled about what to do with an orphan she found on her front porch.

The orphan was a duckling neatly parceled in a box with a five-pound bag of duck food beside it.

Over Half of HS Seniors Will Apply for College

Washington, (U.P.)—For about 700,000 high school seniors and their families, the next three weeks will be a period of fingernail-biting and floor-pacing.

The seniors are waiting for word on whether they've been accepted for admission to college. Most schools mail out notices during late April and early May.

The U.S. Office of Education estimates that slightly more than half of this year's 1,358,000 high school graduates have applied for enrollment in college. The vast majority will get in somewhere, eventually. But many will have to settle for their second, third, or even fourth choice of institutions.

Wherever they enroll, next fall's freshmen will pay the highest price in history for their crack at higher education. A government survey recently showed that the cost of attending college has approximately doubled since 1940.

Undergraduates at state universities and other public institutions will pay an average of about $1,500 each next year for tuition, books, room, board, clothes, travel, recreation, and incidental expenses. In private colleges, the average outlay will run close to $2,000 a year.

The one confident prediction that can be made about this situation is that it will get worse before it gets better.

College enrollment, already at an all-time high of three million, is expected to climb from five to ten per cent a year until it reaches about six million by 1970.

Top Ten Tunes

'All Shook Up' No. 1 For 4th in a Row

By Sharon Totten

"ALL SHOOK UP," by Elvis Presley remained No. 1 in Manhattan record sales for the fourth consecutive week and jumped from No. 10 to No. 2 on the jukebox list.

"Little Darlin'," by the Diamonds took over the No. 1 position on the jukebox crowing out, "Party Doll" by Buddy Knox which dropped to spot No. 4. On the record sales list, "Little Darlin," by the Diamonds, moved up a notch to take the No. 2 position.

"I'M SORRY," by the Platters moved into No. 3 and "Gone," by Ferlin Husky into the No. 4 position in record sales this week, while "Come, Go with Me," by the Del Vikings, dropped from No. 2 to No. 5 and "Round and Round," by Perry Como dropped from No. 5 to No. 6.

One old-timer, "Why, Baby, Why?" by Pat Boone, and two newer records, "Sittin' in the Balcony," by Eddie Cochran, and "Almost Paradise," by Roger Williams, dropped completely off the record sales list this week.

TOMMY SANDS' RECORD of "Teen Age Crush," is in the No. 7 position on the list of record sales and is 10th on the jukebox list. "Ring a Ding Ding," another disc by Sands, reached the Top 10 list for the first time this week.

"Round and Round," by Perry Como, dropped out of the No. 2 position to become No. 3 on the jukebox list while "Butterfly," by Andy Williams, dropped from third to fifth.

HARRY BELAFONTE'S, "Mama, Look at Bubu," moved up two notches to become No. 6 on the jukebox list, and "Come, Go with Me," by the Del Vikings, moved into the No. 8 position.

Top 10 records sold in Manhattan this week:

1. "All Shook Up," Elvis Presley
2. "Little Darlin'," Diamonds
3. "I'm Sorry," The Platters
4. "Gone," Ferlin Husky
5. "Come, Go with Me," Del Vikings
6. "Round and Round," Perry Como
7. "Teen Age Crush," Tommy Sands
8. "Party Doll," Buddy Knox
9. "I'm Walkin'," Fats Domino
10. "Ring a Ding Ding," Tommy Sands

Top 10 tunes on Manhattan jukeboxes this week:

1. "Little Darlin'," Diamonds
2. "All Shook Up," Elvis Presley
3. "Round and Round," Perry Como
4. "Party Doll," Steve Lawrence
5. "Butterfly," Andy Williams
6. "Mama, Look at Bubu," Harry Belafonte
7. "Why, Baby, Why?" Pat Boone
8. "Come, Go with Me," Del Vikings
9. "Gone," Ferlin Husky
10. "Teen Age Crush," Tommy Sands

"TEEN AGE CRUSH" was the first recording Sands made for Capitol, and this seems to have been a fortunate combination, because Capitol now has an album called "Steady Date with Tommy Sands."

The Capitol album, Sands' big debut album, contains both old and brand new tunes. Tunes included in the album are, "Goin' Steady," "I Don't Know Why," "Too Young," "Teach Me Tonight," "Graduation Day," "Gonna Get a Girl," "Too Young To Go Steady," "Ring My Phone," and "Somewhere Along the Way."

Many Events Scheduled For First Greek Week

Greek Week is officially in full swing, according to Pat Roberts, TJ Jr., publicity director of the event. "The event began last night with an all-Greek banquet in the Student Union and will continue until Saturday evening when an all-Greek dance will close the festivities for 1957," he said.

"Greek Week booklets were distributed to all Greek houses yesterday, in which the entire schedule of events for the week is printed," Roberts said.

Highlighting Greek Week is the trophy offered to the house which shows the largest percentage of attendance of the membership at each event, and the "Ugly Man" contest.

In the contest each fraternity nominates a candidate for the "Ugly Man on Campus," and anyone can vote for one penny a vote in either the Union or Anderson hall. The winner will be crowned Saturday night.

Friday has been declared "Grub Day," by the Greek Week Steering committee. "We did this to incite interest in the community projects in which all Greeks will participate Saturday morning," said Roberts.

The Manhattan Chamber of Commerce has declared this "Clean Up Week," to help the Greeks at the College and in an effort to make Manhattan a cleaner and more attractive city. All equipment and supervising of the community projects will be under the direction of Manhattan men, while all equipment will be furnished by the city.

The Party Hops, scheduled for Friday evening, will begin at 7 p.m. and end at 11:30 p.m., according to Pat Johnson, HT

Jordan Crisis May Test Ike's Mideast Doctrine

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—The United States may be heading for its first test of the Eisenhower Doctrine to help crisis-ridden Jordan in the Middle East.

This possibility arose today in the light of President Eisenhower's joint statement with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles last night that they "regard the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital."

The wording was deliberately the same as the language of the Eisenhower Doctrine, which offers U.S. military and economic aid to Mideast nations beset by international Communism.

Diplomatic observers here noted that pro-Western King Hussein of Jordan yesterday for the first time, blamed international Communism for efforts to break up his country.

If the United States decides Communism is behind Jordan's troubles, this could pave the way for application of the "Doctrine." American officials have repeatedly accused Russia of "fishing" in the troubled Mideast and have no doubt Moscow is trying to capitalize on the turbulent internal crisis in Jordan.

Tax Cuts Forecast

Washington—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today suggested Congress may cut taxes in January.

Knowland was the latest Congressional leader to suggest the possibility of a tax cut the first of next year.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. has said he believes a tax cut will be approved early next year. Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack have forecast the possibility of a tax cut in January.

Iraq: Troops in Jordan

Amman, Jordan—King Hus Ein mobilized the army and declared Martial Law early today in an effort to forestall a Communist coup.

The young king banned leftist political parties in an effort to take over the iron control of the kingdom.

He acted shortly after midnight to head off another day of leftist-led demonstrations against the government of Premier Hussein Khalidi.

Group Misinformed

Washington—The Senate Rackets committee, insisting somebody lied to it, said today it is sending the Justice department additional information to check against the story of a Portland, Ore., deputy sheriff.

The committee wrote a bawdy finish to its gaudy Portland hearing yesterday.

Two women dope addicts, one an admitted prostitute, testified that Deputy Sheriff George Minnely threatened them with jail unless they made false statements attacking the reputation of racketeer James B. Elkins, the committee's star witness in hearings on vice in Portland involving officials of the Teamsters Union.

Speakers Needed For Farm Tour

K-Staters with farm backgrounds and an interest in world affairs have a chance to turn their beliefs into action under a new program announced for this summer by Farmers and World Affairs, Incorporated.

Farmers and World Affairs is a non-profit, educational organization whose president is Edward Holter, National Lecturer of the Grange. Its board of directors is made up of persons who are leaders in the Farm Bureau Federation, the National Farmers Union, and Grange.

The organization will send teams of young people into various parts of the United States where, under sponsoring committees, they will do such things as speak and lead discussions of world affairs, and help plan exhibits for county fairs.

Students who are interested, able to speak effectively before farm groups, and who would be willing to travel where their services are most needed should contact Bruce Cutler, English department, or call 6-9187.

of this semester are eligible for early assignment.

In order to be admitted to the card rack, students must complete a proof ticket in accordance with their previous admissions.

Students are being admitted every afternoon from 1 to 4:45. Juniors, seniors, and graduate students in letter group A-G were admitted yesterday. Today those in group H-O will be admitted and tomorrow those in group P-Z.

This schedule will be followed for all others. Sophomores: group A-G, April 29; group H-O, April 30; and group P-Z, May 1.

Freshmen: group A-G, May 2; group H-O, May 3; and group P-Z, May 4.

Those who have class conflicts with the schedule will be admitted to recreation center on any afternoon succeeding their scheduled afternoon of assignment.

Proof tickets will not be accepted at the card rack until they have been checked against a list of closed line numbers which will be posted in recreation center. Students are advised to bring line schedules with them.

No more than 50 per cent of the hours of each full-time student assignment may be scheduled on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Courses clearly marked "GR" following for graduate credit must be the course title on the proof ticket.

Graduate students and seniors taking graduate work must check assignment and class cards with the Graduate school representative before leaving recreation center.

Students will not complete enrollment until next fall. After class cards have been pulled and carefully checked against the proof ticket, the class cards and proof ticket will be held by the registrar until fall. Completion of enrollment in the fall will involve filling out personal data cards and payment of fees.

The Student Union is accepting room reservations for the 1957-58 school year and summer, until Saturday, May 4, according to Loren V. Kottner, Union director.

"Applications received after May 4 will be scheduled on a first come, first served basis," Kottner said. Events for which applications are received by May 4 will be scheduled in accordance with the Union policy of student events first, college affiliated events, and outside group events last.

The College master calendar in the activities center should be referred to in order to eliminate conflicts. Both student and non-student events are listed on the master calendar," Kottner stated.

The activities center is the center for scheduling all events taking place in the Union building.

Classrooms or other facilities outside the Union building must be scheduled at the physical plant office in Anderson hall. However, student groups should check with the activities center before scheduling other campus facilities. Events which require use of certain buildings require clearance with the departments in charge.

New Men's Dormitory To Force Elliott Move

Construction of a 600-man dormitory at the north of Elliott courts will force residents of 64 student apartments to move, according to A. Thornton Edwards, director of housing.

"Buildings 2 to 8, 12 to 16, and 26 to 30 in Elliott courts will have to be vacated by June 1," he said.

"The College does not intend to ask anyone to move out of college housing," Edwards stated.

Non-graduating residents of the apartments which are to be vacated will be asked to move to Hilltop court or to the south part of Elliott courts.

There will be enough housing in Hilltop and Elliott courts to take care of families who are forced to move, according to Edwards.

He said notices will be sent to residents of the 64 apartments that are to be vacated.

Edwards reported the state architect has employed an architect to design final plans for the men's dormitory.

"The present plan," he said, "is to let contracts for the dormitory early in the fall of 1957 and to begin construction sometime during fall."

Edwards stated the 600-man sleeping wing and 600-man food service building will be completed by the fall of 1959 if construction goes according to plan.

Union Taking Reservations For Next Academic Year

Education has the responsibility for clearing and coordinating conferences involving off-campus personnel which are held on the campus," Kottner said.

Applications Due For Ad Manager

Applications for the advertising manager of the 1957-1958 Student Directory are due in K205 by May 1, according to Jerry Holliday, ARE Sr., chairman of Campus Industries, Inc. Campus Industries will select the manager.

The advertising manager for the Student Directory along with the editor, will select the type and quality of the Directory, decide the allowable ad space, and all the mechanics involved in putting out the 1957-1958 Directory.

The ad manager will receive a progressive commission rate.

"I MAY NOT be the ugliest man on the campus, but I'm sure a good average," says Keith Kemper, representative of Phi Kappa Tau in the Ugly Man contest sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

What Price Glory?

Voting for UMOC Is Now Underway

By SANDY WILSON

Peeved at all the emphasis on poise and pulchritude, K-State's ugly men will steal the limelight this weekend as they vie for top "honors" in Alpha Phi Omega's Ugly Man contest.

Voting booths opened yesterday in Anderson hall, Waters hall, and the Union. They will remain open until noon Saturday. Students may cast their votes with pennies and there is no limit to the number of times one person may vote. Proceeds will go to Alpha Phi Omega campus beautification projects.

Alpha Phi Omega has contacted each of the fraternities on the campus, telling them the rules of the contest. During intermission at the chariot relays Saturday, K-State's "ugliest man" will receive a traveling trophy to be placed in his house. He will also be given an engraved key shape of an ugly man's head as a memento of his achievement.

Alpha Phi Omega's president, Larry North, ChE Soph, says the desired effect of ugliness can be achieved with make-up and that winning the contest really needn't be a disgrace. Alpha Phi Omega plans to make the contest an annual event.

So far seven fraternities have entered contestants for UMOC. They are Phi Kappa Tau, Keith Kemper, TJ Soph; Beta Sigma Psi, Gordon Carlson, EE Jr; Sigma Chi, Warren Keegan, Ec Sr; Delta Sigma Phi, Larry Karlen, AED Soph; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Tom Isenhour, BA Soph; Phi Delta Theta, Ken Shafer, Geo Soph; and Alpha Gamma Rho, Allan Henry, Ag Jr.

Fraternities planning to enter the contest are urged to contact North if they have not already done so.

Fraternities Pledge 619 Since Start of School

A new group of 112 pledges to K-State fraternities brings the total number pledged since the beginning of the year to a total of 619, the largest number ever to pledge in a single year at Kansas State college, according to V. D. Foltz, faculty adviser for fraternities.

Nineteen of the 23 fraternities on campus which list new pledges are:

Acacia — Norman House, Ag Soph; Fred Loeke, AgE Fr; Keith McCluskey, Geo Soph; Leon Smith, AgE Soph; Richard Wiltfong, PrV Soph.

Phi Delt Earns IM No-Hitter

A no-hitter pitched by Clancy Norris of Phi Delta Theta highlighted yesterday's eight-game intramural slate.

A homer by Darrell Seaker with one man on in the bottom of the second inning put the game on ice as the Phi Deltas defeated Pi Kappa Alpha, 3-1.

A dual exhibition of hitting and pitching by Jim Holwerda eased Sigma Chi past Beta Theta Pi. Holwerda homered with two men on in the bottom of the last inning to break a 6-6 tie and win the game for Sigma Chi, 9-6.

Two homers by Ed Frankel plus strong hitting by his teammates disposed of three Lambda Chi Alpha pitchers as Alpha Kappa Lambda rushed to a 10-2 victory behind the pitching of Marlon Brack.

West Stadium played errorless ball as "Ace" Allen pitched a 6-3 victory over the Rho Alphas.

Westminster Foundation squeezed by Sigma Phi Nothing, 4-3. John Boring was the winning pitcher and Dale Taylor homered for Westminster Foundation. Gary Albright belted a four-bagger for Sigma Phi Nothing.

In other games during the afternoon, Wesley Foundation posted a 5-4 win over Phi Epsilon Kappa, OK House beat Newman club, 8-5, and the Aces forfeited to YMCA.

Blume Tops Hurlers With 2 of 4 Cat Wins

By JAY WORKMAN

Bill Blume is the top Wildcat pitcher, and Paul Bader, Roy DeWitz, Ken Nakari, and Gene Keady are the leading K-State batters, after seven baseball games.

Blume has a perfect record of two wins and no defeats for half the wins of the 4-3 Cat record. The next best pitchers are Warren Polak and Mike Lair with 1-1 standards.

Bader has seven RBI's and a .269 batting average. DeWitz has four singles, a double, a triple, and a home run to go with his .333 batting average. Nakari has a .353 average and Keady has a .555 average though he has been to the plate only nine times.

During Easter vacation, K-State beat KU once while losing twice to the Jayhawks. KU won the first game, 3-1, and the Cats took the second, 3-1. KU won the last contest, 11-3.

The Wildcats invade Norman for a three-game series with Coach Jack Baer's Oklahoma Sooners this weekend, playing one game Friday and a double-header Saturday.

The Oklahoma team has won the Big Seven crown four times in the last six years. Last year the Sooners finished with a 7-2 record as compared to K-State's 3-6 mark in conference play. One of the Cat victories was at the Sooners expense, 4-3.

Reserves Change Enlistment Program

A new Army enlistment program in effect now for the Army reserve training program extends the age group for enlistees to 25 and changes the number of years that enlistees must serve in the ready reserve training period after six months active duty to 5 1/2 years.

The original bill of '55 required a 7 1/2 year training period and was only for males who were from 17 to 20 years of age. The Selective Service national headquarters has stated that reservists who have entered on six months active duty training will not be inducted.

More information may be obtained by contacting the Army reserve in the Manhattan armory, 133 S. 2nd Street.

Washburn Opposes Cats On Links, Courts Today

K-State golf and tennis teams take on Washburn outfits in spring sports contests this afternoon.

The Cat netmen go into the home contest with a 4-3 standing, one of the wins coming at the expense of the Ichabods in Topeka, April 12, by 5-2.

Golf Coach Mickey Evans will take his team to Topeka for a return contest with Washburn, defeated on the Manhattan links, 13-2.

The K-State tennis squad, coached by Carl Finney, defeated Kansas in its last action, April 16, by a 6-1 margin on the K-State courts.

The Cat golfers tied Nebraska, 6-6, in Easter vacation action on the Manhattan Country club course. Prior to that action, the Cats dropped an April 16 meeting to KU, 8-4. The Cats will be trying to improve on a 3-2-1 mark.

Myers a K-Stater 50 Years

By DICK BOYD

For almost half a century, Frank L. Myers, director of intramural athletics, has been associated in some way with K-State.

Frank attended high school and college at K-State, was assistant to the athletic director for 22 years, and has been intramural director since 1948.

Frank, who is well satisfied with his present work, says, "I have always enjoyed working with boys. A person can stay younger himself by associating with them."

When Frank took over in 1948, touch football was producing a lot of injuries. Dr. B. W. Lafene, college physician, threatened to stop the sport unless it was made safer.

"We did away with the goal posts so that no more boys got hurt blocking extra points, put in the rule that the offensive team could pass the ball three times instead of one, and have had little trouble since," Myers said.

Badminton and freethrow competition were also put on the list of intramural sports when Frank took over the director's spot.

"Every boy should have some activity in athletics. One good thing about intramurals is that it reaches boys who are not quite qualified to compete in varsity sports. We try to make it possible for more boys to compete by having such sports as track and swimming. Our program has been reaching more and more boys all the time, but we would still like to reach more," he said.

Although the twinkle has not yet gone from his eye, Frank says with a grin that he has had to give up his golf game and now concentrates on fishing as a hobby.

The 65-year-old Irishman recalls with a proud smile that he was born in Wilsey on St. Patrick's Day. He also likes to recall the thrill he got when as a shoeshine and newspaper boy in Topeka he got a nickel for the two-cent papers he sold.

Frank first became associated with K-State in 1908 when his family moved to Manhattan and he enrolled in sub-freshman work at the College. The three-year period from 1908 to 1911 spent here was the equivalent of a high school education for Myers.

After graduating from high school, Frank took a six-month business course at a business college in Topeka and went to work for the Santa Fe railroad as a stenographer.

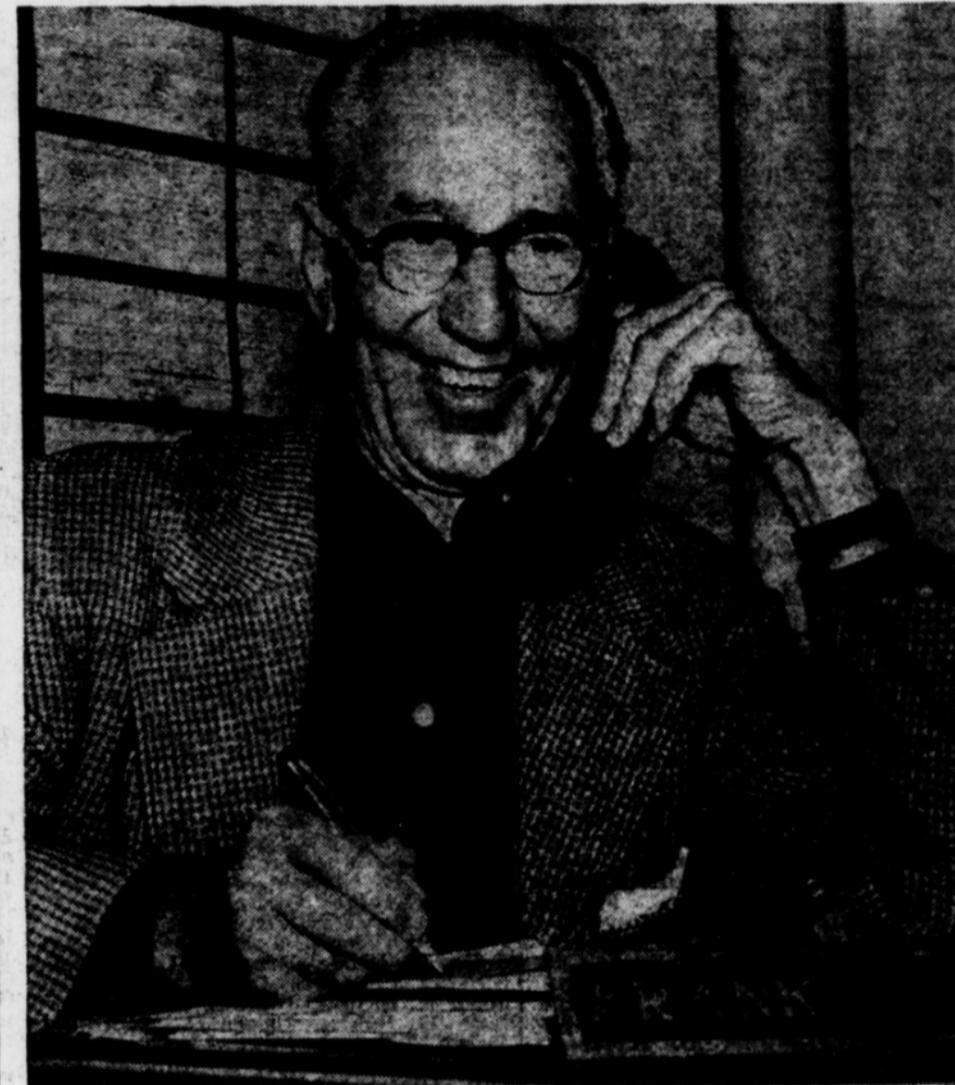

"In 1917 I went into the service. I went directly to officers' school, where I received a commission as a first lieutenant. I was what they call a 'ninety-day wonder.' I spent all my time training troops until I got out in 1919.

"President Jardine was head of K-State at the time so I went into his office and told him I wanted to go to school but didn't have any money. He told me to report Monday morning for work. That's how I got started working my way through college."

Frank attended K-State from 1919-1922 and did stenographic work to pay his way. Unusual as it may seem, he was majoring in music. He sang in the college glee club and was in several operas including "Mikado."

After graduation in 1925,

Frank came back to K-State as assistant to athletic director Mike Ahearn. He was with Ahearn until 1946 and remained as assistant to Hobbs Adams for a year and Thurlo McCrady for a year until he took over his present duties in 1948—from "Pop" Washburn.

FRANK MYERS, K-State's director of intramurals, has been attached to the College in one capacity or another for nearly 50 years. Although Myers majored in music as an undergrad at K-State, he has been connected with athletics for the most part during his long career.

'Hapless A's Top Indians As Brooks, Braves Win

Kansas City's Athletics, pegged for second division obscurity, clobbered Cleveland, 17-6, last night to move within a half game of the American league lead.

Chicago, rained out against Detroit, holds first place with 4-1, while the New York Yankees are second at 5-2, no games behind. The A's, 5-3 for the young season, have won three in a row after last night's action.

Hector Lopez, little Kansas City third-sacker, banged out three hits, two of them homers, for six runs-batted-in in leading the A's to the win. Harry Simpson, Lou Skizas, and Hal Smith also homered for Kansas City.

In the National league, Brooklyn and Milwaukee held to a tie for first with 6-1 marks, as each won a one-run contest.

Brooklyn, though held to five hits, exploded for four fourth-inning runs to overcome a 2-0 New York lead, and take a 4-3 win.

Milwaukee won 8-7 over St. Louis as Del Crandall hit a last-of-the-ninth homer with the score tied, 7-7.

In other action, Boston whipped Washington, 4-3, in a 10-inning American league contest; Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh, 8-5; and Cincinnati beat Chicago, 9-5, in National league action.

O'Connor Gets 2d At Kansas Relays

By JIM CAIN

Heading the list of record breakers Saturday at the KU Relays were the Texas quarter-mile and half-mile relay teams which broke a world record in the former event and the Relays' record in the latter.

Running on the Steers quarter-mile relay team were Wally Wilson, 1956 Olympian Eddie Southern, Hollis Gainey, and Bobby Whilden. That crew ran the distance in 39.9 seconds, 3 under the world record set in 1955 in Texas.

In the half-mile relay, the Steers broke the Relays' record by four-tenths of a second with a 1:24.2 clocking.

In an exhibition shot put dual between Olympians Bill Nieder and Parry O'Brien, Nieder defeated his opponent with a put of 62-2 to O'Brien's cast of 59-1. The defeat was only the second for O'Brien since he was graduated from college.

O'Brien, former USC great, said that he was not surprised by his defeat in that he had not worked out sufficiently. "I'm working at the City National bank in Beverly Hills now and, in order to hold down the job, I just don't have time to work out as much as I'd like," said the heavily sun-tanned O'Brien.

Nieder, jubilant over his victory, said that he had expected to hit 60 feet but hadn't expected to hit 62 feet.

In the discus, KU's Olympic champ Al Oerter broke the Relays record with a throw of 178-1, bettering the old record of 171-6 1/4 set in 1941 by Indiana's Archie Harris.

Lone scorer for K-State was hurdler Gene O'Connor who took second in the 400-meter hurdles. He was beaten by KU freshman Cliff Cushman who ran the distance in a record breaking time of 51.9 while competing unattached.

This was under the old record set by O'Connor last year. O'Connor was trying for his third consecutive win of the event.

O'Connor had bad luck in the 120-yard high hurdles when he tripped over the fourth hurdle in a final heat. In the morning session he had the fastest qualifying time of 14.1.

Winning the high hurdles was Charlie Batch of Missouri who upset Texas' Southern in a time of 14.1.

More Compete For Honor(?) Of Ugly Man

Pennies for campus beautification have put Delta Sigma Phi's Larry Karlen, AEd Soph, out in front of the "illustrious eleven" in the Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man contest.

President of Alpha Phi Omega Larry North, ChE Soph, reports that four more staters have decided to enter the Greek Week competition for recognition as K-State's "ugliest man."

They are Alpha Kappa Lambda's Larry French, BAA Jr; Kappa Sigma's Rex Horchem, BA Sr; Farm House's Ron Schultz, AH Soph; and Sigma Phi Epsilon's Sam Brookover, Ag Soph.

Voting will continue at booths in Anderson and Waters halls and the Union, until noon tomorrow. All proceeds from the Ugly Man contest will go to campus beautification projects done by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity.

Air Force Brass Makes Inspection Of Local ROTC

A team of three military men has been conducting inspection of the K-State Air Force ROTC detachment yesterday and today. They are sitting in on classes, watching classes on the drill field, and investigating the administrative offices.

The inspecting officers insure that the detachments are standardized in Air Force procedure and that training is consistent and up-to-date with present day concepts on air doctrine.

Each year the air university designates certain officers on the staff to inspect the 188 Air Force ROTC detachments throughout the United States.

Heading the inspection team this year is Col. Arthur S. Blum Jr., professor of air science at Stanford University. Assisting him are Lt. Col. Robert G. Gosforth, Maxwell air force base, Montgomery, Ala.; and Major Robert V. Truman, associate professor of air science at San Francisco State college.

SHAPE UP, BOYS, the Air Force brass is here! Three officers have been inspecting the K-State Air Force ROTC detachment yesterday and today. Shown as the officers arrived at K-State, are (from left): Col. Arthur S. Blum, Jr. and Lt. Col. Robert G. Gosforth, inspecting officers, Capt. Dudley G. Kavanaugh of the local AFROTC detachment, and Maj. Robert V. Truman, inspecting officer.

Bell, Myers, Boyd, Kraft Elected Publications Editors

Roger Myers, TJ Jr, and Sue Goss, TJ Soph, were named by the Board of Student Publications, in a meeting yesterday, to the positions of editor and business manager, respectively, of the fall semester Collegian.

Marcia Boyd, TJ Soph, and Marcia Sowers, TxC Soph, were named to head the 1957 Royal Purple yearbook. Miss Boyd was chosen editor and Miss Sowers business manager.

In other selections, James Bell, TJ Soph, was picked to edit the summer-school Collegian and Everette Mitchell, BA Fr, to be business manager. Jan Kraft, HEJ Jr, was chosen editor of the 1957 Student Directory.

Myers is a former sports editor of the Collegian and a former vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. At present he is assistant editor of the Collegian and president of Sigma Delta Chi. He is a holder of a Kansas City Press club scholarship in journalism, and is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Miss Goss was assistant business manager of the spring, summer and fall Collegians in 1956 and is working in that capacity now.

Miss Boyd is assistant editor of the Royal Purple, a member of the Royal Purple office staff, and is church editor of the Collegian. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi social sorority.

Miss Sowers has been a member of the Royal Purple business staff for two years and has won two K-Key awards.

Bell is a two-time winner of the Fay N. Seaton memorial scholarship in journalism and is currently sports editor of the Collegian. He is a member of Acacia social fraternity.

Mitchell is an advertising salesman on the Collegian. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Miss Kraft has been society editor of the Collegian and is now a member of the Royal Purple business staff. She is a member of Chi Omega social sorority.

Cleanup To Conclude Greek Week Agenda

K-State's first Greek Week is now in its third day and a full schedule of activities will involve about 700 students before the festivities end Saturday evening.

The Greek Week dance will end the affair. V. D. (Tiny) Foltz, faculty adviser for the Interfraternity council, says that approximately 500 couples will attend the dance.

Trophies will be presented to winners of the Chariot Relays and K-State's "Ugly Man" will be named during the evening.

The races will be Saturday afternoon in Memorial stadium, beginning at 1:30. This is the third year the Relays have been held. They are sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. Jim Whitford, Lambda Chi president, will present the trophies at the dance.

Students are casting their votes for the UMOC candidates by dropping money into ballot jars in Anderson hall, Waters hall, and the Student Union.

A Party Hop will be tonight from 7 to 11:30. Seven Greek houses will be open and fraternity and sorority members will rotate from house to house to visit.

The final day of Greek Week begins at 7:45 Saturday morning when Greeks will meet at 11th and Poyntz avenue for a group picture.

A city clean-up will be from 8:30 to 11:30. This event was planned by the Interfraternity council in cooperation with the City Chamber of Commerce and the Manhattan Beautification committee.

In case of rain the Greeks will go to the Community house and combine their work there.

Workshops are to be in progress from 2 to 5:30 this afternoon in the Union. Discussions in public relationships, rushing, and minor organized house problems are to be held.

College Opportunity Precipitates Tragedy

By Darrel Miller

A TEAR WELLED out of Henry P. Bronkwell's eye, dribbled down his cheek, detoured around his mouth, trickled through the stubble on his chin, then caromed off his shirt and splattered a dark stain on his blue suede shoes.

The music from the jukebox blared loud and blue, but failed to break into his consciousness.

Henry P. raised his beer mug and drained it. As he set it down, a sob gathered deep within him and rumbled out of his quivering lips. But maybe it wasn't a sob . . . maybe it was just a belch. If that's what it was, it sure ruined a damned fine tragedy. Anyway, just for the fun of it, let's assume that it was a sob.

HENRY P'S EYES were dim as he fumbled for his sack of tobacco and began to roll his own. Suddenly (it always happens that way) his hand froze in mid-roll. Tobacco spilled into his beer and onto the lap of his faded blue jeans. He stared at the door.

It opened slowly, and SHE walked in.

Ah! The things that were, and the things that might have been.

AS HENRY P. BRONKWELL watched HER glide across the floor to the bar, his mind was not upon her shining golden hair or deep purple eyes. Instead, his mind, razor sharp from years of college, raced back to THAT night so long ago.

As his eyes took in her fur coat and graceful walk, he was thinking of that autumn night when he left for college. He had strolled for hours across the pasture and through the corn field. Tired and out of breath, he arrived at the tree-lined lane.

SUDDENLY, AS HE SAT against a cottonwood tree, he heard a voice as soft and melodious as the long strong bong of a bright brass gong. She came near him in the lane—quite near—and he stroked her silken hair, and dreamed of his own farm.

On the morrow, he had forgotten, and betook himself after a college education. He buried himself in his studies, except for the usual light parties and beer sessions. Nothing had swayed him from his course. Only the gnawing memories had been able to shake his concentration, and he always managed to fight them off.

NOW, WITH HIS great day only weeks away—with the goal almost within his grasp—she was here, luring him back. Could he stay? Would he be able to resist the desire to have his own cozy little place? Would he take that job in the city?

SHE still looked much the same, a thoroughbred in every line. Only one thing bothered him as he watched her lounging against the bar.

What the hell was a cow doing in a beer hall?

Finish Those Polio Shots Staters, Here's Our Chance to Beat Texas

By Shari Shellenberger

HAVE YOU TAKEN all your polio shots? If not, what excuse can you offer?

Editors and college administrators throughout the nation have been lamenting the lack of persons who come to health services for polio shots, the Associated College Press reports.

The usual reason given for not getting the shots is APATHY. But a University of Texas student, in the Daily Texan, has a different view on the matter:

"I BELIEVE I CAN enlighten you on why the majority of University of Texas students have neglected to take their polio shots. It's very simple. They are cowards! Sissies! Fraidie cats!"

"The horrible truth is that they are afraid of the tiny stick of a hypodermic needle."

"I can indeed sympathize. My father is a doctor. My mother is a nurse. I feel like a sieve. Throughout my life I have been injected with vats of cold serum, penicillin . . . have had blood drawn in gobs . . . I have a terrific allergy for needles and would just as soon be hit by a streetcar as to be 'stuck.'

"BUT IT WOULD be better to 'suffer' the quick stick of a needle than chance suffering a life-long pain, wouldn't it?"

fraternity and sorority life," said Richard Rolph, TA Soph, who is Greek Week chairman.

"The purpose of Greek Week," he said, "is to bring Greek houses closer together. We are confident that Greek Week '57 will be termed a success and will set a precedent for years to come."

Rolph said he first became interested in promoting a Greek Week at K-State through his position on the Interfraternity council. He attended Greek Week at Oklahoma A&M and discussed the project with the Oklahoma A&M Greek Week chairman.

ROLPH WAS CHOSEN chairman of Greek Week last November, and has been working on it since that time. "My job was to coordinate the committees and I did a lot of work with each of them. I think they all worked very efficiently," he said.

The Greek Week community project will start Saturday at 7:45 a.m. when the Associated Press will take a picture of greeks sweeping Poyntz avenue.

Saturday morning 650 students will start cleaning and painting at Sunset park, Bluemont, the city parks, and the churchyards in Manhattan.

ROLPH SAID he would like to give special credit to Marilyn McCready, Eng Sr; Pat Roberts, TJ Jr; Jim Whitford, BA Jr; Larry French, BAA Jr; Pat Johnson, HT Jr; and Dottie Newton, DIM Soph, for the work they have done on the Greek Week project.

Rolph has served on several IFC committees and is a member of the Integrity party and Young Republicans. He has held offices in and is now vice-president of Theta Xi fraternity.

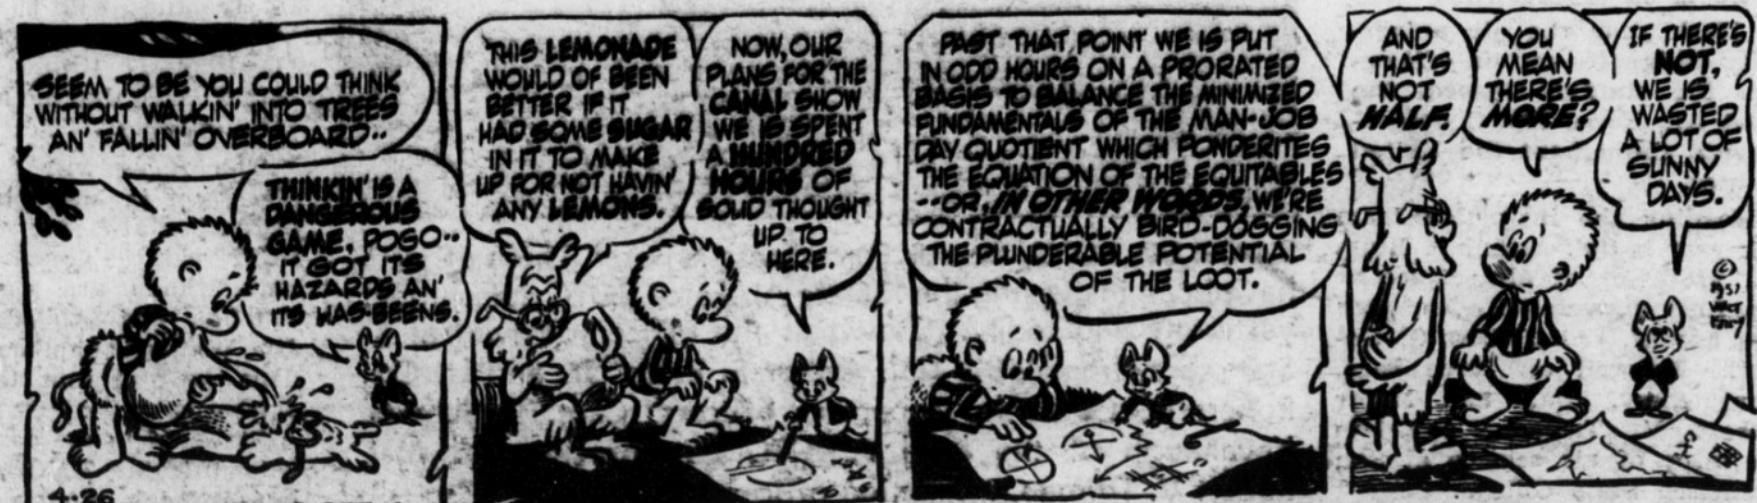

One of his main interests is music. He studies vocal music during the summer and was a member of A Cappella choir for one semester.

Now here, K-Staters, is our chance to be bigger and better than Texans.

A PERFECT DESCRIPTION of the parking situation here at K-State is this poem from the Ohio State University Sundial, entitled "Lament:"

"Oh pleasant is the odor of scholastic atmosphere
With text books to the front of men and teachers at the rear.
How gladly would I cogitate, and join each seminar
If only I had a little space to park my lousy car.
The books are full of learning, the teachers erudite
And it would be my pleasure just to study day and night.
But I must spend my leisure time a-digging in the mines
To summon up the extra cash to pay my traffic fines.
Alas, the campus grass is green, and warm the breezes blow
And in my scheduled classroom now the words of wisdom flow,
But I must keep on driving as I search both near and far
For a stinking little parking place to put my lousy car."

Shutterbugs Crawl from Cocoons As Spring Is Sprung; Camera's Eye Proves Not Such an Ugly Place After All

Anybody want to get some red (type A) filter, pictures taken on this film, appear as if they had been taken in moonlight.

"Of course not" everyone shudders, thinking of dragging out of the sack to tote camera equipment across the campus only to get there and watch the moon go behind a cloud.

It is really easier than that, though, to get photos that look a little bit like they had been taken in moonlight, even though they were taken in mid-afternoon.

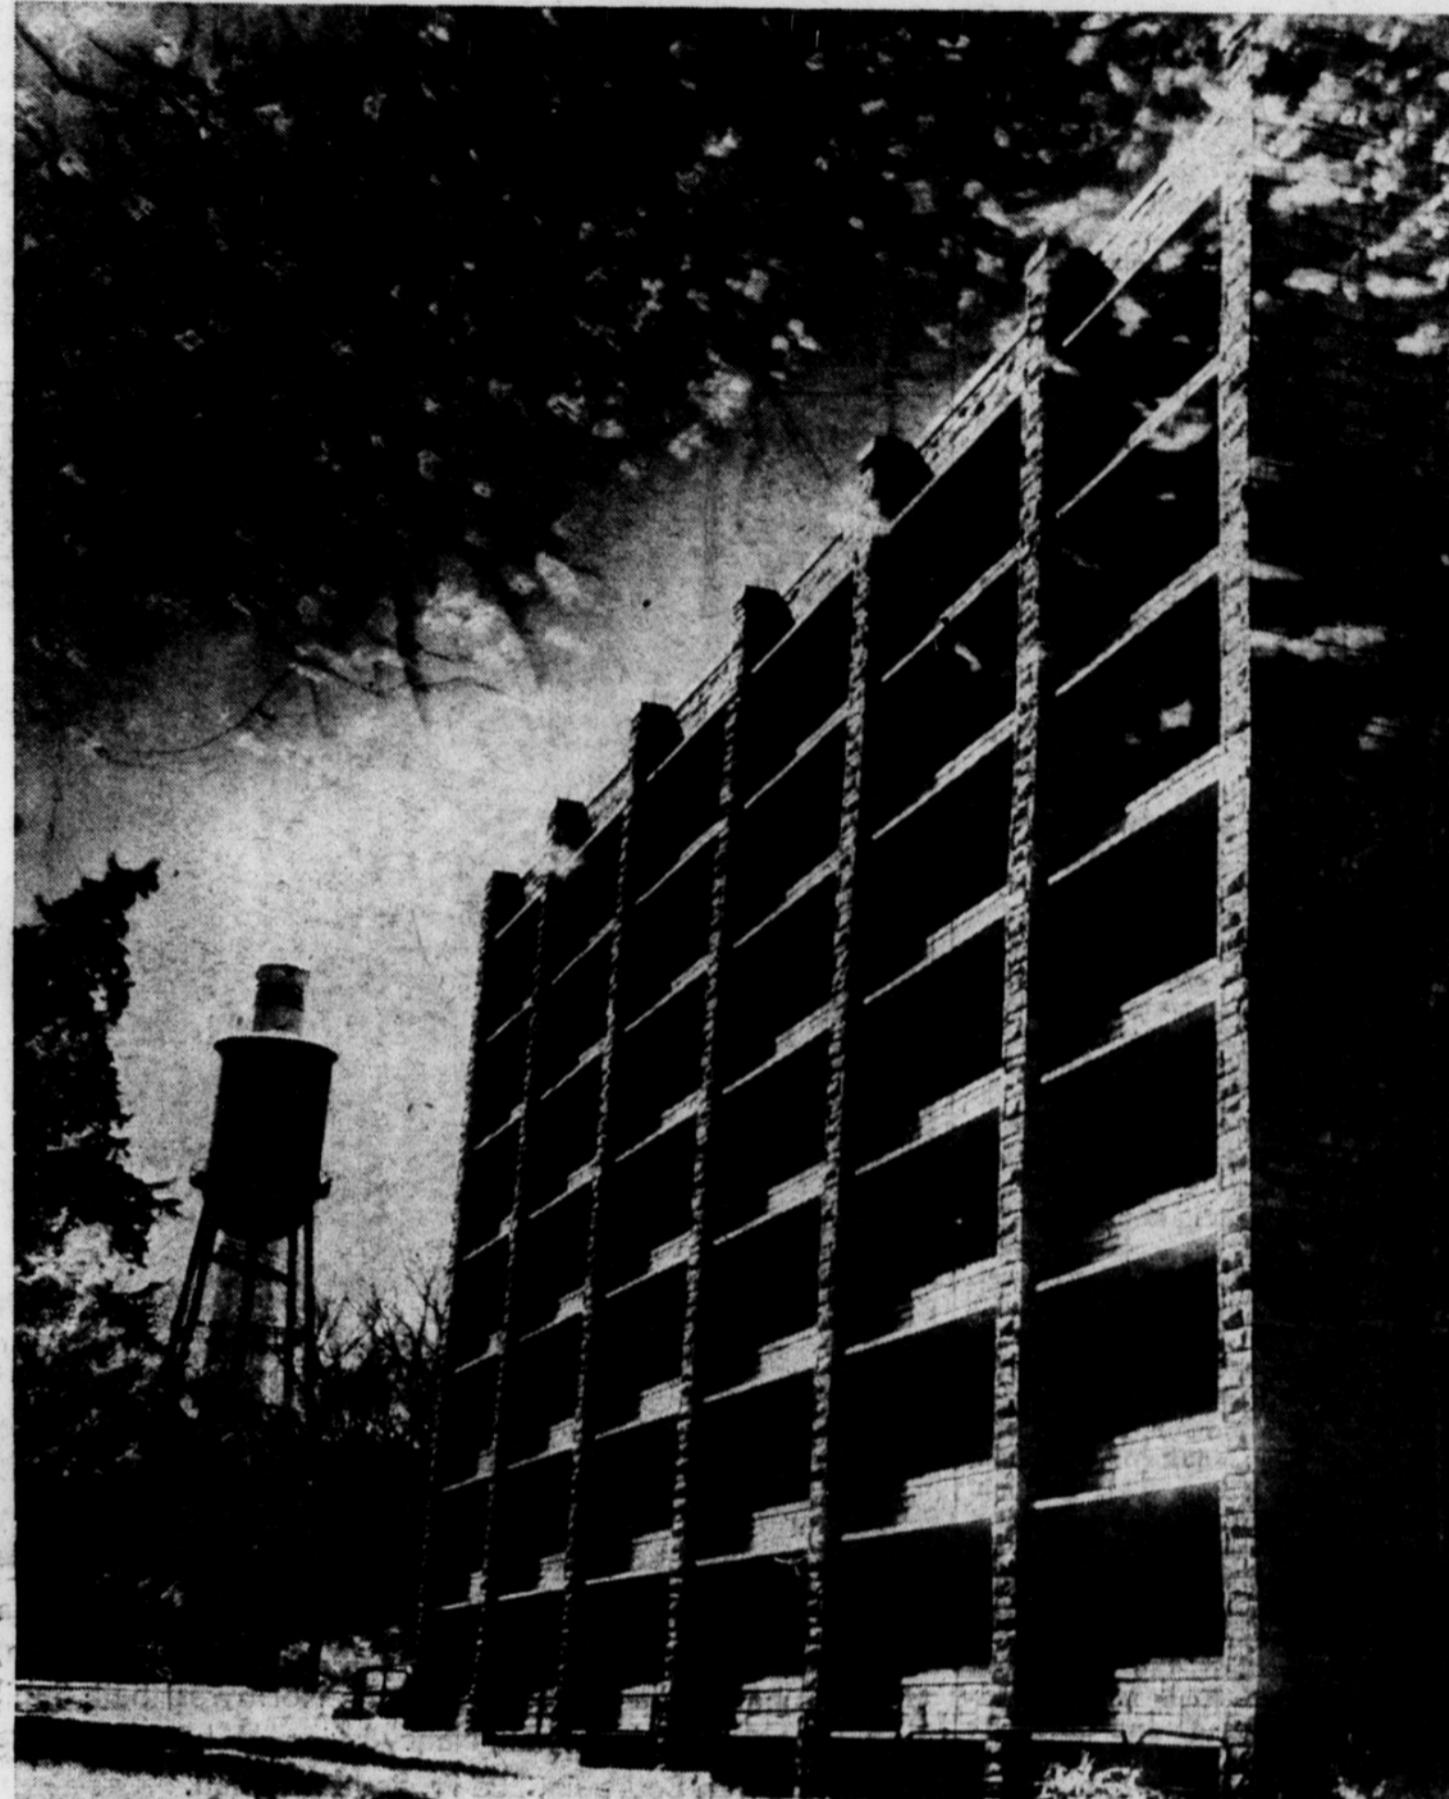

Infrared is the word. Infrared is a kind of film manufactured for years by several well-known photo firms, that is sensitive to infrared light. When used with a

It has the property of making the sky appear extremely dark, and stray clouds that might appear are vivid white. Just the contrast between clouds and the remainder of the sky offers a considerable moonlight effect. Tree leaves, or rather the chlorophyll in them, reflect all infrared light to which the film is sensitive. This makes them photograph white instead of the usual dark-to-black shades.

So, loaded with this remarkable film, an otherwise drab scene appears rather dramatic because the sky turns almost black, the leaves and grass almost white, and the building is a little darker shade, making the overall effect of a moonlit scene.

Aside from Anderson hall, boasting more photo "sittings" than any campus queen, there are many other buildings that warrant a little film, and which receive a new lease on their "phogen-icity" by virtue of the newly re-discovered infrared photography.

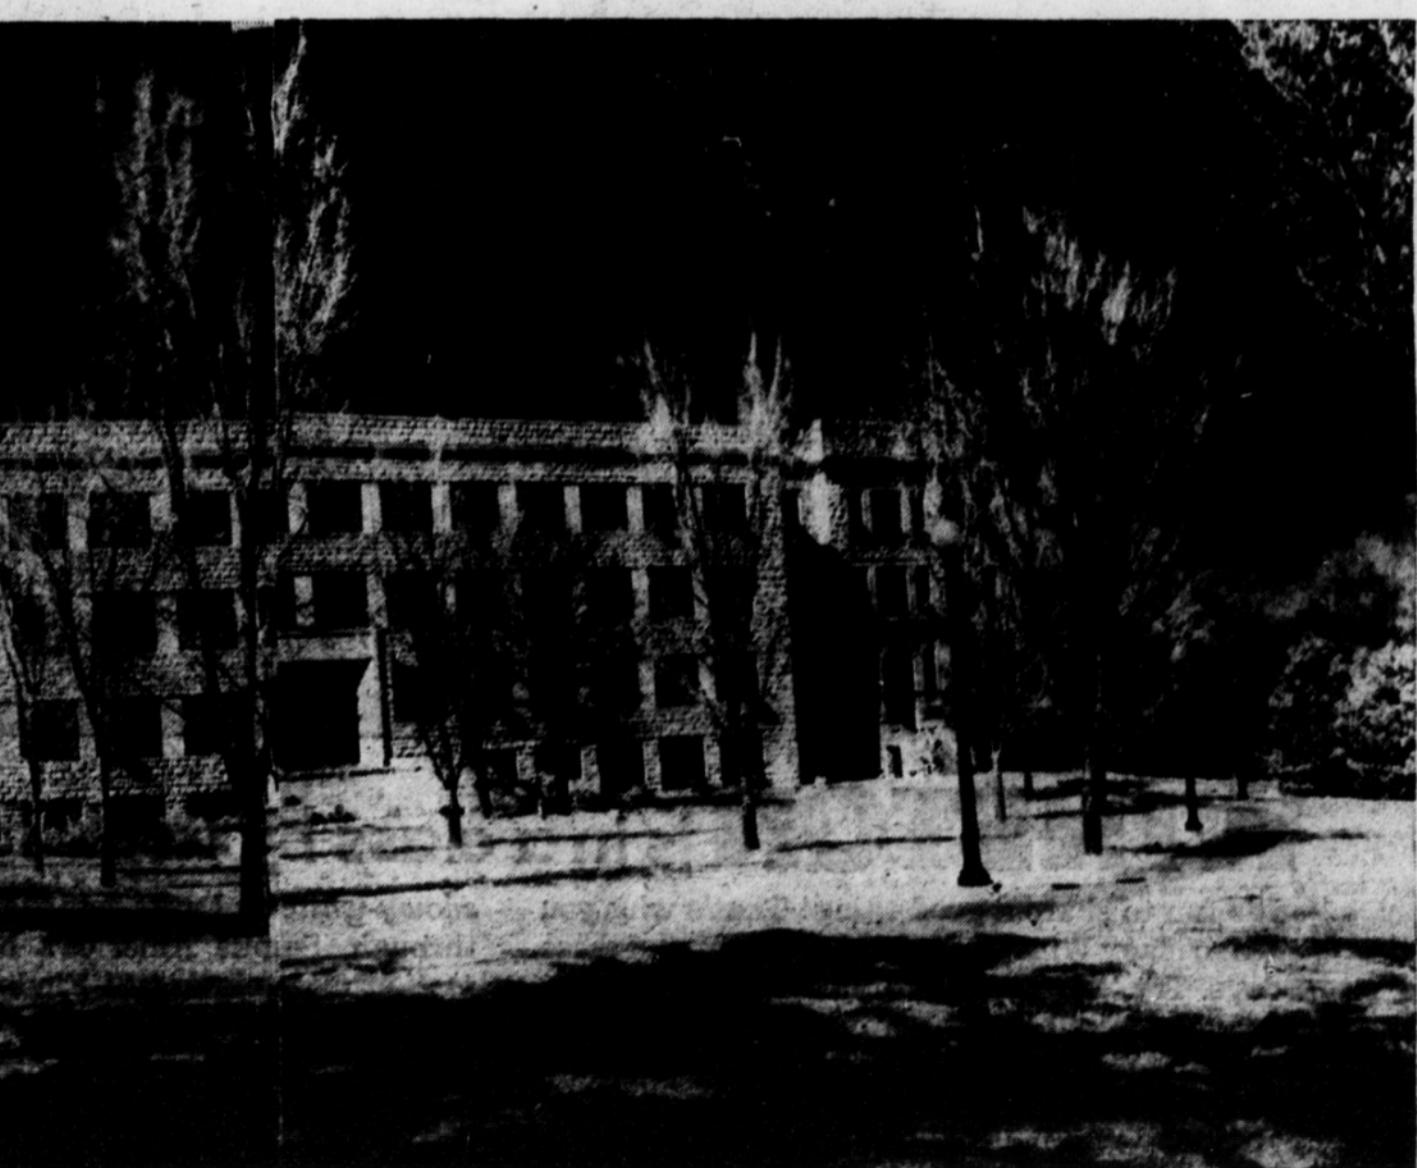

The only catch to this system is that the owner must have a camera which has shutter adjustments to one full second exposure, or a suitable time-exposure control that can be timed by wristwatch.

THE LIBRARY STACKS (above) stand solidly against a slightly darkened sky, as the newly-sprouted leaves appear as white blossoms. The slight movement apparent in the leaves resulted from an uncooperative wind during the one second exposure. Data: Infrared, 1 sec., f/22 Type A filter.

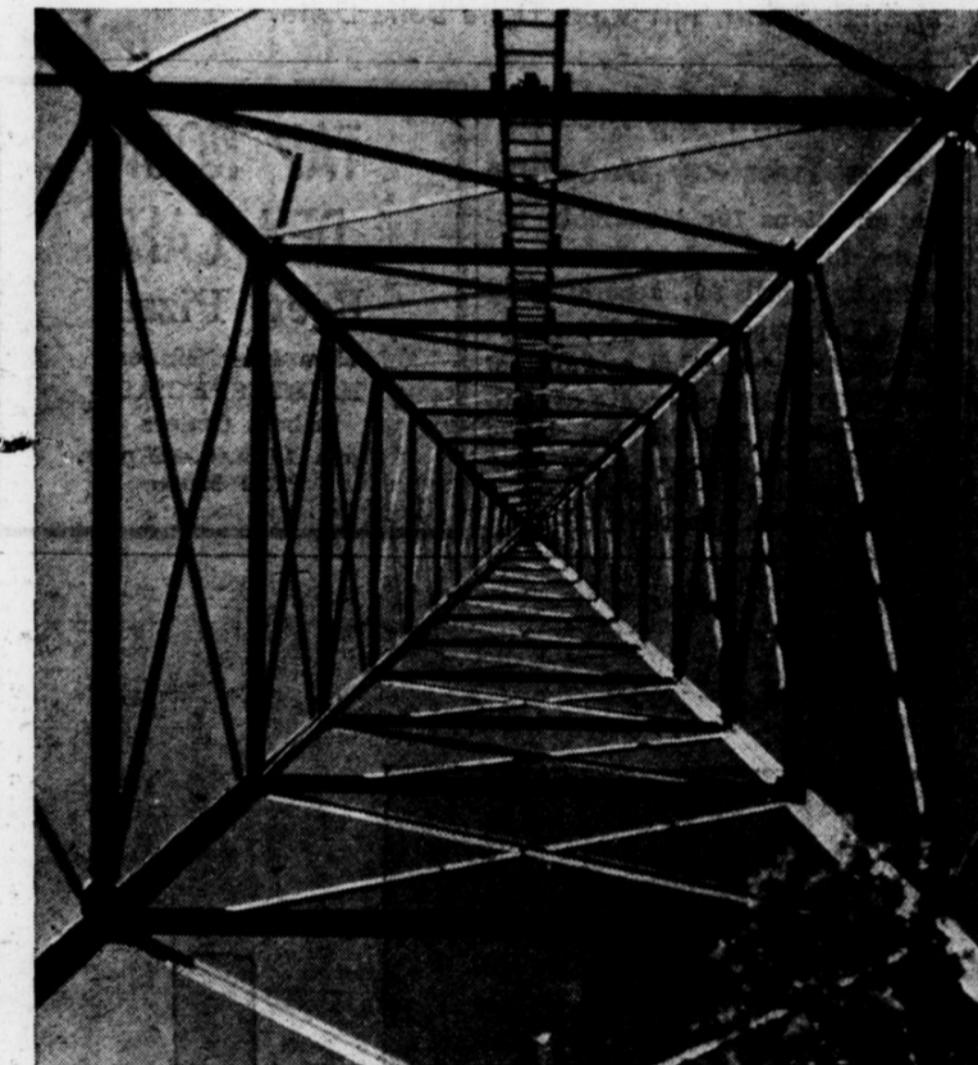

PATTERNS CANNOT be ignored as a part of the campus beauty (left). Here, an unfriendly appearing steel radio tower by Nichols becomes a pleasing geometrical composition. Infrared wouldn't do much for a scene like this. Data: Royal Pan, 200th sec. f/32.

A DOUBLE DOSE of camera "magic" (below) as Infrared is used to show the ag building at its best advantage. Rather than use a wide-angle lens, our lazy photographer took the picture in two sections, and the resulting perspective change makes the building appear a little crooked in the center. The white line you see isn't the perspective change, but where the engraving is pieced together. Infrared, 1 sec., f/16. Type A filter.

Alumni
News

Two Kansas State graduates of '55 are now enrolled in the Kansas university school of medicine. They are Charles A. Amstein, who graduated with a BS and was recognized by Phi Kappa Phi both his freshman and senior years; and Ali Akbar Arhab who got his BS in biological science. Arhab is from Iran. He was president of Cosmopolitan club his senior year here and secretary of the club his junior year.

Phil Worley, a '57 grad, is stationed in Korea with the Army. His home is in Salina.

Upon his graduation in '54 Alvin Charles Odgen, who received a BS in PEM, became recreational director of the Children's home in Atchison. He later coached and taught high school in Lyons and now teaches at Shawnee Mission high school and lives in Merriam.

Gilbert E. Johnson, BS '55, is civil engineer for Busboom and Raich, general contractors.

A former student at K-State, Ronnie Foote, recently soloed in a T-34 Mentor while undergoing primary flight training at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Saufley Field in Pensacola, Fla. Before being stationed there he completed 16 weeks of pre-flight training at the Naval Air Station, also in Pensacola.

Upon his graduation in '54 Robert Leo Tucker became a sales engineer for Wagner Electric corporation in St. Louis, Mo. He married the former Betty J. Elder, class of '53, and now lives in Forest Park, Ill.

Dean Orla Morton, BS '54, was in Blue Key, senior men's honorary; Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary; on student council; and was treasurer of his senior class while at KSC. Upon graduation he was with Motorola in Chicago for five months, before going into the air force, during which time he was stationed in Colorado and Ohio. He is presently with Farnsworth Electrical company in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Sigma Alpha Epsilon members will have a rush weekend for 20 boys this weekend. They will entertain Kappa Kappa Gamma with a buffet dinner at 4 p.m. Saturday and then host a house party Saturday evening.

Delta Upsilon

Pledges of Delta Upsilon had a house party for active members Friday, April 12.

Beta Sigma Psi

Beta Sigma Psi fraternity held a "bermuda shorts" party Saturday night before Easter vacation which included a barbecued hamburger supper, dancing, and card-playing.

Delta Sigma Phi

Red roses, a crown of white carnations, and an inscribed silver cup were presented to Carol Kellogg, HT Soph, as she was named Delta Sigma Phi Dream Girl of 1957 by Ray Lippe, AgJ, president of the fraternity.

Members and their dates danced to the music of the Five Guys from Emporia. A green background with white letters proclaimed "White Carnation Ball, 1957, Delta Sigma Phi" across the west wall of the main ballroom of the Student Union. A lighted, revolving pyramid in the center of the room flashed "Delta Sigma Phi" throughout the dance.

Chaperones were Mrs. F. Paul Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Whitcomb, Dr. J. R. Chelikowsky, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ames.

Wesley Foundation Center Offers Service for 2,200

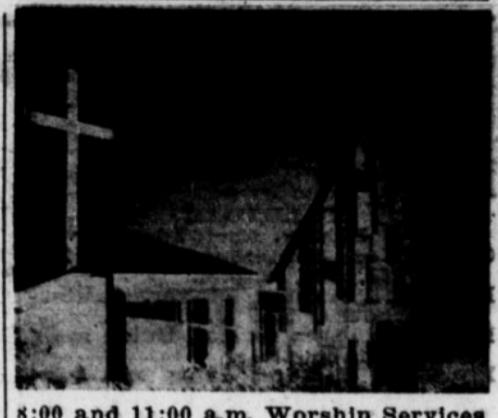

The modern, red brick building at 1427 Anderson, known as Wesley Foundation Student Center, annually serves almost 2,200 K-State students of Methodist preference.

The Wesley Foundation Student Center was dedicated on May 28, 1950, fulfilling a dream which began more than a quarter of a century ago. Instrumental in keeping this dream alive and bringing its fulfillment are the Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Rogers who came to Manhattan in 1922.

Next fall, the Rev. and Mrs. Warren Remple will join the staff of Wesley Foundation directors to prepare for the time when they will succeed the Rogers' who will retire in 1960.

Wesley members find outlets for special talents. The Wesley Players, a drama group, present inspirational plays at special meetings such as the Thanksgiving dinner. The Wesley Singers sing at Sunday morning church services and other special occasions.

Two other organizations center their activities at the Student Center. Kappa Phi, Methodist women's club, and Sigma Theta Epsilon, Methodist men's club, have 122 and 78 members respectively.

Soviet Volunteers Ready For Any Mideast Conflict

By KEITH KEMPER

Baghdad, Iraq—Reports circulated here today that Soviet "volunteers" are in position in Syria ready for action in any Middle East conflict.

The reports could not be confirmed officially, but there has been official talk of volunteers being provided from Moslem areas of the Soviet Union.

Authoritative sources said highly mobile forces of the Iraqi army are posed near the Jordan frontier, ready for instant movement if Jordan's King Hussein summons help.

The Iraqi troops were in alert positions in the desert no-man's land where Jordan and Iraq share an 80-mile frontier. The positions are roughly 180 miles east of Amman.

Change in License Agents

Topeka—State Highway Director Lynn Broderick said today he has replaced Republicans with Democrats as drivers license agents in about 225 Kansas communities in the past month.

Broderick said the changes have been made without fanfare in about 80 of the state's 105 counties. He said he hopes to have 400 agents switched to give Democrats the small political award that comes with the job.

Drivers license agents retain 20 cents from each $1 license sold.

The size of the individual "take" varies, but records showed that the Republican agent in Topeka last year grossed $6,031.

Drought Ease in South

Washington — The geological survey said today the eight-year-continent region and the Southwest was "eased somewhat" during the six months ended March 31.

The survey's statement appeared to square with the weather bureau's recent report that "upper air circulation patterns are changing sufficiently to give farmers hope that the severe drought may not return in the coming growing season."

"There appeared to be no critically short water supplies at

Theta Xi, PiKAs, Keegan Win Greek Week Awards

An all-Greek dance in the Union main ballroom concluded Greek Week activities Saturday. Trophies were presented to the winners of the third annual chariot relays, the first annual "Ugly Man on Campus" contest, and the fraternity with best participation in Greek Week activities.

Pat Roberts, TJ Jr., publicity director of Greek Week, presented a trophy to Theta Xi social fraternity for the best participation.

Warren Keegan, Ec Sr., won the first place trophy for Ugly Man on Campus. He represented Sigma Chi social fraternity. Proceeds from voting will go to the Campus Beautification fund.

Tom Isenhour won second place representing Tau Kappa Epsilon, and John Floyd, BA Fr, Delta Tau Delta, won third place.

Kenny Riley, BPM Soph, and Charlotte Strah, HEA Fr, received first place trophies for the chariot races. They represented Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Beta Phi.

Second place trophies were accepted by Jody Baird, TxC Fr, Delta Delta Delta, and Mike Cornett, AgE Sr, team captain for Tau Kappa Epsilon. Kaye Morgan, EEd Soph, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Bob Elgaard, BA Sr, team captain for Beta Theta Pi, received third place trophies.

"The Most Unique" trophies were given to Connie Morgan, HE Fr, Southeast hall, and Dale Galliart, ME Soph, team captain for Kasbah. The chariot was modeled after a cement mixer and called "Kasbah's Concrete."

At the community projects Saturday morning Greeks cleaned up Manhattan parks, church yards, and roads leading into the city.

Approximately 500 Greeks attended the party hops, Friday evening. Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Gamma Rho, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon were open for cards, dancing, and refreshments.

Thursday and Friday afternoons Greeks attended workshops where they discussed major and minor problems of running chapters.

Traffic Board To Organize Fine System

The college Traffic Control Board is discussing proposals for a "misuse fee" assessment for traffic rule violators.

Under the plans now being considered a misuse fee scale would be set up in the following manner. The first ticket would draw a $1 "fee"; the second, $2; the third, $4; the fourth, $8; and the fifth, $16. The sixth ticket would enter a "persistent violator" statement on the college transcript or personnel records of the violator.

A seventh ticket would be referred to the president for disciplinary action. Under this system an appeals board would hear cases involving violations and have the power to reduce or dismiss any charges.

Another proposal would establish a zone 600 feet from the perimeter of the college campus and prohibit anyone living in this zone from driving on campus. College housing renters would be allotted residential parking space but would not be given a general campus parking permit.

Chaparajos Select Five As Rodeo Queen Finalists

Gwendolyn Bourquin, EEd Fr, Southeast hall; Nancy Irvine, MEI Soph, Pi Beta Phi; Patricia Smith, Pth Soph, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Lewis, EEd Sr, Chi Omega; and Judy Horn, EEd Soph, Kappa Kappa Gamma, have been chosen as finalists for queen of the Chaparajos' annual all-College rodeo Saturday and Sunday in Griffith stadium.

Joe Coyle, VM Sr, president of Chaparajos, announced the selections after a board of five judges met with 18 candidates from sororities and girls' dormitories Sunday afternoon to pick a queen.

The winner will be announced at the rodeo Saturday.

The queen will be awarded a $25 prize and her four attendants, $5 gift certificates.

There will be two riding events, barrel racing and goat tying, for girls. The queen contest and the events for girls are new additions to the all-College rodeo.

Fifteen riders from Haskell Indian Institute will be at the rodeo for a match with the Chaparajos.

The winner of the all-around cowboy title will receive a $35 pair of riding boots and a $20 silver belt buckle. The winner of each event will be awarded a $20 silver belt buckle.

Events are bareback bronc riding, saddle-bronc riding, calf roping, bulldogging, and Brahma bullriding.

Admission to the rodeo is one dollar.

Coyle said any student of Kansas State who wishes to compete in the rodeo may still do so. Entries will be accepted in the main lobby of the Student Union until 5 p.m. today. The entry fee is $5 for each event entered.

Greeks Busy Electing Ugly Man, Cleaning Town

CHOSEN UGLIEST of all is Warren Keegan, Ec Sr. Keegan copped the most votes to win the Ugly Man contest during Greek Week.

GREEK GATHERING of 600 fraternity and sorority members are pictured above as they gathered at 11th and Poyntz Saturday morning before departing for the cleanup of Manhattan as a part of the Greek Week project. Projects included in the work session were the picking up of trash on Blumont Hill, entrances to Manhattan, Sunset Zoo, and the City Park.

Close of School Year Draws Near, Legislature Gives KS More Than Requested

WITH THE END of the school year drawing near, perhaps we should take a brief survey of what has been done this year and what is yet to be completed.

A new sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, was organized and received its charter making the 10th social sorority on campus.

In the way of things yet uncompleted, the first thing that comes to mind is that there has still been no change made in the activity card in relation to basketball admissions.

THE ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS organization finally got a start. How successful it will be is yet to be proved. It may take care of the organizing of campus queen elections but other than that its worth remains to be seen. It could be just another meeting to attend.

Speaking of queens, the number must have reached an all-time high. Nearly every organization and campus event has had a queen to reign over it. Surely there aren't many more possibilities left.

K-State students made another stab at a two-party political system and although the new party gained many votes, it failed in capturing enough offices to give it much of a hold on the campus.

STUDENTS SAW ANOTHER epidemic, this time enough to influence the Legislature into passing a bill for a new Student Health building. The Legislature not only passed the Student Health appropriation but okayed an addition to Kedzie along with other appropriations. They approved a campus traffic fines system which has not yet been put into effect. We hope this will be in full swing soon.

The Union is scheduled for air conditioning sometime this summer. But if it goes like most deadlines we won't hold our breath until the time comes.

Campus organizations and departments have made requests for appropriations from the activity fee for next year. We understand that the Appportionment board may have a scheme in mind that will help in more nearly satisfying the requests of each organization. The board will be meeting soon to make its decisions.

K-STATE HAS SUCCESSFULLY had its first Greek Week with a lot of good work being done to clean up Manhattan.

Mortar Board has begun another campus beautification project to rid the campus of its cowpaths and sore spots. Perhaps this is one project we'd better take to heart. Never can tell when you might see your picture looming in the Collegian as you walk across the grass. It could be embarrassing.

Along with all of these accomplishments and projects yet to be finished (mainly the activity card situation) the campus grade average dropped from a 1.388 to a 1.363.

—Jane Moore

THE GENERAL revenue appropriations approved by the Kansas Legislature gave Kansas State college $6,434,980 or $287,537 more than had been recommended for 1957.

This total represents a six (5.85) per cent increase over the funds allocated by the 1956 Legislature. The appropriation increase shown here does not include money from student fees and carry-over reserves.

BASE PROGRAM increases recommended in Gov. George Docking's budget included a five per cent increase in faculty salaries; additional faculty members, and increases in physical plant maintenance and library expenditures.

The governor recommended $448,889 for faculty salaries and the Legislature granted an additional $260,000 to make the total faculty raise 10 per cent instead of five.

THIRTY-EIGHT new staff positions were provided at a cost of $182,840. These positions were deemed necessary to handle the greatly increased enrollment.

The budget granted $112,388 for physical plant maintenance of the Library and the School of Veterinary Medicine. The physical plant share was $91,310; the Library $15,000 and the Veterinary school $6,098 for a radio-oligist.

APPROPRIATIONS granted for new buildings and physical plant expansion for the coming biennium from the Educational Building fund amounted to $2,059,000. Individually they are:

Student Health center	$ 450,000
Remodeling and equipping Veterinary Science hall	53,000
Equipment for the Animal Industries building	65,000
Conversion of Meats lab in Waters hall to wheat quality testing	35,000
Kedzie hall addition	375,000
Eisenhower hall addition	525,000

Agricultural Engineering building supplemental request	50,000
Home Economics building supplemental request	400,000
Dairy and Poultry building (planned)	25,000
New water main connection and pump	24,000
Remodeling two houses at Garden City experiment station	10,000
Industrial Engineering department metal storage shed	5,000
Machine shed and equipment at Colby

Floods Continue to Hit Texas

Dallas, Texas—Nine major rivers and countless streams today poured flood waters over Texas where people now are praying for the rain to stop.

Death and destruction in the form of flood-breeding rains, hailstorms, and tornadoes has poured from the sky over Texas, only recently a dust bowl, for 10 straight days.

The toll today stood at at least 15 persons dead and untold millions of dollars in damages.

Three persons died yesterday and the body of another who drowned Saturday was recovered. Hundreds of families scrambled for high ground as flash floods engulfed their homes. The latest line of disaster ran from Graham, 100 miles west of Dallas, to the Gulf of Mexico, 400 miles away.

OU Baseballers Belt K-State

Oklahoma defeated K-State in both ends of a baseball double-header, 9-0 in the opener, and 15-2 in the second game, at Norman Saturday afternoon as Allen Kiddy batted in three runs in each game for the Sooners.

The single game scheduled for Friday was rained out. All games which are rained out are automatically cancelled.

One of the three hits Kiddy collected in the first game was a homer. He had one hit, a single in the second game.

The losses left K-State with a

2-5 league record and 4-5 for all games. Oklahoma now has a 3-1 league record.

Righthander Eddie Fisher won his third game of the season in the opener although he had to leave the game in the fifth inning when Wally Carlson's double hit his pitching arm. In the second game, Tony Risinger won his first game of the season.

The Sooners rocked three K-State pitchers for a total of 14 hits in the second game. Bill Sinderson and John Lair each allowed six runs in the game. Three of the runs Sinderson gave up in the 1 1/2 innings he worked were unearned.

The Sooners started fast in the first game with three runs in the first inning. They didn't score again until the fourth inning when they sent four runs across the plate.

Cats Lose, 11-1 On Golf Links To A&M Outfit

K-State golfers lost to the undefeated Oklahoma Aggies, 11-1, here Friday.

The Cats record for the season is 4-3-1 while the Aggies stand at 9-0.

Jack Ellis, Oklahoma's No. 4 man, was medalist with a 72 over the par-70 Manhattan Country Club course.

The Aggies poorest score was better than K-State's best, and that fact, along with the 18-0 drubbing of the Cats on the Aggies' home course earlier this year, indicates that the Oklahoma linksters are the toughest competition on K-State's schedule this season.

The results.

Jack Parnell, A&M, (76) defeated Ron Young (77), 2-1.
Art Hall, A&M, (76) defeated Joe Downey (86), 3-0.
Louie Rada, A&M, (75) defeated Jerry Smith (81), 3-0.
Jack Ellis, A&M, (72) defeated Dave Pfuetze (77), 3-0.

Ace Allen Hurls No-Hitter To Top IM Softball Slate

Dick (Ace) Allen of West Stadium was the hero of Friday's intramural softball action as he pitched his team to a 7-1, no-hit victory over Westminster Foundation.

Allen fanned 12 of the 18 batters he faced during the game.

The Newman Club defeated the Aces 7-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Hector Puig.

Netmen Win, 7-0 In Shutout of WU

K-State defeated Wichita university's tennis team 7-0 here Saturday afternoon.

The Wildcats won every match, but the Shockers pushed the Cats in the No. 2, 3, and 5 singles and the No. 2 doubles.

The results:

Dick Circle, (KS) defeated Stan Allen, 6-3, 6-2.
Allan Chaplin, (KS) defeated Jack Hewitt, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4.
Keith Andler, (KS) defeated Marion Shropshire, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.
Jim Holwerda, (KS) defeated Dick Fitzgerald, 6-0, 6-0.
Eddie Wallace, (KS) defeated Garry DeWoody, 6-4, 7-9, 6-1.
Circle and Chaplin, (KS) defeated Allen and Fitzgerald, 6-0, 6-0.
Don Wainscott and Wallace (KS) defeated Hewitt and Shropshire, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Beta Theta Phi's Bill Laude. The Betas beat Alpha Kappa Lambda, 5-1.

Pi Kappa Alpha beat Sigma Chi, 3-1, in a game which wasn't decided until the last inning.

PiKA scored all three runs in that last inning as Jim Hines stole home for the first score and Julius Lincoln hit a triple to drive in the other two.

House of Williams edged OK House, 3-2, in another tight contest.

Jr AVMA scored seven runs in the first inning of its game with House of Breck and went on to win, 18-0.

Disciples Student Fellowship beat Sigma Phi Nothing, 8-3, although the game was tied, 3-3, at the end of the second inning.

In the other game of the day, House of Brown beat Phi Epsilon Kappa, 9-4.

Eight games are scheduled today. 4:15 p.m.—Lambda Chi Alpha-Phi Delta Theta, southwest city park; Theta Xi-Kappa Sigma, northwest city park; Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Alpha Tau Omega, west military field; Delta Tau Delta-Beta Sigma Psi, east military field.
5:15 p.m.—Phi Kappa-Sigma Phi Epsilon, southwest city park; Acacia-Delta Sigma Phi, northwest city park; Tau Kappa Epsilon-Phi Kappa Tau, west military field; Delta Upsilon-Alpha Epsilon Pi, east military field.

Hurdler Tops Cats In Weekend Track

K-State's track team divided into two squads over the weekend, with one group traveling to the Drake Relays at Des Moines and the other going to the Colorado Relays at Boulder.

At the Drake Relays, junior hurdler Gene O'Connor led a group of five men by taking second in the 440-yard high hurdles and the third in the 120-yard high hurdles.

O'Connor was barely beaten in the 440-yard hurdles by Notre Dame's Aubrey Lewis in a race so close that both were timed in 58.7.

Junior Ralph Willard took second in the javelin with his all-time best throw of 203 feet, three inches.

At Boulder the Wildcats tied for third in the team standings with Fort Hays State by scoring six points.

Top individual effort for the 'Cats came in the pole vault where junior Karl Lindenmuth tied for second with a vault of 13 feet, six inches.

Senior hurdler Gary Dougan was the only other K-Stater to score individually when he took fourth place in the 120-yard high hurdles.

The Wildcat's also tied for first in the mile relay with Colorado with a time of 4:36 and took third in the distance medley relay.

IM Meeting Is Tonight

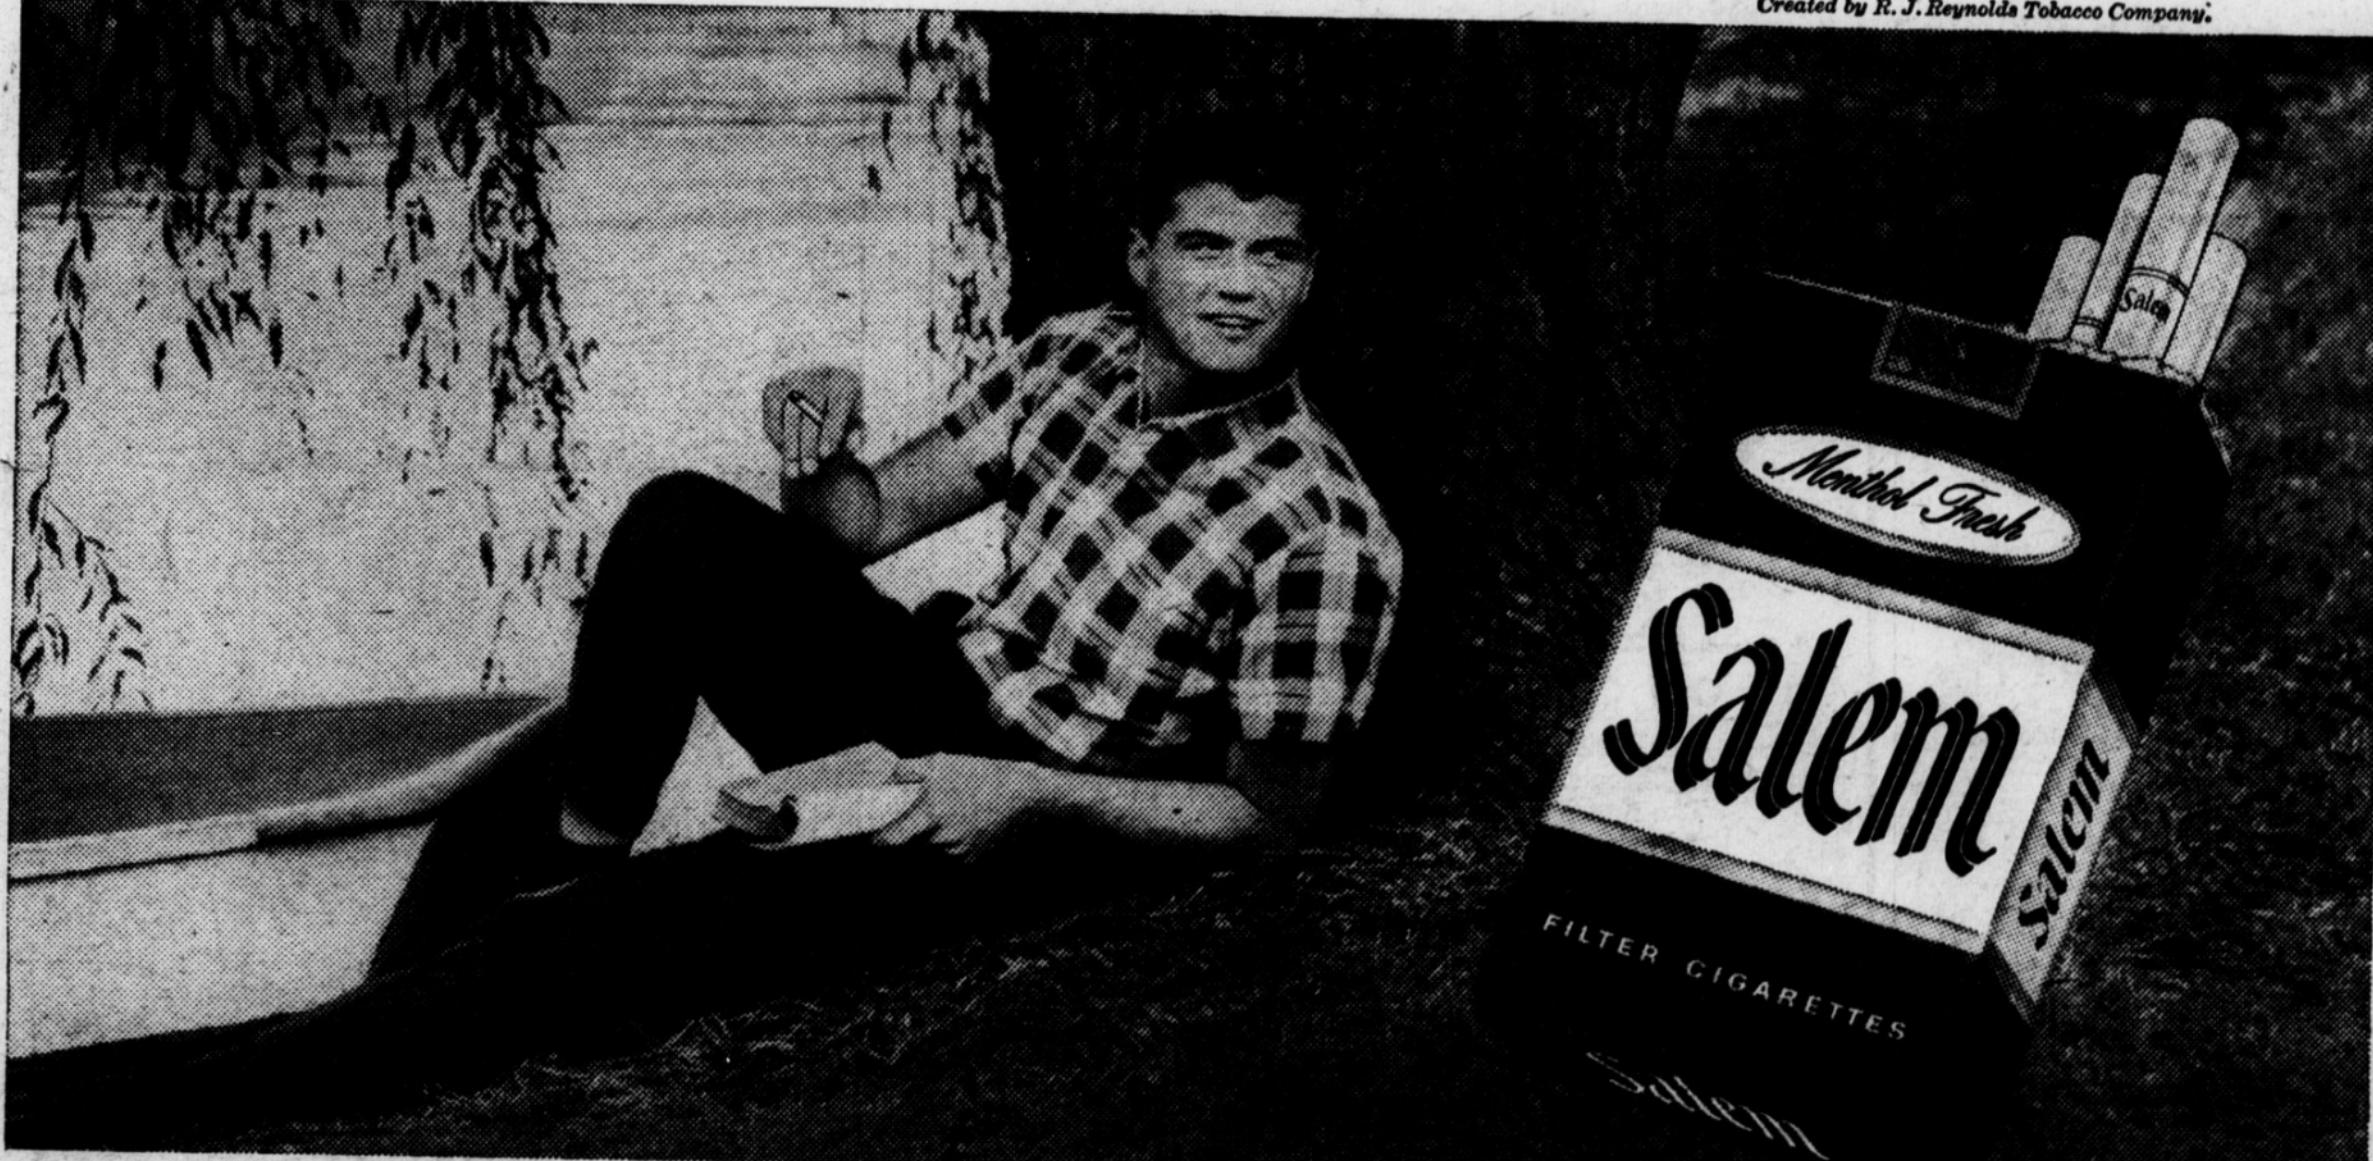

Frank Myers, director of intramurals, has announced that there will be a short meeting of intramural managers at 7 tonight in room 302 in the Field House. All organizations in both divisions who plan to enter the intramural track and field meet should be represented at this meeting.

Murder in KS Union

Last Tuesday evening in the K-State Union walnut dining room, the Harmonizers murdered and butchered many of the good old-time barbershop songs that have been favorites of yours for years. If you want this massacre to cease, bring yourself and your good voice (your friends, too) to the scene of the crime next Tuesday night. Perhaps your voice is just what Harmonizers need to commit the perfect crime.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Eight concerns will be conducting interviews on campus this week, according to Dr. Chester Peters, director of the College Placement center.

Dates of interviews, interviewing companies, majors, and scheduling offices are:

April 29—Department of Social Welfare of Kansas, Soc, Psy, WA 339.

May 2—Boy Scouts of America, all undergraduates and seniors, A 110; U. S. Civil Service, all seniors, A 110.

May 3—Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance, BA, EC, Lib. Arts, A 110; Goodyear Tire & Rubber (for production positions) all seniors, A 110.

May 7—DuPont (for May and August grads only), CE, ME, EE, IE, AR, E 109; American Republic Insurance company (full time and summer employment), undergrads and grads, A 110; U. S. Marines, all seniors, Union Lobby.

May 8—U. S. Marines, all seniors, Union lobby.

Those interested in summer employment should stop in the Placement office and talk with Bill Eddy.

The Placement office needs to be notified as soon as seniors accept employment so that their files can be inactivated and placed for future use. They need to know the firm or school of employment, location of employment, type of work to be performed, and beginning salary. The latter will be kept confidential, but it is necessary for their records.

May Organize
Chapter at KS

Alumni of Sigma Pi, national social fraternity, are now considering the possibility of organizing a colony at Kansas State, according to Bob Alexander, chairman of the temporary steering committee.

Sigma Pi has 65 chapters throughout the United States and is the second oldest fraternity west of the Mississippi. Two chapters are already operating at Big Seven schools, Kansas university and Iowa State college.

Alums are attempting to determine whether there are 20 or 30 qualified students interested in joining such a fraternity presently. Interested students should contact Alexander in the activity center.

Also under investigation is available housing, which is necessary before a colony can be organized. If sufficient interest is shown and suitable living quarters can be found, the committee will move towards organization.

This would include action and approval by the Faculty Council on Student Affairs and Interfraternity council.

Senior Gifts Topic Of UGB Discussion

Eight Coeds Compete for AWS Board

Eight coeds were selected by the Women's Council of the Associated Women Students as candidates for the Judicial Board. Dean of Women Helen Moore and the president and vice-president of the Women's council will select four of these coeds for the board.

Monne Wills, EED Fr, chairman of the Queens committee announced that the AWS must select a candidate for the Miss Kansas contest which will be held in Pratt this summer. The winner of the Miss Kansas contest will represent Kansas in the Miss America contest.

Each women's organized house must submit a candidate by May 9. The finalist will be selected by a panel of judges who will watch the girls model bathing suits and formals and will interview each coed personally and select the girl with the most talent.

flagpole was postponed until a study of the situation could be made. The president of the 1937 class will be contacted to see if the $600 donated for the board can't be used to construct a general purpose board somewhere on the campus other than in front of the Union.

In other action, the UGB nominated five faculty members to be interviewed to replace the retiring Dr. Stuart Whitcomb. Dr. Thomas Kelm moved the prospective faculty Board members be contacted by both a student and a faculty member to evaluate their interest and qualifications to serve on the Union Governing board. Two names will be selected and then submitted to acting President Weber from which he will pick one.

The Board also heard a report from Roger Tointon, LDs Jr, on working rules for the Union Governing board. Suggestions and clarification of some of the rules were made and Tointon said he would have the revised list at the next meeting.

In trying to determine the appropriate design for the proposed bulletin board, UGB members looked at eight drawings submitted by architectural engineering students. All the designs were tentatively turned down as the UGB wrestled with the problem of where to put the board so it would not obscure the front of the Union.

It was decided to refer the problem to Prof. Leon Quinlan of the Horticulture department for suggestions.

Paul Hatfield, AEd Jr, was elected student council president in a meeting following a banquet at the Wareham hotel last night.

Other new council members include Dwight Bennett, Ar 02, vice president; Pat McDermott, BA Jr, corresponding secretary; Lynn Mechesney, Gvt Soph, treasurer; and George Hooper, BA Jr, parliamentarian.

Members of the old and new council attended the banquet. Pat Wilkerson, outgoing student body president, outlined the budget for the 1957-58 school year. The budget shows a cut of $2,056.10.

A motion by Richard Peterson, ME Sr, was accepted to establish a $100 a page charge for advertising in the new 8 by 11-inch student directory.

Peterson reported on the progress of the present basic ROTC program.

The committee suggested the following recommendations:

1. The new council appoint two members to continue the work of the committee.
2. The non-council members present on this committee be re-appointed to help carry out this work.

The new committee also look into the possibility of working out a compromise solution between basic ROTC and physical education.

To improve and further international understanding on the K-State campus, the new council was given the following suggestions:

1. The work of the committee this year be repeated. Try to see that the dorms are included in the latter project.
2. This committee work with the Cosmopolitan club in their membership drive, and encourage American student membership.
3. A display be put monthly in the Union consisting of some type of recognition of a country that is represented on our campus. The names of students from that country on the campus be included in the display.
5. This committee work closely with the assistant dean of students, who is foreign student adviser, and embark on any new plans that might further international understanding.

Fraternity Rush Cards Available Next Monday

V. D. Foltz, faculty adviser to Interfraternity council, announced at the IFC meeting last night at the Farm House fraternity that the 1957 rush cards will be available in the Student Union activities center Monday, May 6.

Pat Roberts, TJ Jr, said that the Council has set up a steering council for the next Greek Week and that it will begin plans for next year's Greek Week which will be held in the fall semester.

IFC has also set up a committee to compose a brochure of the council's activities for the year to send in to the National Interfraternity council who awards a trophy to the top Interfraternity council in the country.

The committee will be composed of Roberts, the Pi Kappa Alpha representative, Daryl Becker, AA Jr, and Tom Frisbie, AH Jr, both of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Chimes Tap Members in Night-Time Ceremonies

Sixteen sophomore women were tapped last night for Chimes, junior women's honorary. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service.

The coeds tapped were Janice Albers, HE Soph; Connie Benjamin, HEN Soph; Kirsten Peterson, EEd Soph; Carolyn Eby, BA Soph; Kay Eplee, BA Soph; Peggy Daniels, Eng Soph; Lynn Mechesney, Gvt Soph; Annette Tighe, TJ Soph; and Mary Beth McCoy, HT Soph.

Initiation was held this morning followed by a breakfast in the Student Union with the 13 outgoing members.

The new Chimes will have their first meeting in the Student Union at 9 p.m. today. Lois Cowan, EEd Jr, outgoing Chimes president will preside. Officers will be elected.

To qualify for Chimes, a woman must have a junior standing at K-State and a minimum grade average of 1.8 and must have shown outstanding qualities of service and leadership to the College. The motto of Chimes is "To lead with knowledge, to follow with intelligence, to seek the worthwhile in life."

U.S. Government Offers Jordan Ten Million Bucks for Relief Aid

By KEITH KEMPER

Amman, Jordan—Jordan today withheld temporarily its answer to a U.S. offer of 10 million dollars and rejected Soviet charges the United States is interfering in Jordan's affairs.

It was believed King Hussein himself might make known his decision on the aid offer from U.S. Ambassador Lester Mallory this afternoon. He called a news conference at 2 p.m. (8 a.m. EDT).

Foreign Minister Samir El Rifai yesterday said special U.S. Envoy James P. Richards would not be invited here. Richards was touring the Middle East discussing The Eisenhower Doctrine when the Jordan crisis broke out.

Five Billed for Senate Fame

Washington—Five legislative "giants" of the near and distant past—Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Robert M. LaFollette Sr. and Robert A. Taft—were billed today as virtually certain to adorn the Senate's Hall of Fame.

The choices of a modern-day selection committee were still a secret. But informed sources said those five will be named, barring some last-minute second thoughts on a question that has prompted a lively controversy.

Floods Reach Into Louisiana

Dallas, Texas—Flood waters churned down at least 11 major rivers today. Their fury was concentrated on the southern part of Texas and reached into Louisiana.

Texas' violent weather has claimed 17 lives in 11 days. President Eisenhower has declared the huge sector of Texas racked by floods a major disaster area.

Besides the floodwaters, a new flurry of tornadoes that have accompanied the flood-spawning rains, flicked over a wide area of Texas yesterday.

McCarthy 'Somewhat Improved'

Washington—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was reported "somewhat improved" today in his battle with serious illness at Bethesda Naval hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the 47-year-old Wisconsin Republican was "seriously ill" with acute hepatitis—an inflammation of the liver.

However, McCarthy's condition was reported "slightly improved" yesterday afternoon. His wife, Jean, said last night after visiting him that he "seemed to feel better" and was resting comfortably.

Budget Battle Still On

Washington—The battle of the budget grew hotter today.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles prepared to go before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to bid for restoration of cuts in his department's budget. The House cut 47 million dollars of his department's 227 million dollar request.

Arthur Larson, Director of the U.S. Information Agency, was scheduled to address the National Press Club, calling for restoration of deep cuts in the USIA budget.

At the same time, President Eisenhower headed home from his Georgia vacation to take on-the-spot command of the campaign to protect administration programs from congressional economizers.

Sixth Fleet in Mideast

With 6th Fleet, Beirut, Lebanon—A force of 1,000 Marines from the U.S. 6th Fleet landed here today on 12-hour shore leave in a friendly "show the flag" invasion in the tense Middle East.

Monaco Pair See Pope

Vatican City—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco called on Pope Pius XII today in a state audience marked by pomp and pageantry.

Reader's Corner

Dear Editor,

I would like to express the gratitude of Alpha Phi Omega for the splendid support given the "Ugly Man" contest by the Collegian and by the participating fraternities. This goes to show that the students of Kansas State college are interested in their school and do wish to contribute to projects that will help make our campus one of the best looking in the nation.

Alpha Phi Omega obtained about $400 through this contest and we plan to use this money, as long as it lasts, to purchase new cigarette urns, a map of the campus placed close to Anderson hall, and a large sign on Poyntz pointing toward the campus.

We hope to be even more successful with the second annual "Ugly Man" contest to be held next year.

Larry North
President,
Alpha Phi Omega.

Maine University Men Maul Profs—Get Boot

By Shari Shellenberger

TWO STUDENTS were dismissed from the University of Maine for slugging a mathematics professor. But not over a classroom disagreement.

The professor was chaperone at a fraternity party. The boys got out of hand, the professor asked them to leave the party, and they slugged him!

CONTESTS, CONTESTS, CONTESTS! At the University of Idaho, a contest called "Fabulous Fibs" was conducted.

The contest was judged by the "Fibbers Federation of America," the University of Idaho Argonaut reported. The contestant who told the best fib won $5 plus a trophy.

MEMBERS OF A University of Oklahoma fraternity held an Easter egg hunt for OU sororities. Held on the fraternity's lawn, the hunt challenged each sorority to send two members to look for eggs with the sorority's name on them.

The sorority that found its own eggs first was awarded a trophy. 'Twasn't easy—the eggs were hidden not only on the lawn, but in trees, bushes, and some were even buried.

FAMOUS MOTTOES, presented in the University of Vermont Cynic, are supposed to reflect the attitude of college women: Freshman women's motto: "Mother knows best." Sophomore women's motto: "Death before dishonor." Junior women's motto: "Nothing ventured, nothing gained." Senior women's motto: "Boys will be boys."

SAYS J. CAMPBELL in the University of Oklahoma Daily: "More people smoke cigarettes than anybody else."

Makes about as much sense as some of the present-day advertising slogans!

HARRY, IN HIS Flying Shrapnel column in the Iowa State Daily, continues his crusade to improve Iowa State college by exposing those who need exposing.

Harry's latest "exposure" is the Iowa State registrar's office, whose function is, or so Harry claims, to keep people from graduating. In keeping people from graduating, the office allows Iowa State to beat the State University of Iowa in the race for the largest enrollment. (This, says Harry, holds up the enrollment figure, and cuts down unemployment.)

ANOTHER FUNCTION of the office is to get high school students to enroll—this the Registrar himself does, while his female secretary keeps students from graduating.

Says the Registrar to the secretary, "I'll get 'em here, and you keep 'em here—that way we'll outsmart the Hawkeyes." (Or, anyway, that's the way Harry sees it.)

Madison, Wis.—Because of a broken heel, the chimes of St. Raphael's cathedral are still on central standard time.

They'll continue to toll one hour behind schedule until John Gunach, the sexton and only man in the parish who knows how to adjust the bells, recuperates from his injury.

New York—Some 200 honey bees succeeded where sleet, snow, and gloom of night usually fail.

The bees, in transit, broke out of a portable hive and went on a rampage in the basement of the general post office yesterday, disrupting mail operations for 15 minutes until felled by a DDT bomb.

NU Here for Dual Meet

K-State's track team will take on Nebraska university in a dual meet here this Saturday that will feature many individual contests.

Top scrap on the agenda will be the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles races between the Wildcat's Gene O'Connor and Nebraska's Keith Gardner who was a member of the 1956 Jamaican Olympic team.

In the K-State-Nebraska indoor dual at Lincoln, Gardner beat O'Connor in both the 60-yard high and low hurdles, but in the Big Seven indoor meet O'Connor beat Gardner in the low hurdles.

Another duel will be in the javelin between K-State's Ralph Willard and the Cornhusker's Dean Brittenham. Of the two, Willard has the best throw to date at 202-3 while Brittenham has thrown 198 feet.

Coach Ward Haylett said there is a possibility that Nebraska might enter Gardner in the dashes which would make stiff competition for the Cats senior sprinter Dolan McDaniel.

Haylett also said there is a strong possibility that K-State's sophomore quarter-miler Dave Burton will return to action this week but that another sophomore quarter-miler, Jim Vader, is still doubtful. Both have been sidelined for several weeks with pulled leg muscles.

"We should score heavily in the quarter-mile and the shot put but we will take a beating in the broad jump and the discus," Haylett said.

The field events will start at 1:30 p.m. with the track events getting under way at 2 p.m.

THE THUNDERING MARCH OF PROGRESS

Today, as everyone knows, is the forty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Gransmire College for Women which, as everyone knows, was the first Progressive Education college in the United States.

Well do I recollect the tizzy in the academic world when Gransmire first opened its portals! What a buzz there was, what a brouhaha in faculty common rooms, what a rattling of teacups, when Dr. Agnes Thudd Sigafoos, first president of Gransmire, lifted her shaggy head and announced defiantly, "This here is no stuffy, old-fashioned college. This here, by gum, is Progressive Education. We will teach the student, not the course. There will be no marks, no exams, no requirements. We will break the iron mold of orthodoxy, hey."

Well sir, forward-looking maidens all over the country cast off their fetters and came rushing to New Hampshire to enroll at Gransmire. Here they found freedom. They broadened their vistas. They lengthened their horizons. They unstopped their bottled personalities. They roamed the campus in togas, leading ocelots on leashes.

And, of course, they smoked Philip Morris. (I say "of course." Why do I say "of course"? I say "of course" because it is a matter of course that anyone in search of freedom should naturally turn to Philip Morris, for Philip Morris is a natural smoke, with no filter to get in the way of its true tobacco taste.)

But all was not Philip Morris and ocelots. There was work and study too—not in the ordinary sense, for there were no formal classes. Instead there was a broad approach to enlarging each girl's potentials.

Take the course called Basic Motor Skills

Take, for example, the course called B.M.S. (Basic Motor Skills). B.M.S. was divided into L.D. (Lying Down), S.U. (Standing Up) and W. (Walking). Once the student had mastered L.D. and S.U., she was taught to W.—but not just to W. any old way! No, sir! She was taught to W. with poise, dignity, bearing! To inculcate a sense of balance in the girl, she began her exercises by walking with a suitcase in each hand. (One girl, Mary Ellen Dorgenicht, got so good at it that today she is bell captain at the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia.)

When the girls had walking under their belts, they were allowed to dance. Again no formality was imposed. They were simply told to fling themselves about in any way their impulses dictated, and believe you me, it was quite an impressive sight to see them go bounding into the woods with their togas flying. (Several later joined the U. S. Forestry Service.)

There was also a lot of finger painting and gourd rattling and sculpture with coat hangers and all like that, and soon the fresh wind of Progressivism came whistling out of Gransmire to blow the ancient dust of pedantry off curricula everywhere, and today, thanks to the pioneers at Gransmire, we are all free, every man-jack of us.

If you are ever in New Hampshire, be sure to visit the Gransmire campus. It is now a tannery.

© Max Shulman, 1957

And be sure to light a Philip Morris when you visit Gransmire, or anywhere else for that matter, because Philip Morris is always a naturally perfect companion and brings you this column each week and is ignitable at either end.

Student Health, Kedzie Construction Plans Told

It is hoped that Student Health building plans will be completed by next September at least, and that the permanent new structure will be ready for use by September, 1958, says R. F. Gingrich, superintendent of the Physical Plant.

The Legislature also approved

K-Hill Repairs To Start Soon, Gingrich Says

Repairing of the "K" on K-Hill will begin immediately, since the purchase order for $2,100 has been written to Walters Construction company of Manhattan by the State Purchasing department, according to R. F. Gingrich, physical plant superintendent.

The project involves replacing the foot of the letter "K," which has broken away from the main body of the letter. The letters "KS" were originally built by Sigma Tau, engineering scholastic honorary.

This time there is need for a different type of reinforcing to anchor the 14 foot wide, 25 foot long strip of concrete, Gingrich said.

Student Council allocated $2,000 in 1955 for the repairs, and since the lowest bid received was $2,100, it was necessary for the engineering honoraries and departmental clubs to raise the needed $100.

$375,000 for construction for a new wing to Kedzie hall.

The Student Health building will be "T" shaped with the crossbar of the "T" facing the library. The new building will be located on the site of the present building, but will have two floors with provisions for a third floor to be added at a later date.

The first floor will house the treatment rooms; the second floor, the hospital wards. A basement will provide storage room and staff dressing and dining rooms.

This limestone structure will cost $525,000. $450,000 of this amount was appropriated from the Educational Building fund and approved by the Legislature. The other $75,000 is from the accumulation of Student Health fees.

The Kedzie appropriation will be split into two portions, $100,000 to be received July 1, and the remaining $275,000 July 1, 1958. The contract for the building will not be let until next spring.

The new wing will be added to the south side of Kedzie. All mechanical equipment will be housed on one floor to prevent accidents. Humidity and temperature control will be a feature of the new addition.

There will be a modern loading dock for bringing in heavy shipments of paper. Other features will include a photography classroom, a lecture room for 200 students, a typography lab, an advertising layout and design lab, and a reading room.

WINNERS in Larry Wood's speech contest Tuesday night are, from left: third place, Clenece Roberts, Sp Fr; first place, Carol Korinek, MGS Fr; and second place, Jim Roberts, BPM Fr. The three shared $60 in prize money at the contest in the Union's Little Theater.

Carol Korinek, MGS Fr, won the $30 first prize in the Larry Woods memorial speech contest in the Student Union little theater last night. Jim Roberts, PEM Soph, and Clenece Roberts, Sp Fr, were awarded $20 for second and $10 for third place respectively. Eight finalists who were chosen in the elimination contest April 16 competed.

Finalists were required to change speech subjects from those used in the elimination contest. Miss Korinek spoke on "Music Therapy," Roberts on "Federal Aid to Education," and Miss Roberts on "The Woman's Mind."

Other finalists were Ken Lucas, NE Fr; Betty Larkin, ME Fr; Richard Thomas, AH Fr; Robert Mueller, ME Fr; and William Warner, CHE Fr.

Charles Goetzinger, assistant professor in the Speech department, presented the awards, and Fred Rogers, instructor in the Speech department, introduced the judges. They were Joe Menzie, Department of Business Administration; Dean Doretta Hoffman, School of Home Economics; and Dr. Robert E. Sager, Mrs. Walton S. Cole, and George W. Given, all of Manhattan.

Lafene Warns

Swimming, Wading Dangers Caused By Polluted Rivers

A serious danger exists for all persons who swim or wade in any natural body of water or stream near the city of Manhattan, according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health.

"Wildcat Creek, Deep Creek, and the rivers are all highly polluted with tetanus and gas gangrene organisms from sewage. Wading and swimming around Pillsbury crossing is very hazardous because of the great number of tin cans and broken glass in the stream," he said. "Four years ago, one student who cut his foot there almost died of gas gangrene."

"In recent years, the pollution of local streams has increased to such a point that persons swimming in these areas are doing so at their own risk. Each year Student Health gets cases of serious infections, including blood poisoning, from injuries and infections incurred from such sources," he said.

MAY DAY is finally here. After weeks of April showers, Dixie Brown, HDA Jr., finds that they really did bring May flowers, as advertised. Hopa crab apples, flowering quince, and flowering almonds are among the trees and bushes now in bloom on campus. Spring beauty and violets line the paths.

By JANICE BATES

Spring is "bustin' out all over" the Kansas State college campus. This week is a perfect time to see the shrubs and trees in bloom, according to Prof. Ray Keen of the Horticulture department.

The vibrant pink and red flowers of the Hopa crab-apple frame the front entrance to Willard hall. Among these trees is a lone Oregon holly grape shrub with yellow blooms and leaves resembling the Christmas holly, Professor Keen said.

A shrub arboretum east of the Formal Gardens contains many colorful shrubs (most of which will be cut down when construction begins on the new home economics building.) There are bottle bush buckeye with deep red flowers eight inches long, flowering quinces, flowering almonds, forsythias, and plum.

Spring beauty and violets can be found in clumps throughout the campus, especially under the oak trees near the President's home.

"The leafing out of the oak is usually a good indication that the last frost is past," said Professor Keen. "The Indians used to plant corn when the oak leaf was the size of a squirrel's ear."

Like most of the trees on campus, these oaks were planted by the College. The trees by the Vattier street entrance, the elms and pin oaks by Thompson hall, and the two cedar trees between Anderson and Eisenhower are some of the original trees.

The two cedars marked the entrance of a small farm cabin in the middle of a vast cornfield many years ago.

There are 180 different kinds of trees and 290 kinds of shrubs on the campus, totaling about 4,000 trees.

KS Campus Woes Can Be Fixed By Using Cooperation-Hatfield

By JANICE GRAHAM

HOPING TO FULFILL his responsibility to the student body and Student Council alike, Paul Hatfield, AEd Jr., accepted the chairmanship of the 1957-58 Student Council Monday night. Looking ahead, he sees that campus problems and controversies can be investigated, and with cooperation, solved.

"For major undertakings, we have committees

New SC chairman—Paul Hatfield

set up and working right now," Paul said. "Investigation of required ROTC and physical education is underway, and the pros and cons of having these courses made optional have been discussed. We are continuing to study the possibility of student health insurance and K-State's entrance into the National Student association.

"POSSIBILITIES FOR a used book exchange on campus in the fall are being investigated. This may be sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, scouting fraternity, although its location would be a definite problem. A positive program of honors and ethics is also being set up," he said.

Paul believes an interest in student government affairs and a willingness to work are two important qualifications members of this year's Student Council possess.

"IN ORDER TO MAKE any changes," Paul said, "we want student backing, and if we get it, a representative will present the problem to the administration from the student's viewpoint.

Committees and the Ag school have consumed a great deal of Hatfield's leisure time. This year he was president of his fraternity, Delta Sigma Phi, and has been rush chairman in previous semesters. Recently elected vice-president of the Agricultural association, he will serve that organization in 1957-58.

OTHER ACTIVITIES ARE district director for the Kansas Livestock association; and membership in Alpha Zeta, agricultural scholastic honorary; Scabbard and Blade, Army ROTC cadet officers organization; and Klob and Kernel klub, agronomy department organization.

"Academic work is only a part of a college education," the new Student Council chairman said. "Extracurricular activities are important to associations that students make when they get out of school. As students with a college education, it is important to show leadership qualities—these are gained by working and meeting with people, and by conveying ideas to them."

Paul plans to go into the United States Department of Agriculture, and on to administrative type of work in education after graduation.

Time Is Nearing for Appointment Of a New Apportionment Board

THE TIME HAS COME for the Student Council to appoint members for next year's Apportionment board. In the past the old Apportionment board and the newly appointed members have met together in the spring to make tentative apportionments of the activity fee for the coming year.

It is on this tentative apportionment that organizations plan their budget for the coming year, or contest the funds allotted if they are unhappy.

There is no ruling in the Constitution that says the old and new boards will meet together in the spring.

HOWEVER, the apportionment board, according to the constitution, will meet within three weeks after school begins in the fall to do the allotting.

LAST YEAR the new members of the Apportionment board met with Gerry Day, previous Student body president to do the tentative apportioning.

We believe its time the Student Council had these new members appointed. Students interested in being on the board, apply and are interviewed by the Student Council before the Council makes its appointments.

ALTHOUGH MEMBERSHIP on the Apportionment board has long been considered a political plum, there are students who have applied and haven't even been contacted for interviews.

To this we highly object and suggest the Student Council get new Apportionment board members appointed immediately.—Jane Moore

Entomology Research

Done By Ex-Musician

By JAN MADSEN

The old adage, "Variety is the spice of life," seems to be the motto of Jeanette Luetty, entomology instructor and research assistant to Dr. Rai. Miss Luetty started her college career as a major in piano and music theory at Kansas University, but then changed to entomology.

When asked what motivated this change she said, "I needed requirements in the biological sciences. While I was enrolled in chemistry, a graduate student recommended entomology as a course. I took the basic course, made an A, and decided to stay because it looked like a snap curriculum."

Miss Luetty came to Kansas State in February as a research assistant. "This involves no teaching, although I do have the title of instructor," she said.

"Right now I'm helping run tests on samples of plants to determine how much insecticide may be used before the residual affects the animal who consumes the plant," she added. This involves tests on milk to see if insecticide is stored in milk in large enough quantities to harm the human that consumes the milk.

"I am considering further work toward a Master's degree," said Miss Luetty, who is a charter member of the Alpha Phi social sorority at KU.

In regard to campus life she said, "Of course it has been a while since I've been at KU (she graduated in 1952), but I find the campus life here much like that at KU. There are the same problems, hustle-bustle, activities, parties, and worry."

Exemption Exams Planned for May

Selective service examinations will be given May 6 for those draftees who missed the examinations given in April to qualify them to stay in school.

Draftees should pick up registration material from the counseling center and return it by the May 6 deadline. Most of the draftees concerned have been notified by their draft boards of their status.

New Kansas Speed Limit Goes Into Effect Today

Compiled from United Press by Keith Kemper

Topeka—The Kansas Highway Patrol today begins strict enforcement of the state's new 70-60 miles per hour speed law.

Supt. Harvey Schmedeman, head of the Highway Patrol, said troopers would be out in force, but that he "would be happy if no one gave us occasion to make speed arrests."

The new law sets 70 miles per hour during daytime, and 60 miles per hour at night as maximum speeds for passenger cars.

Dag To Israel Soon

Jerusalem, Israel—Official sources said today U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is expected here in mid-May to review the Israeli-Egyptian situation but that he should not hope for "positive results."

The Israeli position is that there can be no improvement in relations between the two countries nor a restoration of diplomatic relations until Egypt drops its policy of maintaining a state of war with Israel.

New School Bill in House

Washington—The House Labor Committee today called up a compromise two-billion dollar school construction program.

The compromise bill—worked out by a subcommittee—is a compromise between President Eisenhower's $1,300,000,000

Subcommittee chairman Cleveland M. Bailey predicted the compromise bill would win committee approval.

Five To Senate Fame

Washington—Contemporaries sometimes saw them as an unrelenting isolationist, an unyielding conservative, a selfish champion of slavery, an uneducated immoral conniver and an unethical self-seeker.

But those five men—former Senators Robert M. LaFollette Sr., of Wisconsin, Robert A. Taft of Ohio, John C. Calhoun of South Carolina, Henry Clay of Kentucky, and Daniel Webster of Massachusetts—will grace the Senate's own hall of fame.

Not because of certain traits, of course, but in spite of them. A committee of present day Senators selected them yesterday from all the rest to be honored.

Two Games Rained Out; Rho Alph Gets No-Hitter

A feature of yesterday's intra-mural softball action was a no-hitter pitched by the Rho Alphs' Marion Symington in a win over Westminster Foundation 3-1.

The Rho Alphs backed him from the start by getting all three runs in the first inning.

Darrell Rosenow of YMCA came close to a no-hit pitching performance in beating Newman Club, 2-1. A base hit by Don Martin of Newman Club in the first inning was the only hit off him. Rosenow also doubled in the first inning to drive in one of YMCA's runs.

The other "Y" score came in the same inning on a passed ball. Frank Rodman got Newman Club's only run when he walked in the third inning and consecutively stole second base, third base, and home.

West Stadium defeated Disciple's Student Fellowship, 9-2, behind the three-hit pitching of Dick (Ace) Allen. Don Matusak and Ron Besh led the power hitting of West Stadium with a home run apiece.

House of Williams beat the Aces in the game's final inning, 4-3. The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the first and second innings, and George Bennett drove in the winning run in the third with a sacrifice fly. Jim Bennett pitched a five-hitter for the winners.

House of Brec got three runs in the first inning of a contest with Phi Epsilon Kappa and went on to win, 5-4. Ellis Dahl got a triple for the winners and Clarence Keim got one for Phi Epsilon Kappa. Melvin Bringer pitched for House of Brec.

The Farm House-Sigma Nu and Wesley Foundation-House of Aces games were postponed because of rain.

Today's schedule: 4:15 p.m.—Tau Kappa Epsilon-Delta Tau Delta, southwest city park; Delta Upsilon-Farm House, northwest city park; Wesley Foundation-House of Brec, west military field; YMCA-House of Williams, east military field. 5:15 p.m.—Alpha Gamma Rho-Sigma Nu, southwest city park; Jr AVMA-Phi Epsilon Kappa, northwest city park; OK House-the Aces, west military field; Sigma Phi Notch-West Stadium, east military field.

Cats Lay 4-Game Streak On Line in Tennis Tour

K-State's netmen will be out to extend a four-game winning streak tomorrow as they begin a three-day road trip into Nebraska and Iowa.

The Cats meet Nebraska tomorrow—the Huskers are bolstered by three returning lettermen. K-State defeated the Nebraska outfit, 7-0, last year.

Friday and Saturday K-State will face Omaha and Iowa State at Omaha and Ames, respectively.

Lettermen Dick Circle, Allen Chaplin, and Don Wainscott will give the Cats experience as they take their Northern swing.

Saturday, K-State downed Wichita, 7-0, for the second time and for the sixth Cat win against three losses. Other victories are over Washburn, 5-2 and 8-1; Wichita, 9-0; Oklahoma A&M, 5-4; and Kansas, 6-1.

Losses are to Southwestern of Winfield, 5-4; Oklahoma Baptist, 8-0; and Oklahoma, 7-0.

K-State will meet Kansas and Missouri after the trip to conclude its dual schedule. The Big Seven meet will be held May 17 and 18 at Lincoln.

Baseball Squad Invades Mizzou For Trio of Weekend Contests

Wildcat baseballers travel to Missouri university for three games this weekend in an attempt to improve their 2-5 Big Seven record.

Last year Hi Simmon's Tigers trounced the Wildcats, 8-1, enroute to fourth place in the conference. K-State finished last.

Missouri has 11 returning lettermen ready to face the Cats, holders of two wins in practice games along with a 4-5 all-games mark.

Probable starters for K-State—catcher, Wally

Pitchers for both teams will not be named until the days of the games.

Young Golfs Since 11th Year

By JAY WORKMAN

Ron Young, PEM Sr from Manhattan and top man of the K-State golf team, has been playing golf and working at golf courses since he was 11 years old.

"I plan to play as long as I can walk," said Ron, who lettered in his first year of collegiate golf last season, and has a 3-5 record in matches so far this season.

"I have thought of being a club pro," he said. "I have taught some in physical education classes and really liked it."

Cat golf Coach T. M. (Mickey) Evans said, "If Ron has a good day at the conference meet, he could be up near the top."

Ron's best score on the Manhattan country club course is 71, although he was beaten by Bobby Goetz of Oklahoma A&M who shot a 65 in the dual event in which he shot that score.

While attending Manhattan High School Ron lettered four years. He and John Ball, a former K-Stater, were the first golfers in the history of the school to earn monograms as freshman.

Manhattan won the Central Kansas League title when Ron was playing in the No. 1 position as a junior.

Ron and Davey Smith, a golfer on last year's Wildcat team, went to the National Caddy tournament in 1952. Ron was third low in the qualifying round but was defeated in third round play. "Golf is a sport with a carry-over value," Ron said. "It's a good competitive sport and I like playing on different courses and being around other golfers. I'm more of a student of the game than a skillful player."

Two Cases Are Heard By Tribunal

Two cases were heard at this week's Tribunal meeting. In one of them, a student pled guilty to a charge of intoxication and paid a fine in the local police court. The other case concerned students charged with stealing books and selling them to a book store.

Tribunal did not make recommendations in either case. Both will be ruled on in the next meeting on Monday.

There was also some discussion on the possibility of opening meetings to reporters.

Vaccine Shortages Curtail Polio Shots

Student Health has only enough polio vaccine left for 45 more injections, according to Dr. B. W. Lafene, director of Student Health.

Another shipment of vaccine is expected, but no definite delivery date can be determined.

"We don't know if the shipment will arrive before school is out," Lafene commented.

"I am going to check and see if the state is still allotting vaccine for those under 20 years of age," he said. "If it is, we might be able to get enough to last for a while longer."

The great scarcity of polio vaccine is general throughout the country, and was caused by a sudden demand for shots far outnumbering the supply.

"Last year the number of persons getting shots was so small that drug companies cut down their output. The companies are doing the best they can to catch up, and by the peak of the polio season this summer, or even before, they will probably have a backlog built up," explained Lafene.

Staters Win Awards From Three Groups

Raymond Francis Sis, VM Sr., has been announced the winner of the $50 AVMA Auxiliary award, which is based upon a special contribution to the College other than scholarship. Sis won the award for his leadership and extra-curricular activities.

Kansas Veterinary Medicine association awards for proficiency in the four-year professional curriculum went to Franklin Joseph Heim, VM Sr., and Wayne M. Frerichs, VM Sr.

The KVMA award to the student most proficient in large animal clinics went to John Markley, VM Sr. Brian Cummings, VM Sr., won a similar award for proficiency in small animals clinics.

AAUW Award

Laura Lyon, Eng Sr., has been awarded the AAUW membership award by the Kansas division of the American Association of University Women. This is awarded each year to one senior woman in each Kansas college recognized by the AAUW.

Scholarship, personality, and general worth are bases of the award although a requirement is that the recipient remain in Kansas at least one year after she receives the award.

4-H Scholarship

Ray Drumright, PrV Fr, is one of two Kansas 4-H club members to win a $150 college scholarship. The awards were granted by the Kansas 4-H foundation and announced by the state club department. The other winner was Jolene Hazen, a senior at Leroy high school.

Room Scheduling Given

The steps necessary to reserve College facilities for club events have been announced by A. L. Pugsley, dean of academic administration.

All student, faculty, and staff events must be listed on the master calendar in the Union activity center at the earliest possible date, he said. Facilities must be reserved directly with the proper College offices:

K-State Union facilities, Union activity center; Danforth chapel and Memorial Chapel auditorium, director of student religious activities; Ahearn field house, chairman of the use of rooms committee; Ahearn gymnasium, director of athletics and the head of the Department of Physical Education; Auditorium, head of the Department of Music and the director of the K-State Players.

After clearance has been obtained, all functions in the Field House, Ahearn gymnasium, Nichols gym, and the Auditorium must be scheduled with the superintendent of the Physical Plant.

All other College facilities not included above are scheduled with the superintendent of the Physical Plant.

Ford Urges Grads To Join K-State Alumni Association

By CHARLOTTE CHASTAIN

Only about 25 per cent of each year's graduating class become members of the Kansas State Alumni association, according to Kenny L. Ford, alumni secretary.

"I feel it is important to raise the percentage of membership," Ford stated. "It is important to have educated citizens, and two of the primary functions of the Alumni association is to supply the college with a loan fund for students and to give money to the college for increasing the size and quality of the faculty and buildings."

One purpose of the Alumni association is to promote K-State by working through the legislature and the alumni clubs in various cities and throughout the United States.

Another purpose is to promote fellowship among K-State alums by holding a class reunion picnic every five years and keeping them informed about the college through alumni association publications such as the K-Stater magazine and the Trumpet bulletin.

A third purpose and activity of the Alumni association is to advise high school students as to their college training.

Two types of membership are available in the Alumni association: an annual membership at $3 a year and a life membership at $50, payable over several years. Since the latter method is cheaper in the long run, Ford recommends it.

Ford adds that once students become members, it is most important to keep the alumni office informed about changes of address, marriage, births, deaths, promotions, alumni meetings, and any other news about oneself or other alumni.

Although the alumni associations of most state schools average about 25 per cent membership, alum associations of most endowed schools have around 65 per cent membership. In the past certain, clubs and school departments have tried to promote membership by getting all the members of their group to join the Alumni association. Ford hopes this may be done again in an effort to raise the percentage membership of each class.

Student Council To Hold Interviews on Monday

Interviews of students who have signed applications for Student Council Homecoming and Apportionments board committees are scheduled for Monday, according to Pat McDermott, BA Jr., corresponding secretary of Student Council.

Approximately 95 applications were turned in for the four major committees, she said. She said that 45 of these applications were for Homecoming and Apportionments board.

Interviewing of the applicants for Parent's Day and Big Seven conference committees will begin after Monday's Student Council meeting, she said.

Interviews will be conducted by Council members.

Two Judging Contests Entered By Aggies

The annual agrohomy crops judging contest, sponsored by the KIod and Kernel klub, will be Saturday, according to Max Urich, TA Jr., contest committee chairman. Prizes will be awarded for identification, judging, and grading to outstanding freshman, junior, and senior men.

In last Saturday's Block and Bridle club collegiate wool judging contest, Dale Schilling, AH Jr., and Donald Mach, PrV Soph., were the divisional winners.

The freshman division in the agronomy contest is open to all students who have not had farm crops. The junior division is for students who have taken or are now taking farm crops, and the senior division is for those now enrolled in grain grading and judging.

Approximately $200 in cash prizes will be awarded, in addition to medals, magazine subscriptions, a soil testing kit, and a pen and pencil set. Registration for the contest will be Friday from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. in Waters hall.

Awards for the winners will be presented at a picnic and softball game at Sunset park Saturday evening.

Schilling, the winner of the senior division of the wool judging contest, was presented a silver tray sponsored by the American Royal Livestock show. A trophy from the Kansas Purebred Sheep Breeders association went to Mach, winner of the junior division. Schilling also won a year's subscription to the Sheepbreeder and Sheepman for for being first in placing fleeces.

The senior division graded 10 fleeces, placed seven classes, and gave two sets of oral reasons.

The juniors graded five fleeces and placed seven classes. E. Glenn Thacker, assistant manager and fieldman from the Midwest Wool Marketing Cooperative of Kansas City, Missouri, was the official judge.

Other junior division winners were Burke Rogers, AH Jr., second; Edward Swiercinsky, AH Sr., third; William Greenwood, AEd Jr., fourth; Benny Brent, Ag Soph., fifth; Arthur Armbrust, TA Sr., sixth; and Rae Luginisland, AH Soph., seventh.

Bill Perkins, AH Sr., was high in grading and Rogers was top individual in placing fleeces.

VOLUME LXIII

Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, Thursday, May 2, 1957

NUMBER 136

Tribunal Asked To Declare Recent SGA Elections Illegal

A petition charging that the recent Student Governing Association elections were not run according to the by-laws of the SGA Constitution will be discussed in a Tribunal meeting at 4 p.m. today.

The petition was signed by the required 50 persons, according to Jim Shane, His Jr., head of Tribunal.

The petition first charged that there was a lack of administrative elections regulations. The SGA rules state that the date petitions of nominations are due, the date of election, and the regulations pertaining to the particular election involved shall be published in the Collegian at least ten days before the first mentioned date.

The second charge is that at least one candidate was disqualified from running, by the elections committee, even though he was qualified and duly submitted a petition for the purpose of having his name placed upon the ballot. The rules state that each candidate must file with the Student Council Elections committee ten days before the primary elections.

Other charges are:

1. In the primary elections, many voters were handed ballots without being given a choice as to the party primary in which they wished to vote.

2. Voting. In either of the elections was not by secret ballot.

3. Electioneering, even to the point of having campaign posters at the voting table, was carried on in the same building in which votes were being cast.

4. Every effort was not made to insure an orderly and fair election.

The last charge was made on the grounds that:

a. The chairman of the election committee was running for office and he did not turn duties of his office over to another qualified person.

b. Party campaign chairman were allowed to work at the polls.

c. Polls were run with only one representative election official present, and when two were present they were often from the same political party.

d. In the primary election, people were allowed to vote who had already had the letter A of their activity card punched. Letter A was the one used to designate if a person had voted.

e. At least one instance of ballot box stuffing can be proven by witness.

Third Straight Award For KS Student Daily

George Vohs

The fall semester Collegian, edited by George Vohs, TJ Sr., has been awarded an all-American rating for the third consecutive semester by the Associated Collegiate Press. In competition with 26 other college dailies, the Collegian received one of nine all-American ratings.

The top award was also given for the fall 1955 paper edited by Gary Swanson, '56, and to the 1956 spring Collegian when Darrel Miller, TJ Sr., was editor.

"The staff was very alert to news and not so much to publicity," was an approving comment by the judge, G. D. Hiebert, columnist and former city editor of the St. Paul Dispatch. He especially liked the homecoming edition and the special election edition the Collegian put out.

"I'd like to thank all the members of my staff for the excellent job they did," Vohs said. "I'd especially like to thank my news editors—Lou Sable, Joan Lobmeyer, Ann Gallion, Orval Jackson, and Darrel Miller.

"Malcon Coldwell did an excellent job on the editorial page and Jane Moore was a top-notch assignment editor. I'd also like to thank Don Marker for his fine job on the editorial page the first few editions, and Darrel Miller who edited the homecoming edition which received special praise.

"Photography by Gary Haynes, Darryl Heikes, and Doug Tedrow was excellent. Sports editor Roger Myers, society editor Jan Kraft, feature editor Bev Ringey, and church editor Carol Ward did a fine job too.

"Employees of the college press deserve credit for the part they played. Ralph Koppes composed the type into pages and did a really good job for us. The printing was excellent also."

The Collegian received superior ratings plus bonus points for photography and front page appearance.

The paper scored excellent on news coverage, creativity in writing style, leads, feature stories, editorials, sports coverage, appearance of the editorial page, headlines, and printing.

Vet Med School Accepts 35 Kansans for Study

Thirty-five Kansas men have been selected for admittance to the professional curriculum of veterinary medicine for the class of September, 1957, according to Dr. E. E. Leisure, Dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine. Eighteen out-of-state applicants have also been selected and up to 17 more students will be admitted at the final selection near the end of May.

The 35 staters admitted:

Congratulations To George Vohs For a Third All-American Paper

CONGRATULATIONS TO George Vohs, last semester's Collegian editor in putting out the third consecutive all-American Collegian.

Many long hours go into the editing of an all-American paper. This rating is the highest possible college newspaper award and is given by judges of the Associated Collegiate Press.

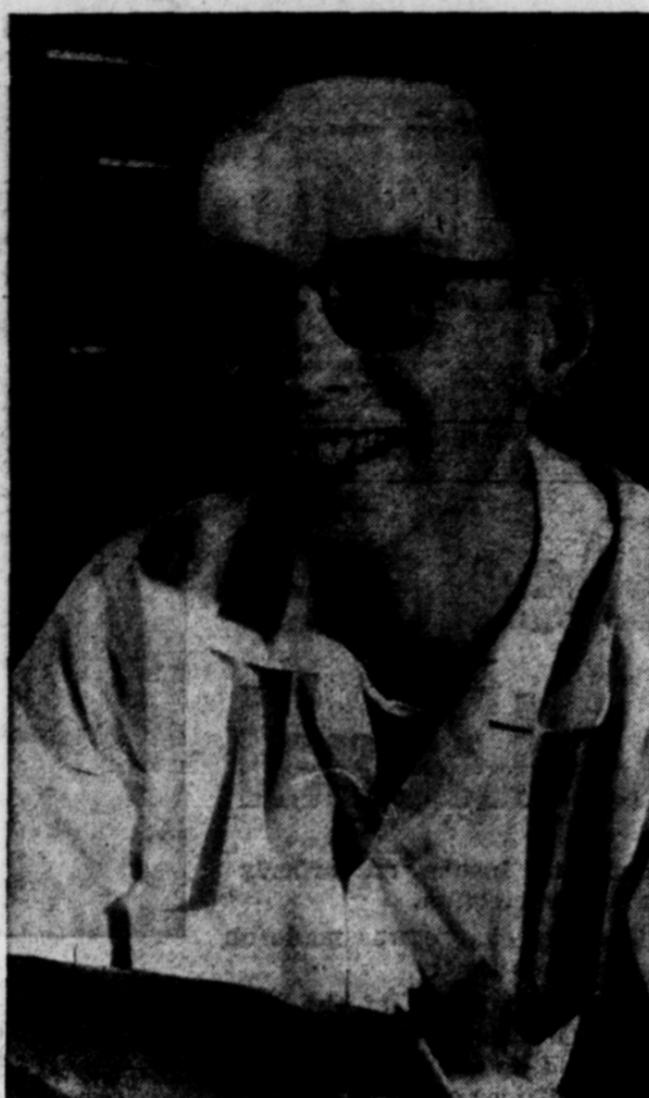

LAST SEMESTER'S PAPER was one of nine papers to receive this rating out of the 26 papers judged.

The two previous consecutive all-American editors were Gary Swanson, K-State journalism graduate, who is now working for IBM in Kansas City, Mo., and Darrel Miller, TJ Sr.

GEORGE HAS BEEN AWARDED a graduate assistantship at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa, to work on a Master's degree in journalism next year.

Our congrats for a job well done.—Jane Moore.

Reader's Corner

To the Editor:

In yesterday's Collegian we saw a picture of the writer of this letter walking across the well-trodden lawns around Kedzie hall. I should like to explain especially why I violated the Mortar Board's honor code.

The real reason I walked across campus via the dandelion route was to demonstrate the impracticality of using the sidewalks when our well-matted campus affords a more comfortable mode of getting from one place to another. I personally think the Ag School has done an excellent job of producing dandelions, but I do wonder what happened to the grass that used to grow along the thoroughfare.

By Sharon Totten

ELVIS PRESLEY is tops all the way around this week. His record "All Shook Up," is No. 1 on the Manhattan top 10 jukebox list for the first time and No. 1 on the record sales top 10 list for the fifth consecutive week.

The jukebox top 10 was relatively stable this week with few big changes and no new tunes coming to the list. "All Shook Up," by Elvis Presley and "Little Darlin'," by the Diamonds, changed places in the No. 1 and No. 2 positions, and "Round and Round," by Perry Como and "Party Doll," by Buddy Knox stayed in the No. 3 and No. 4 positions.

The only significant changes were "Gone," by Ferlin Husky, which moved up four notches to No. 5 and "Butterfly," by Andy Williams, which dropped three positions to become No. 8.

MORE ACTION WAS shown on the record sales top 10 list as four tunes not on last week's list moved into the select circle. "School Day," by Chuck Berry took the No. 5 position in its first week on the list, and "Why, Baby, Why?" by Pat Boone came back to the list to fill position No. 8. "First Date, First Kiss," by Tommy Sands and "So Rare," by Jimmy Dorsey filled positions 9 and 10.

"Little Darlin'," by the Diamonds remained in second place on the record sales top 10 list, and "Come, Go with Me," by the Del Vikings moved from No. 5 to No. 3, "I'm Sorry," by the Platters dropped from the No. 3 position to No. 7.

Top 10 records sold in Manhattan this week are:

1. "All Shook Up," Elvis Presley
2. "Little Darlin'," Diamonds
3. "Come, Go with Me," Del Vikings
4. "Gone," Ferlin Husky
5. "School Day," Chuck Berry
6. "Round and Round," Perry Como
7. "I'm Sorry," Platters
8. "Why, Baby, Why," Pat Boone
9. "First Date, First Kiss," Tommy Sands
10. "So Rare," Jimmy Dorsey

Top 10 tunes on Manhattan jukeboxes this week:

1. "All Shook Up," Elvis Presley
2. "Little Darlin'," Diamonds
3. "Round and Round," Perry Como
4. "Party Doll," Buddy Knox
5. "Gone," Ferlin Husky
6. "Mama, Look at Bubu," Harry Belafonte
7. "Come, Go with Me," Del Vikings
8. "Butterfly," Andy Williams
9. "Why, Baby, Why," Pat Boone
10. "Teen Age Crush," Tommy Sands

ELVIS PRESLEY recently appeared on the Ed Sullivan show and sang a religious song called, "Peace in the Valley." It seems Presley received so much fan mail requesting that he record the song that he now has an album out on the Victor label by the same name.

The album features four sacred numbers, "Peace in the Valley," "I Believe," "Take My Hand, Precious Lord," and "It Is No Secret." He uses the same accompaniment that he normally uses on his popular records; Scotty Moore on the guitar, Bill Black on the bass, D. J. Fontana on the drums, and the Jordanaires.

POSSIBLE UP and coming tune are "White Sport Coat" by Marty Robbins; "Your True Love" by Carl Perkins; "Mama Guitar" by Don Cornell; "Ten Minutes Ago" by Tony Martin; "Today Will Be Yesterday Tomorrow" by Doris Day are all songs that are fastly moving up on the jukebox.

Fine Arts Festival Speaker To Talk on 'Germany Today'

Featured speaker at the opening of K-State's fifth biennial Fine Arts Festival will be Hans F. Schweigmann, German consul from Kansas City. He will lecture at 2:30 p.m. today in the Chapel auditorium on "Germany Today."

Following the talk by Schweigmann a recital-lecture by Charles Stratton, professor of music, will feature piano music by Bern, Schonberg, and Webern.

At 4 p.m. John F. Helm Jr., professor of architecture and allied arts, will discuss the Fine Arts Festival exhibition. The exhibition includes 20th century German art and will be shown in the Union art lounge.

A Friends of Art tea at 4:30 p.m. will be given in honor of Schweigmann, and a presentation of the drama, "Everyman," will be given at 8:15 p.m. in the College auditorium.

Fine Arts Festival events are planned from now until Sunday and May 9 through 12 next week.

Daily lectures, special programs in art, drama and music, surveying the fine arts of Germany will be held.

Scheduled for tomorrow is a gallery lecture by Oscar V. Larmer at 2:30 p.m.; a concert reading of "The Diary of Anne Frank," by the K-State Players at 3:15 p.m., and another performance of "Everyman" at 8:15 p.m.

There will be special tours of the 20th century German art exhibition Saturday for visitors the first K-State Arts and Sciences

Day. The program for the annual meeting of the Kansas Art Education association will be centered on the German art exhibit.

Carrol Edward Hogan, director of the Wichita Art museum, will lecture at 1:15 p.m. Saturday on the "The Influence of 20th Century German Art". At 2:15 two programs are planned, one featuring the Resident String Quartet and the K-State Singers in the Auditorium.

The second will be a discussion of the art exhibition with J. Cranston Heintzelman, Helm, and Larmer as leaders. The drama, "Everyman," will be given again at 3:15 p.m.

Sunday at 3 p.m. there will be a gallery lecture on sculpture by Heintzelman. At 4 p.m. a recital music by the Resident String of 20th century German chamber Quartet and William R. Fischer.

The music program will be in the Chapel auditorium.

The series of lectures, recitals, and concerts will continue during the concluding days of the Festival, May 9-12.

Senate Rackets Group To Question Beck Again

By KEITH KEMPER

Washington—Teamsters' President Dave Beck and his "eminent counsel," former Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pd), have split up.

Beck said in a statement issued by his office late last night that he has dissociated with Duff and his law firm.

The statement also said Beck would appear before the Senate Rackets Committee next Wednesday. Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) yesterday ordered Beck to appear before the group.

McClellan also defied Beck to "blow the lid right off the Senate," as the teamster leader once promised to do if called for further testimony. Beck has repudiated the statement.

Border Dispute Threatens

Managua, Nicaragua—A 50-year-old border dispute between Nicaragua and Honduras threatened today to blow up into a full-fledged war.

Nicaragua said 35 of its soldiers were killed in a frontier attack by Honduran troops and planes.

President Luis Somoza announced the casualty toll last night a few hours after he was sworn in as chief of state. He went into immediate conference with his brother, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, and other officials.

Two Girls Startled By Disrobed Man

Two girl students at K-State were approached last night by an apparently naked man about 10:20 near 18th and Anderson.

One of the girls said she and her companion were walking south on 18th street toward the Chi Omega house when the man, whom police said was "completely disrobed," jumped from behind bushes on the east side of the street about a half block from them.

The girls turned around and walked to 17th and Anderson where they called their sorority house for someone to give them a ride home. They called police after returning to the house.

Police said they got the call at 10:40.

Two police cars were dispatched to the scene and police men searched the neighborhood but found no trace of the man.

Air Conditioning Arrives, To Be Installed in Union

An air-conditioning unit for the Student Union, the largest single refrigeration unit to be installed in this area, arrived yesterday at the physical plant.

When operating at full refrigeration capacity of 488 tons the "CenTraVac" will produce a cooling effect equivalent to the melting of 976,000 pounds of ice every 24 hours.

The machine will be automatically controlled, however, to reduce capacity to only 10 per cent of this full load condition as required.

The 40,000-pound machine will be installed in the campus power plant where it will provide chilled water to the Union building.

Duct systems and air handling devices for chilling the air in the Union were built in at the time the building was constructed. Some of the pipe and other materials needed for the job already are at hand.
